

Daily Mountaineer.

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 31, 1866.

EVERYBODY go and hear Mr. Gaston's speech this evening.

SHOULD the river continue to rise, a ferry on Main street will be a profitable investment.

THE Canyon City stage is due to-day. The stage for Canyon City will leave the stage office at 2 o'clock, a. m., to-morrow morning.

THE third effort at laying the Atlantic cable will be made this summer. The parties interested feel confident of success this time.

A DAUGHTER of ex-Senator Gwin has been married in Paris to a Mr. Coleman, of St. Louis, Missouri.

WE have heard it said that the Democratic candidate for County Surveyor does not know a compass when he sees it. How is that?

GEN. W. W. WOOD, of Mississippi, who thought he could not live in this country on account of the Yankees, and went to Brazil, has returned home.

JUDGE BANSTRED, of the United States Court in Alabama, has decided that a steamboat captain who permits a gambler to swindle a passenger is liable for the money lost.

AN English Court has decided that a second marriage in Utah, according to Mormon rule, is not legal. This may worry Brigham a little.

DURING the year 1865, in the city of London, one hundred and forty persons were run over and killed, and one thousand seven hundred and seven were injured by the same cause.

THE Democratic Standard says that "when Democracy dies, God dies." That is a mistake. When Democracy is wholly dead, the Devil will have lost his occupation.

IN reply to those who compliment him for his services in winding up the rebellion, Gen. Grant says the soldiers and not himself deserve the credit; that their bravery, patriotism and endurance won the day.

THE only difference between voting the Union and Democratic tickets is, that by voting the former, you advance your local interests, and by voting the latter you help to send the Rev. Joseph Smith to the U. S. Senate.

THE crops in Colorado, says the Denver Gazette, are being destroyed by a small grub or worm, which was last year a welcome visitor, as it was very destructive to the grass-hoppers, fastening upon those insects and depositing its eggs in their bodies, causing death. Already, this grub has destroyed some of the farmer's most promising crops.

THANKS to Hon. J. W. Nesmith for a copy of the Reporter, a paper published in Washington, devoted to religion, law, legislation, and public events. The number before us contains the argument of Hon. J. S. Black, before the U. S. Supreme Court, in the Indiana Conspiracy cases. Also, to Hon. E. D. Holbrook, for a speech of Hon. H. J. Raymond.

MILITARY.—Company "I," 1st U. S. Cavalry, arrived at this place last evening, en route for Camp Watson. It is understood that Gen. Steele will be here this evening with his staff, and will take Company "H," U. S. Cavalry, now at Fort Dalles, to Camp Lyon, as his escort. Gens. Halleck and Steele have an appointment to meet at Camp Lyon on June 10th. We hope much good will result from their observations in this Department.

THE London Times says the courage and discretion exhibited by President Johnson in refusing his assent to the Freedmen's Bureau question, confirms the respect in which his policy has been held in England, and will entitle him to be credited as one of the ablest statesmen who have ever conducted a great nation through a perilous crisis by firmness, moderation and wisdom.

THE Rev. Joseph Smith is the Democratic candidate for U. S. Senate, and every Democrat in the Legislature must support him after he has been nominated in caucus—which is sure to be done. Has not the people of Wasco county got enough of voting for preachers? If you have not, vote the Democratic ticket, and thereby elect Rev. J. Smith in opposition to J. W. Nesmith.

CONSISTENCY.

But a few days ago Vallandigham, that devoted patriot of Copperheadism and secession, said that unless President Johnson did not commence appointing Democrats to office, in three weeks he would not have a single adherent in that party. Hear him in the Ohio Democratic State Convention, which assembled at Columbus, May 23d. In a speech before that body he said:

"The support given by the Democracy to Andrew Johnson was the most honest ever given by any party to a President. It was unselfish support with no demand for office. The Democracy owed nothing to the Republican party and did not intend the Republican party should owe it anything. The battle would be fought out on this line. He was a Copperhead and gloried in it, and would tell the Republicans that in five years they would be making affidavits to prove that they were the real Copperheads and we the pretenders; but Copperheads did not intend to be swallowed up by the President, nor the President by the Copperheads. The President was not going over to the Copperheads, for they would neither ask nor take office at his hands though they intended to hold all the offices after March, 1869."

Oh, no! Copperheads would not take office at the hands of President Johnson! He knew they endorsed his actions—not because they loved him or approved of his administration; but because they did want office, and sought office by endeavoring to deceive him through false and shameless assurances of support. He knows the fundamental rule now governing and controlling the Copperheads and leaders of the self-styled so-called Democratic party is divisions; they divided the Democratic party at Charleston; divided the Union and gave aid and comfort to rebels and traitors, and have, true to their instincts, endeavored to divide the Union party; but in that they have signally failed, and only in the State of Oregon at this time do they longer labor for this object. After the election is over you will find the Democratic party here, as in Ohio and throughout the Union, boldly, defiantly assuming their old principles, contended for during the war, and denouncing President Johnson as an usurper and tyrant.

Vallandigham truly says the President is not one of them; he will neither go to them nor they to him; they will not ask nor take office at his hands—that point is settled. The three weeks have expired and yet no appointments; and no longer will Democrats support or endorse him or his policy. President Johnson, the patriot and statesman, knows who are the friends of this Government, and will carefully guard and guide, with the counsel and co-operation of true loyal men, the old Ship of State into the harbor of safety, peace and prosperity.

The friends of President Johnson should reflect and consider with which party they act and vote at the coming election. If you vote for the candidates on the Democratic ticket, you are supporting the enemies of the President and free government, you are voting to sustain Vallandigham and his party who boast of their Copperheadism. If you vote with the Union party, you sustain the President and his friends. Each of the candidates on the Union State and county ticket are the friends of President Johnson, and the advocates of freedom and liberty, who are opposed to submitting this Government into the hands of traitors, and equally opposed to universal suffrage. On Monday next let the friends of Johnson and liberty march to the polls, and there, by your votes, tell the Vallandigham traitors that Oregon will sustain the President and this glorious Government against them and his treasonable cohort.

THE river is beginning to cause considerable alarm to the citizens on Main street.—During the past twenty-four hours it has risen about eighteen inches. The dining room floor of the Umatilla House has about one inch of water in a part of it, and several stores along the line of Main street are beginning to leak. The water now lacks about twelve inches of being on the railroad track. Houses in the back part of town are in demand, and as a consequence rents are up. This has been a very busy day on Main street; everybody is either moving or making arrangements to do so. The O. S. N. Company's steamer, Dalles, has been engaged in hauling rock to weight down the railroad bridge, which, we understand, has raised a little. We are anxiously awaiting our turn. Pleasant thing moving a printing office; we appreciate it highly, as do all printers.
