STEAM ON THE UPPER SNAKE RIVER.—A correspondent of the Idaho Statesman, writing from Owyhee Landing, May 21st, gives an interesting description of an exploring trip made by the steamer Shoshone from that place up the Snake river. The letter is too long for publication in our columns. We take the following from the correspondence:

Just above the Bruno the river emerges from another canyon, not so deep as the first, but full of rapids, which the boat surmounted without difficulty. At a distance of about six miles we came to swift, rough water which, with eighty pounds of steam, brought the boat to a halt. The captain backed out of the situation and tied up and proceeded to make explorations by land. We found two miles of rapid, swift and rough water, with a considerable fall at the head. With some doubt in his ability to go over it, Captain Myrick ordered a full head of steam and started again with one hundred and ten pounds. The whole length of the rapid was made with ease till the prow of the boat touched the break in the very head of the fall, when she refused to go any farther. Steam was raised to the highest point allowed to her boiler and the boat held to her work for over half an hour, but to no purpose. The fall was too much, and with a few turns back of the wheel we went darting down that two miles of rapids with unusual steamboat velocity. With a good line the boat might have been taken over the rapid, but there was no safe one on board, and the Captain therefore declined to try it. That point is probably about sixty miles, by the course of the river, from this landing; how far above the boat might go, there was, of course, no means to ascertain. High bluffs and a smooth river were all that could be seen ahead. The river is inaccessible on both sides, so that nothing can be gained by running up to that point, unless a higher one can be reached. Of that there is, however, but little doubt, as with the aid of a line boats can go over that rapid as easily as they do over some in the Willamette and Columbia.

We made the run back to the landing in about four hours, arriving here at sundown to-day, and thus ending the further navigation of Snake river above this point for the present. That another and successful trial will be made before long, I have no doubt, as the falls that terminated this trip can easily be overcome, and there may be no more serious one for many miles above.

By OWYHEE STAGE.—News came from Ruby last night of another Indian raid, made principally upon Chinamen. A messenger came for Major Marshall from Camp Lyon with the statement that a Chinaman had come into that camp reporting that he was the only one of a party of fifty who was known to have escaped an attack upon their camp, about four miles beyond the California ferry, on the Owyhee river. There were also two white men with the Chinamen, and all are supposed to be killed. Lieut. Peepson started immediately for the spot, and found twenty-two dead bodies there, corroborating in the main, the story of the Chinaman. Lieut. Peepson sent a messenger back to Col. Coppinger, who has followed in hopes to overtake the Indians. The massacre is supposed to have occurred last Monday or Tuesday.—Idaho Statesman.

SENATORIAL.—The present Congress, ending on the 4th of March next, terminates the Senatorial career of the following gentlemen, unless they shall be re-elected meantime: Clark, of New Hampshire; Foster, of Connecticut; Harris, of New York; Poland, of Vermont; Cowan, of Pennsylvania; Trumbull, of Illinois; Brown, of Missouri; Davis, of Kentucky; Nesmith, of Oregon; Pomeroy, of Kansas; Lane, of Indiana; Howe, of Wisconsin; Crowell, of Maryland; and McDougall, of California. The only elections that have yet taken place for the term commencing in 1867 and ending in 1873, are, Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, and Mr. Cole, of California.

GREENBACK CASE DECIDED.—Judge Rix, of the San Francisco Police Court, lately decided a street car greenback case, and held that the car conductors and companies are compelled to receive greenbacks in payment for tickets. The decision gives universal satisfaction to the public, but is not relished by the street railroad companies, who have given notice of their intention to appeal to the higher courts. In log-rolling a bill through the Legislature, authorizing them to raise the fares, the companies accomplished their object, but it is not likely to benefit them.

NOR ARRIVED.—Judge McBride, Col. Preston, and other Idahoans, who were expected to arrive yesterday, on the Overland stage, did not come. They are supposed to be detained east of Salt Lake by high water, at least such is the report of the passengers that have come through.—Idaho Statesman.
