FACTS AND FANCIES.

Miss Thomson says that every unmarried lady of sixty may consider that she has passed the Cape of Good Hope.

THERE appears to be considerable difficulty at the mint in putting on coins the motto, "In God we Trust." The Officers are afraid that everybody will read it, "In Gold we Trust," which is much nearer the fact.

A publisher of a newspaper out west, in the first issue of his journal returns thanks to those who loaned him the pecuniary means, and gratitude to heaven that there is no law in that State enforcing imprisonment for debt.

Go to Japan. You can buy a first-class house there for thirty dollars, and live comfortably in it for two cents a day. Servants charge fifty cents a month, and a horse and groom may be had for the same for one dollar and fifty cents.

A Chicago clergyman missed his stockings on Christmas morning, and after a long search found one on each horn of a new milch cow, which had been presented to him by his parishioners, and ornamented in this way to indicate that it was a Christmas gift.

A couple in Litchfield county, Conn., had lived together for ten years, supposing themselves married. Difficulties having arisen, one applied to the court for a divorce. Upon investigation, it was found out that they had never been legally married. Like sensible people, they gave up the idea of a divorce, and were married.

A curious custom is still in vogue in the more northern districts of Scandinavia. On the occasion of the marriage, the mother of the bridegroom approaches the bride and lays at her feet a plate of bread and flag-root. The bride offers her future mother-in-law a part of it, but the latter declines partaking; thus intimating that she will never live on the substance of her new relative.

Mr. Sardon, the French playwright, having recently had an interview with the Empress Eugenie at Compeigne, was complimented by her Majesty upon his efforts to ridicule the prevailing extravagance in ladies' toilets. The Empress said that she had tried last winter to set the example of greater simplicity of dress, and that she was determined to wear still more unpretending toilets this season.
