[COMPILED FROM THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO DECEMBER 23.

Washington, Dec. 22d.—In the House, Lawrence, of Ohio, introduced a resolution that Jeff. Davis and leading rebels should at once be brought to trial, and if found guilty, punished to the extent of the law.

The following is a synopsis of Wilson's bill, introduced to-day, in the Senate, to maintain and enforce freedom of the blacks:

The preamble recites, that Congress submitted an amendment to the Constitution of the several States for the abolition of slavery, and a final proclamation has been made that such amendment has been ratified by three fourths of the States. The bill provides that all laws, ordinances, and regulations in any State or Territory, recognizing inequality of civil rights or immunities among the inhabitants in consequence of race or color be null and void, and rendering it illegal to make or enforce such laws hereafter.

Washington, Dec. 22.—In the House, Hubbard, of Connecticut, offered a resolution declaring that the government of the United States ought never to recognize any government imposed upon any nation on this continent, by the arms af any European power. Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Voorhees offered a resolution indorsing the President's annual message, and pledging the support of the House to the principles enunciated in it.

Niblack, of Indiana, offered a resolution directing inquiry to be made into the expediency of admitting a Delegate in Congress, to represent the District of Columbia. Passed.

The House went into Committee of the Whole, and speeches were made by Finck and Raymond, controverting the speech made by Stevens of Pennsylvania.

Washington, Dec. 22.—In the Senate, on motion of Howard of Michigan, a resolution was adopted, asking the President upon what grounds Jeff. Davis is confined, and why not brought to trial.

The following Committee on Mines was named: Highby, of California, Ashley, of Nevada, Cobb, of Wisconsin, Strouse, of Pennsylvania, Briggs, of Michigan, Ashley, of Ohio, Henderson, of Oregon, Allison, of Iowa, and Noell, of Missouri.

Henderson, of Oregon, offered a bill making an appropriation to reimburse Oregon for expenses incurred in suppressing Indian hostilities.

Julian, of Indiana, has introduced and had referred his bill of last session of Congress, providing for the sale of mineral lands.

Gen. Grant is about to visit the line of the Rio Grande to inspect the condition of affairs on that frontier.

Washington, Dec. 21.—On a test vote to-day in this city, on negro suffrage, the vote stood about seventy-five in favor and seven thousand against.

The friends of the suffrage abstained from taking part in the election, preferring to petition Congress.

New York, Dec. 23.—A bill which is framed to be introduced into Congress, provides for an army of one hundred thousand men. The regiments in each branch of the service are to consist of three battallions of eight hundred men each—twenty-four hundred men in all. The maximum of artillery, is six batteries to each regiment. The chiefs of bureaus, the adjutants, inspectors, Quartermasters and Commissary Generals and Brigadiers, and staff vacancies, are to be filled from officers having the right to apply for such positions, and passing as in the regular service. Each arm of the grand service is to consist of one General, four Lieutenant Generals and four Major Generals. The army is to be divided into four corps. The country into four divisions, the latter to be commanded by Lieutenant Generals; the rets of this grade, to be limited to two. The pay is to be arranged that all allowances shall be merged in the pay proper. The General is to receive a salary equivalent to that now received by General Grant, $13,000; Lieutenant-Generals, about $8,000; Major-Generals, $3,500; Colonels, $3,000; and so down to 3d Lieutenants, whose pay is to be $1,000. Staff officers will receive additional pay of $50 to $200, according to grade and rank. This is the outline of the proposed bill.

Doolittle introduced a bill in relation to the qualification of jurors in writs of error in certain cases, which provides that no person shall be held incompetent to act as grand juror by reason of having formed or expressed an opinion upon the matter in question founded upon public rumor, statements of public journals or the common history of the times, provided he can otherwise competent, and it appears to the satisfaction of the court, that notwithstanding such an opinion, he can, and will act impartially. Further provides that in trials for public offences against the United States no person shall be held incompetent to act as juror on account of having formed an opinion as above founded upon like information, if otherwise competent and impartial.
