

Daily Mountaineer.

FRIDAY MORNING, FEB. 16, 1866.

The mail for Portland will hereafter close at 9 o'clock, p. m., instead of 7 o'clock, as heretofore.

A DANCING-SCHOOL at Carson City is conducted on high-toned principles—cash in advance, and no hugging the girls allowed.

Stephens, the Fenian head center, is said to be an excellent French scholar, having translated several of Dickens' works into that language.

The members of the M. E. Church South and the M. E. Church at Corvallis, it is said, are about to unite. It will be a good example for the church everywhere.

The Springfield Republican says there will be $200,000,000 of the precious metals produced in the United States this year. This is an exaggeration—not one-half of that amount will be realized.

When the express train was robbed on the New York and New Haven railroad, the robbers left a package of $130,000 in greenbacks lying on the floor of the car. They got over half a million.

The two brass cannon over the main entrance to the War Department were taken from over the door of the reception room of the royal palace in the City of Mexico, when that city was entered by Gen. Scott.

Drunk McDougal, United States Senator from California, it is said, took the news of the election of Mr. Cole as his successor 'very philosophically.' He was probably tight at the time—hence his equanimity.

A Washington letter-writer says the leader of fashion this winter will probably be Mrs. Senator Sprague, the only lady in Washington who, when she gives a ball, builds a ball-room expressly for the occasion and removes it the next day.

A Florida paper says vessels lying for some time off the coast of the Gulf, waiting for emigrants to Brazil were neither more nor less than slave traders gathering up unsuspecting negroes for transportation to Cuba, and sale in the market there.

A man who had removed the remains of his brother from the battlefield near Petersburg, found that coffins and transportation were expensive. He therefore quietly put the bones in his carpet-bag, and so took them home.

The old Tammany Society had a magnificent banquet on the 8th of January. John Van Buren made a speech in which it was stated that forty-six years before the society entertained General Jackson. The correspondence read was voluminous and interesting. The society has been in existence some seventy-six years.

The receipts of the Fenian Brotherhood, up to the time of the recent rupture between the managers, averaged $150,000 per month, and the total receipts during the past seven years are estimated to have been $5,000,000. It will be an interesting work for the Fenian Congress now in session to find out what has become of this large amount of money.

THE WORK OUTLINED.—The Rev. O. C. Wheeler, of California, has directed to this office a yellow covered pamphlet entitled, "Document No. 1; The Worked Outlined, which has for its object the representation of the purposes of the Freedmen's Aid Commission. The intention of the organization appears to be to extend educational facilities to the colored people of the south. The intent is good. The black people have as much right to be educated as the white; and the whites have as much right to be educated as the blacks. It is upon this point that we think the Rev. O. C. Wheeler, however good his intentions may be, is not the proper person to be intrusted with the education of any person, black or white, at the South. In the pamphlet directed to this office, there is not one word in relation to the educational necessities of the whites at the south; not one word of that spirit of forgiveness which is claimed as the distinctive peculiarity of Christianity, but a total silence on these points. On the other hand, the scheme while pretending to be an necessary of the governmental project of education, breathes the very spirit of meddlesomeness. To make short work of all such ideas, it is only necessary to state that the United States has guaranteed educational privileges and facilities to the blacks, and the officious interposition of the Freedmen's Aid Commission is not needed. The Southern States will also, doubtless include the blacks in the common schools of the country, on the basis of the recognition of the differences in the social regulation of the races. In view of these things, "Document No. 1" will fall unheeded to the ground. Lastly—if the people of this coast will take care of the youth of the present generation, and by judicious training fit them for a life of usefulness, they will accomplish about all that can reasonably be expected of them. We apply this particularly to California, from whose confines there are annually disgorged hundreds of young villains, who need the advantages of schools and moral training as much or more than either blacks or whites at the South. It is this section of the Pacific coast which feels in the greatest degree the depredations of a class sprung from that California civilization which aspires to mould the public sentiment and private morals of the south. The Rev. O. C. Wheeler has a field at home large enough for all his philanthropy.

The Statesman wants the aspirants for the Congressional nomination on the Union ticket, on the east side of the Cascades, to come out and show themselves. On the part of "a number of aspirants" we are requested to ask Western Oregon to trot out its Congressional stock, as that is the oldest section of the State, and consequently the least modest.

The incidental expenses of the United States Government in carrying into effect National loans, during the past year, were $6,588,641 81. The greater part of this sum went to Jay Cooke & Co., out of which they must have realized a handsome profit.

A BILL has passed Congress to prevent the introduction of neat-stocks from Europe during the prevalence of the cattle-plague on the other side of the Atlantic.
