

FACTS AND FANCIES.

To think aloud is the frailty of a fool. ONLY crows and fools are afraid of a shabby suit of clothes. THE prisons in Richmond are to be enlarged to accommodate the numerous black convicts. An aged man, in Glasgow fell on the sidewalk, broke his spectacles, and a piece of the glass entering his eye, he bled to death. WHY are wheat and potatoes like the idols of old? Because the former have ears and hear not, and the latter eyes but see not. PROMISES TO BEHAVE.—Pollard, of the Richmond Examiner, on receiving permission to resume the issue of his paper, was compelled by the President to give the following written pledge: "If the publication of the Examiner shall be permitted, I solemnly pledge my honor that it shall be devoted to the support of the Union, the constitution and the Laws, and that the journal will heartily support the President's policy."

THREE venerable ladies still survive who were of the choir of young ladies that, dressed in white, greeted Washington as he entered Trenton in 1789, on his way to assume the Presidency, and who strewed his pathway with flowers. One yet lives in Trenton, another is the mother of the Hon. Mr. Chestnut, formerly Senator from South Carolina, and the third Mrs. Sarah Hand, resides in Cape May county, N. J.

AN exchange says: An almost incredible story is told of a telegraph operator in Washington, to the effect that he lately received two long dispatches by two different instruments simultaneously, interpreted them both by sound, and wrote them out simultaneously as received, one with his right hand and one with his left hand. Persons familiar with the usual reliability and accuracy of telegrams will not consider the above story "incredible" at all.

AN ARTIFICIAL SNOW STORM.—The intensity of the cold in New York recently was demonstrated by a very singular phenomenon. It was a snow storm formed by steam. At the Fulton Ferry house a pipe of the heating apparatus carried the exhausted steam into the air; the end of the pipe pointed upward, and the force with which the steam issued caused it to ascend thirty or forty feet. While in the air it was not only condensed but congealed, and came down in beautiful flakes of snow.

SLEEPING IN THE MOONSHINE.—For the information of those who do not know the injury resulting to those who sleep in the moonshine, we copy the following: "A boy, thirteen years of age, named Henry Lowry, residing near Packhamrye, Ohio, was Tuesday night last expelled from his home by his mother for some trifling misdemeanor. He at once ran away to a cornfield close by, and on lying down in the open air fell asleep. He slept throughout the night, which was a moonlight one. Some laborers on their way to work, seeing the poor boy apparently asleep aroused him; the lad opened his eyes, but declared he could not see. He was conveyed home, and from thence to an ocular institution, where medical aid was obtained. The surgeon affirmed that the loss of sight resulted from sleeping in the moonshine. The boy is totally blind, and few hopes are entertained of his recovery."
