FACTS AND FANCIES.

WINE drowns more than the sea.

The young lady's request—"Make me an offer."

Woman is said to be a mere delusion, but it is sometimes pleasant to hug delusions.

"Do you like codfish balls, Mr. Wiggins?" Mr. Wiggins hesitatingly, "I really don't know, Miss, I don't recollect attending oao."

Mrs. Partington says the only way to prevent steamboat explosions is to make engineers bibe the water on shore. In her opinion, all the bustin' is done by cooking the steam on board.

"Stockings I can do without, as long as I wear fashionable dresses," said a village belle a little straightened in her financial resources, "but a bosom-pin and kid gloves I must have."

A negro preacher once observed to his hearers, at the close of his sermon as follows: "My obstinacious bredren, I find it is no more use to preach to you dan it is for a grass-hopper to wear kneebuckles."

The other night Jack M. said to his fair partner, "Don't you think my mustachious are becoming?" To which she replied, "Well, sir, they may be coming, but the have not yet arrived."

It is singular how pious French cloth makes people. For a month after Mrs. Smith gets a new mantilla, she is at church three times a day. Should a woman paint heaven, the world would be all festooned with French bonnets and brocade satin.

Madame Murat, of Tallahassee, widow of the late Col. Achille Murat, first cousin of the Emperor of France, has received as a gift a life annuity, from Louis Napoleon, of fifty thousand francs in consideration of her losses by the results of the late war.

In consequence of the alarm about the pork disease, the pig dealers of Vienna have telegraphed to their agents in Servia and Hungary not to send them any more animals for the present, as most of the greatest hotels have suppressed all preparations of pork in their bills of fare.

"Do you enjoy going to church now," asked a lady to Mrs. Partington.

"Law me, I do," replied Mrs. Partington. "Nothing does me so much good as to get up early on Sunday morning, and go to church and hear a populous minister dispense with the gospel."

Mrs. P. can be easily suited these days.
