Eplome of Telegraphic News.

[COMPILED FROM THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO APRIL 14.

Washington, April 13.—In the Senate, Mr. Williams called up the bill to prevent the absence of Territorial officers, which was a source of great evil. Judges, Governors and Secretaries absent themselves for six months to visit Washington City and the Eastern States.

Mr. Grimes was conscious that great injustice had been done the people of the Territories, but thought the bill too sweeping. Mr. Nesmita thought the bill too rigid.

Mr. Conness here called attention to the fact that Territorial offices were selected from the superannuated politicians of the East, for whom no use could be found at home.

The further consideration of the bill was postponed.

The Senate Select Committee, on the bill incorporating the National Telegraph Company, have had a preliminary meeting and discussed the general subject. Mr. Brown favored the Government's taking charge of all telegraphic wires in the United States and operating them in connection with the Post Office Department, while others of the committee are in favor of a most unlimited grant of power to a new company, to run wires along any route whether railroad or wherever they choose to go, all State or corporation laws to the contrary notwithstanding. It is believed the committee will report a bill.

The House having amended the Senate resolution on the liquor question, so as to exclude liquor from all public buildings, including the White House, the Senate refused to concur.

Yesterday, the House, after two hours debate voted an annuity of $3,500 to Martha McCook, mother of the gallant McCook boys, in addition to the pension which she draws since the death of her husband, during the Morgan raid. The only point of the opposition to it was that it might furnish a precedent for annuities.

The Senate, yesterday, passed the House bill establishing the rate of pension at $25 monthly in all cases of total disability requiring constant aid of another person; $20 monthly in all cases of total disability not requiring personal aid, and $50 when disability interferes with labor.

Washington, April 14.—Gossiping among newspaper-folks here has it that during the time the Civil Rights Bill was in the hands of the President, the National Intelligencer had an elaborate editorial supporting that measure, believing the President would sign it, but upon further information the editor destroyed the article and prepared another foreshadowing the veto.

Col. Babcock, of Gen. Grant's Staff, is going on a tour of inspection through Idaho, Montana, Oregon and California.

The Indian Bureau yesterday received a telegram from Col. Taylor, at Fort Laramie, saying that the Sioux Chiefs, Red Cloud and Spotted Tail, are assembling their bands on the north fork of the Cheyenne river.

Chicago, April 13.—Several negroes having been presented at Memphis under the State law for keeping bars and billiard saloons, their counsel pleaded the Civil Rights Bill in abatement, and the Judge will deliver his opinion in a few days.

New York, April 13.—John Lambert, an Englishman, has been arrested, charged with stealing $20,000 from Wm. L. Adams, Collector of Astoria, Oregon.

San Francisco, April 16.—At about a quarter past one o'clock this afternoon a terrible explosion occurred in the assay office of G. W. Bell, on California street, adjoining Wells, Fargo & Co.'s. Capt. Sam Knight, Superintendent of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, and G. W. Bell, were instantly killed. Several others whose names are as yet unknown were also killed.

Many of the employees of Wells, Fargo & Co. were more or less injured, but it is thought none of them were killed, except Mr. Knight. The nature of the explosion is not yet known, but it is supposed to have been a barrel of nitro-glycerine oil, one of the most powerful explosive chemicals known to modern science.

The concussion was felt with terrible force throughout the entire city. The assay office and a portion of the express building were demolished. Window sash and glass were shattered in buildings in adjoining blocks. The most intense excitement exists throughout the city, and a posse of policemen have been stationed about the express office to keep the crowd back.

It is supposed that some workmen are still buried beneath the ruins of the assay office. The bodies of two have already been recovered.

Frank Webster, head of the New York Express Department, is missing. The dead bodies of four persons in addition to those named have been found.

W. S. Haven's, of the P. M. S. S. Co., is among the missing. Messrs. Sanders and Stacy of the Express office, are badly injured, the latter very seriously. From six to twelve other persons are supposed to have been killed.

In a speech delivered in the U. S. Senate, February 16th, Senator Hendricks, of Indiana, justly hits Senator Williams in the following:

The Senator from Oregon, (Mr. Williams,) spoke yesterday of punishing States. I wish he were here, sir. That Senator dwells far off, his land resting upon the peaceful waters of the Pacific, and intervening mountains cast their shadow over his home and the homes of his people. I presume there is not a colored man in that country. If Indiana sees fit in her sovereign pleasure to deny to the ten or twenty or thirty thousand negroes in that State the right to vote, he, from Oregon, proposes to punish Indiana! What has he to do with the suffrage in Indiana? We do not let them vote, and unless you compel us to do it, we propose never to do it; and yet he says there is to be punishment for it. I do not like that word "punishment" between States of this Union. You have no right to punish a State because it does that according to its own pleasure which it has a right to do.
