

THURSDAY MORNING, FEB. 8, 1866.

Mrs. Stephen A. Douglas was lately married at Washington City, to Brig. Gen. Williams, whoever he may happen to be.

JUDGE J. E. Wyche, of Washington Territory, has again been nominated as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the Territory.

THE Democratic Review gives notice that Knowlton, an advertising agent in San Francisco, is not on the square. There are several of that kind there that will bear watching.

THE chief of the bureau of Arts and Sciences, at Peking, has made a favorable report on the question of railroads, and decides that the use of steam is not dangerous to the people.

A SARATOGA fashion gossip says: Girls none too young to be in the nursery, make their three and four toilets per day. To which the Boston Post adds, The little babies change oftener.

A YOUNG man named Granville Dailey was drowned at Oregon City on the 25th of January, while working to clear the Basin at the Falls of driftwood.

A LAWYER of Sacramento paid a fine of one cent in United States coin. He was too honorable to pay it in fractional currency or postage stamps, he said.

MR. DUNCANNON, a colored citizen of Cincinnati, is meeting with favor in England as a painter. A picture of Tennyson's Lotus Eaters, painted before he left Ohio, is much admired.

AMOS KENDALL is building in Washington, a house of worship, the Cavalry Baptist Church, at a cost of $75,000 which he proposes to give to the society of the church.

THE phrenologists say that there is craniological protuberance called the "bump of constructiveness." The bump of re-constructiveness is most needed by the public men at this time.

It is reported that Brigham Young is one of the heaviest depositors in the Bank of England. He will need all his cash to provide for his large and rapidly growing family.

A MAN in Newport, Ky., who had his barn burned by mischievous boys, offers twenty-five dollars to start a fund for the erection of cheap barns expressly for juvenile incendiaries to set on fire.

JARVIN J. BURN, the man who was mixed up in the Sullivan-Dennison tragedy at the Cascades, escaped from the jail at Portland a few days since. A man named Wright got out at the same time.

SOME of the Bloody Fourteenth, while on their march to Arizona, passed through a town in Southern California. The editor of a local paper there thanks the soldiers, on the part of the community, that they did not carry off any hot stoves from that vicinity.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON, as a reward to two Blackfoot Indians, who rescued two white women from the savages, has directed to be presented to each of the rescuers a silver medal, valued at $150, and an official document with his signature, narrating the circumstances of their noble conduct.

NEW STEAMER LINE.—It is understood, says the Nevada (Cal.) Gazette, that a new line of steamers to Oregon is in contemplation, to be composed of the Montana, recently arrived from New York, the Lookout, now about due from Bath, Maine, and other vessels not named. The owners of these ships are the Messrs. Patten, of Bath, the wealthy ship owners, who, we are informed, are to be among the principal controllers of the new line. The Montana is a fine new steamer of 1,000 tons, with accommodations for about 130 passengers. Her running time from New York to San Francisco was seventy six days. The Lookout is about the same dimensions, and both vessels are said to be well adapted to the Oregon trade.

THE RIVER AND THE COMMUNICATION. It is now so far advanced towards spring that we may reasonably hope that our communications with the lower Columbia will not be again cut off; or at most for two or three days. The railroad at the Cascades is open for traffic, and between here and Celilo the road is in repair. It is now only necessary that the ice above Des Chutes should break up, and the business campaign of 1866 will be fairly inaugurated. The melting mood which nature at present wears will soon break the barrier with which winter has bound up the river, so that it is full time for those who have anything to do to be getting ready for an early start.

THE WEATHER TOWARDS JOHN DAY MINES.—Along the canyon of John Day River, and from the Des Chutes to the south-east, the winter appears to have ended. At Alkali Flat, half way from here to Canyon City, preparations are being made for sowing grain, and much ground is already plowed. At Canyon City the snow has entirely disappeared, and the weather is warm and spring like. But for the loss of bridges, and the muddy and cut-up condition of the roads, there is nothing now to prevent the resumption of the usual spring traffic with the John Day mines.

ARRESTED.—Michael H. Lewis, who murdered David Peevie on Olive Creek, North John Day mines, on the 23d of last October, has been arrested on the Walla Walla River, near the Washington Territory line. He is, for the present, confined in the Walla Walla jail, and will be taken back to Canyon City for trial. The circumstances attending the murder, it will be remembered, were singularly atrocious, and the arrest of Lewis is another proof that such as he have but a limited time to run in this country.

JUDGE Monson, of the Third Judicial District, Montana Territory, charged the Grand Jury that it was their duty to take cognizance of the secret midnight executions of the Vigilantes, and, in effect, declared that the time had come to put a stop to the illegal punishment of wrong-doers, however much they might deserve it.

THE pioneer steamer of the line from The Emporium to San Francisco, to be owned and controlled in the former place, is now on the stocks at New York. She will register two thousand tons; but being built "expressly for the trade," will be able to pass the Willamette and Swan Island bars at all seasons of the year.

THERE is some talk of the British government demanding of the United States the suppression of Fenian demonstrations in public. Of course it will be impossible for the United States to comply, and it is probable that the British government will not make any such demand.
