SAVED BY A CAMERA MAN.

How He Won a Lease of Life For Some of Villa's Victims.

During one of his earlier campaigns Francisco Villa had an American movie photographer, Burrud by name. attached to his staff, who spent a good deal of his time taking pictures of the excessively vain "general" himseif. Sometimes, however, Burrud was called upon to undertake more strenuous operations. The following story for Instance, is told in Francis A. Collins' "The Camera Man:"

"Burrud was called outdoors unex pectedly at sunrise one morning and directed to report, with his camera, at once to headquarters. When he arriv ed, contless and breakfastless, before Vilin's tent he was told that the general had decided to have some twenty prisoners shot and wanted a moving picture taken of the execution. The prisoners, most of them political merewere to be butchered to make a moving picture scene.

"Burrud feigned to examine bis camera closely and then explained to the general that his films were bad and that it would be impossible to take the picture until a new supply had arrived. Villa was disgusted to miss the entertainment, but the camera man insisted that there was no use in making the exposure, and the picture and the execution were put off several days.

"By the time the next supply of films arrived the general had fortunately changed his mind and the men were

Electricity and Coal Waste.

From coal we chiefly draw the sun's stored energy, which is required to needs. According to statistical records, the output in the United States during an average year is 480,000,000 tons. In perfect engines this fuel would be sufficient to develop 500,000,000 horsepower steadily for one year, but the squan-dering is so reckless that we do not get more than 5 per cent of its heating value on the average. A comprehen-alve electrical plan for mining, transporting and using coal could much re-duce this appalling waste. What is more, inferior grades, billions of tons of which are being thrown away, might be turned to profitable use.—Nikola Tesla in Collier's Weekly.

PRESIDENT REFUSES WHITE HOUSE ABODE

Argentine Executive Lives in Private Dwelling and Does Practically No Entertaining.

(By United Press to The Daily Bulletin) BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 9. Through Minister of the Interior Gomez, President Irigoyen today served notice on congress that he proposes to lead as unostentatious a private life as he likes even if he chief magistrate.

Criticism of some of his personal economies developed in connection coffee were served. All present re-port a pleasant evening. to charity, the critics expressed the opinion that so rich a man ought, as president, to assume somewhat more state, considering the official position he occupies.

"President Irigoyen," said Gomez 'assumed his great responsibilities at the call of the people but, as pres ident, he does not intend to abandon his simple manner of living as a private citizen."

The president still refuses to live in the Casa Rosada, or Argentine ARE IN CONVENTION White House, which he has turned into suites of government offices, but makes his home in his own very modest resident, with his daughter, SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 9.—The only two or three servants and practed American tin can, out of which tically no company.

The origin of the dispute was our own United States and the one that England after abandoning the outstanding feature is that progress Islands in 1774 resumed possession in change forced upon the Red River dairy cow is our greatest asset. Many people who "go into the dairy bus-iness" soon find out that good dairy cows are hard to buy.

The wise dairyman who has his too far. The author of "Charles Bourear to the ground knows just what bon, Constable of France," tells us that he is selling from his herd. The profitable dairy herd is not created overnight but represents the effort of years of intelligent work. Aside from the importation of high grade cows and the efforts of a Cow Testing association, the Bull association represents the most forceful agency in building up high grade dairy cows in the community.

The Bull association is a co-opera tive ownership of high grade pedigreed animals of an excellent performance record. It enables a farmer at a moderate cost the chance to not only get calves and keep his cows milking, but to raise the pro-duction of his herd to a more profitable point by owning better stock mental. Europeans have used it for years, yet American farmers, as a rule, have failed to take advantage of this simple method to improve ment, being unable to overcome their individualism toward profitable cooperation.

In the Walla Walla Cow Testing association it was discovered by the tester that those herds having a pure bred bull produced more pounds of milk per year, 127 pounds butter fat, and were of $14.00 more profit than those herds having a scrub. The County Agricultural Council instructed the county agricultural agent to encourage the Bull association movement among farmers. Accordingly it is planned through Mr. E. S. Barnard, of Powell Butte, and Earl Bentou, of Redmond, to form the first two blocks of a Jersey Bull Associa-
