

Daily Mountaineer.

TUESDAY MORNING, FEB. 13, 1866.

TENNYSON lately cleared $1,700 by two private readings at a guinea a ticket.

THE Boston Traveller states that the membership of the Methodist and Congregational denominations is actually decreasing in New England.

It is reported that the Fenian Head Centre of Quebec, has absconded with the money of the Fenian Fund in his possession.

We have to note the arrival of many persons by the land route from Umatilla. There is now no serious impediment to travel by land from this point to the interior.

THE closing sale of Mr. Birnbaum's fine stock of watches, jewelry, &c., will take place tomorrow. Persons desiring to purchase articles in Mr. B's line should be on hand.

THE steamer Iris has been relieved from her perilous position at the mouth of Chenoweth Creek and towed up to town, and is now lying at the steamer berth by Steamboat Point.

THE number of deaths in San Francisco during the month of December, 1865, was 257, at the rate of one in 37 of the inhabitants per annum—a larger per centage than of the Eastern cities.

JOSHUA B. JOHNSTON of Blackfoot City, Montana Territory, has been appointed by Gov. Gibbs Commissioner of Deeds, for the State of Oregon. Commission dates from the 20th of January.

WARNER & Co, of White Salmon, are manufacturing brooms of great excellence, which they will offer for sale in this market. We recommend to persons in need of the article to enquire for these brooms, and thus encourage a laudable attempt at home production.

SOME of the boys in blue took three pairs of pants from among the show goods in front of a store on Main street. The goods were recovered but the thieves were allowed to go free, as the cost of conviction and confinement would not justify a prosecution. We again urge upon the City Council the establishment of a chain-gang, so that petty depre-dators can be made to do the city some service to compensate for the expense incurred in convicting them.

SHERIFF BERRY arrived in this place on Sunday, the 11th inst., from Walla Walla, having in charge Michael H. Lewis, who is charged with the murder of David Peevie at Olive Creek, North John Day mines, on the 23d of October, 1865. The pursuit and arrest of this man reflects great credit on Maj. Berry, and goes to show that when we have good officers the law is all sufficient for the apprehension and punishment of law-breakers. With such men in office there is no need, and there need be no fear, of vigilance committees. The arrest of this man is another warning to evil-doers, and another evidence that the times are past in which men's lives can be taken with impunity in this country.

THE CASE OF HENRY TRICKLE.—Efforts are being made to procure the pardon or partial reprieve of Henry Trickle, lately convicted in this county of the robbery of a Mr. Alby, on the road from Granite Creek to Umatilla. His confession of the crime and his deep contrition entitled him to the merciful consideration of the court, and he was sentenced to confinement for the shortest term allowed by law. He was then detained in jail here for something over a month, by the river being frozen up so that he could not be taken to the Penitentiary. As his punishment dates from the day he was delivered to the officers of the State, he loses all the time in which he was confined in Wasco county jail. Upon this point, if his conduct in prison is exemplary, we respectfully submit that he has an equitable claim on the clemency of the Governor; but as to pardoning him, or otherwise shortening his term of imprisonment, we earnestly protest against it.—Trickle has received all the kindness and consideration which his penitence entitles him to, and from this time he should be made to earn whatever of confidence is reposed in him.

MERELY A SPECTATOR.—J. Stewart Lewis at one time, not long since, lived about the Dalles. He was charged with being in the horse-stealing business, and notwithstanding an urgent request for him to remain here, his feelings were so deeply wounded by this stain upon his reputation that he left this side of the Cascades Range and took up his residence in the Willamette Valley. In that country he maintained the strictest seclusion, avoiding the public gaze, and particularly declining to put himself in the way of renewing the acquaintance of Charles White, Esq., the sheriff of Wasco county, who had a document inviting Mr. Lewis to re visit the Dalles. Presuming, doubtless, that time had mellowed the prejudices against him in this community, Lewis returned to town the other day and took lodgings at a hotel, registering himself by the royal name of Stewart. Upon the arrival of the murderer Lewis, his namesake, actuated by curiosity, he went up to see him, merely as a spectator. He was recognized by deputy-sheriff Crandall, and invited to change his lodgings from the hotel to the county jail, where he is now confined. He will probably return to the Willamette country to take up his residence for a term of years after the next term of court.

EX-GOV. CURRY IN BOSTON.—Ex-Gov. Curry of this State, delivered a short, but very compact, suggestive and lucid address at the Merchant's Exchange, in Boston, on the 14th of November last, on the subject of the Northern Pacific Railroad. Several of the principal movers of this grand enterprise were present, and his remarks elicited a great expression of interest on the subject. Mr. Curry set forth the facts in relation to the resources of this country, and the practicability of attracting the trade of India and China by the northern route. He estimated the annual yield of treasure of the Columbia Basin at $16,000,000, which must be allowed to be very moderate, and enlarged upon the rapid advance which we have made in material prosperity in the last five years. In the evening of the day upon which the address was delivered, Mr. Curry was entertained by the civic authorities at a banquet given at the Parker House, and among the invited guests were Gen. Banks, Judge Dow, of Kansas, Mayor Lincoln, Ex-Congressmen Gouch and Goodrich and many other eminent persons in public and private life. The whole affair shows the interest felt at the east in the construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and is very encouraging to those who feel an interest in the undertaking.

TOO SMALL TO BE NOTICED.—Heretofore certain predatory members of the Bloody Fourteenth have confined themselves to petty thefts, too small to entitle them to more than three months in the county jail. The other day, however, one of them ventured over the mark, and stole an eight-day clock, valued at $40. He is now in confinement at Fort Dalles, and will shortly be turned over to the civil authorities for trial. He ought to be sent down for a year, and each day ought to be as long as an eight-day clock can measure it. Time, in such matters, is a valuable consideration.

SENATOR SHERMAN'S BILL IN MONTANA.—The Montana people are exercised over Senator Sherman's proposition to sell the mineral lands. The Virginia City Post denounces it as an attempt to rob miners, and says:

We hope that the news will not be too late to be of service to us. From Arizona to the British possessions there dwells neither man, woman or child whose entire fortune will not be more or less affected or jeopardized by this seemingly just yet most unrighteous measure. We are no grumblers at taxation. We believe in rendering "unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's," but we deny, in toto, that there is policy or common honesty in robbing Peter to pay Paul. The Senators, Representatives and Delegates of the West must be up and stirring, if they would prevent the utter ruin of their constituents' prospects, together with the depopulation of the mountains and of the adjacent country. It is the old and abominable theory of the aristocracy of capital that is again sought to be enforced; the miner to toil on in hardship, isolation, perils of all kinds, sickness, massacre by savages; and then—when he has demonstrated the fact of his country's riches and has rendered them available for the use of the people—some political (not "road-agent") mine agent rises in Congress and demands that the fruits of his toil shall be handed over to the capitalist, for, in case of a sale of the mineral lands, not one miner in a hundred could buy.
