FACTS AND FANCIES.

"SAL, what time does your folks dine?" "Soon as you goes—that's missus' orders."

Aunt Betsey says, "a newspaper is like a wife, because every man should have one of his own." Aunt Betsey is right.

A young lady refused to go into the Woolwich Arsenal, the other day, because she heard that some of the muskets were without breeches. There's delicacy, for you!

An old bachelor says, the most difficult operation in the practice of surgery, is taking the jaw out of a woman. The rascal! He ought to be sent to Salt Lake at once.

Jerry Diggs remembered his miserly uncle in his will, for he bequeathed "To my mother's brother, a gun flint and a knife to skin it with."

A notorious exaggerator, after describing an impossible tree, said to his auditor: "I would not have believed it myself, if I had not seen it." "Well," replied the dry listener, "I don't see it."

A Frenchman having frequently heard the word "press" made use of to imply persuade, as for instance, "press that gentleman to take some refreshments," "press him to stay to-night," thought he would show his talents by using a synonymous term, and therefore, made no scruples one evening to cry out in company: "Pray, squeeze that lady to sing."

A traveler stopping a Western hotel exclaimed in the morning to the waiter, "What are you about, you black rascal? You have roused me twice from my sleep by telling me breakfast was ready, and now you are attempting to strip off the bed clothes." "Why," replied Pompey, "if you isn't gwine to git up, I must have do sheet, anyhow, caus dey's waiton' for de table cloth."

A manly little fellow of five years fell and cut his upper lip so badly, that a surgeon had to be summoned to sew up the wound. He sat in his mother's lap during the painful operation, pale, but very quiet, resolutely keeping back his tears and moans.—In her distress, the young mother could not refrain from saying: "Ob, doctor, I fear it will leave a disfiguring scar!"

Charley looked up into her tearful face, and said, in a comforting tone: "Never mind, mamma, my moustache will cover it!"
