

Daily Mountaineer.

NEW METHOD OF MAKING SHOES.—A new style of shoes is now in this city. The invention is simple. The upper part of the boot is cut out in almost ordinary fashion by a regular shoemaker. The sole and heel are made of hard maple wood, and are joined by a shank of sole leather, which gives all needed elasticity. The uppers are fastened to the sole by a thin band of iron, which encircles the rim of the sole, and fastens sole and upper together in a manner more effectual than any sewing can do. When put together the shoe presents a handsome appearance, and is as light as a leather shoe of corresponding size. The heels are comfortably hollowed out on the upper side, and the soles have the proper curve to insure easy walking. The invention (made by a Canadian, named Lefanier, of Quebec,) is the property of Mr. Wm. Robinson, (patentee,) of this city. The boots and shoes, under the patent are made by an incorporated company, having a working capital of $260,000, and manufactory in Court street, Brooklyn capable of turning out 100 pairs per day at present.—N. Y. Business Mirror.

The Empress Josephine was very fond of perfumes, and, above all, of musk. Her dressingroom at Malmaison was filled with it, in spite of Napoleon's frequent remonstrances. Forty years have elapsed since her death, and the present owner of Malmaison has had the walls of that dressingroom repeatedly washed and painted; but neither scrubbing, aquafortis, nor paint has been sufficient to remove the smell of the good empress's musk, which continues as strong as if the bottle which contained it had been but yesterday removed.

Cain has found an apologist in Dr. Cummings, of London, who, in his Lives of the Patriarchs, says that as Cain could never have seen a dead human being, or learned anything about death, or known that a heavy blow would destroy the vitality, of which, again, he could have perceived nothing, his guilt was, at the outside, only manslaughter.

BISHOP ELDER, of Tennessee, has written a defence of the Pope's recent bull against the Free Masons and other secret societies. He says that the Catholic church has always opposed secret societies as founded upon dangerous principles, and that many of the Masonic Lodges of Europe are infidel and blasphemous associations.

The oyster merchants of Paris have raised the price of this bivalve to such an extravagant height that Parisians have determined to eat none. As they may live without eating oysters, while the oyster merchants cannot live without selling them, it is likely this strike will bring prices down.

JAMES LINEN, a California poet, has been treated with "distinguished consideration" by the poets of New York. They gave him a grand dinner at the Astor House, at which the venerable Wm. Cullen Bryant presided.

The town of Clio, in the island of Scio, has been almost wholly overthrown by an earthquake; the two lighthouses in the port only remain.

TAXATION is said to bear equally on all classes from the fact that it hardly presses on the rich and presses hardly on the poor.

WHENEVER you find a great deal of gratitude in a poor man, take it for granted that there would be as much generosity if he were a rich one.
