FACTS AND FANCIES.

MARRIAGE MADE EASY .- Dear Mas. Grundy .- If you're a widow, and want to get married, (which of course you do) just you do as we girls have done. This is the way we managed it:

As soon as pa heard about the young woman in Washington who shot a base wretch who had written to her, pa gave me a beautiful repeating rifle. I shot a young man with it that very day. He had once sent me some strawberries when I was ill, and then didn't follow it up as he should have done; so I had a clear right to shoot

Then I got the girls to form a society, and all got rifles themselves, and then we agreed upon the form of a letter to be sent to marriageable young men. The letter was like this:-

"Sir:-You may remember that you once waved your handkerchief at me (or sent me a bouquet, or took me out to drive, as the case may be). I beg leave to inform you that I have become possessed of a repeating rifle of great power. You will see the propriety of at once fulfilling the promise which I have every reason to consider that you have made me.

Yours, etc. Well, each one of us sent ten or a dozen letters to different fellows, and the result was as they all, with one exception, came, within twenty four hours, and offered themselves to the ladies who had signed the letters. We all took our pick, of course, and all earse in the city. expect to be married in the fall.

The wretch who didn't obey the demand made in the letter he received, was shot a few days afterwards, as he was getting into the train in order to escape to Canada.

Now, you dear old soul, just follow our example, and I'll venture to say that you'll be married in next to no time at all. Yours, triumphantly. FLORA DE RYEFELLE.

A FRENCH GIRL'S CHARITY. - On learning through the Courier des Etats Unis that Willam Snyder was fined ten dollars in the United States for obtained a kiss of Miss Phebe Lwithout her consent, the charming Blanche D. of Paris, exclaimed: Ungrateful country! you shall yet have my bones. Like Lafayette, I emigrate in a noble cause to the land of Franklin."

"And what would you do there?" inquired one of her intimate friends.

"What? why, I would let the men kiss me without my consent."

"Pa," said a little seven-year fellow. "I guess our man Ralph is a good Christain." "How so, my boy?" inquired the parent. "Why, pa, I read in the Bible that the wicked shall not live out half his day, and Ralph says he has lived out ever since he was a boy."

"Working for bare life" is defined to be making clothes for a new baby.
