

WILSON TAKES OATH TODAY PROTECTED BY BIG DETAIL FROM U.S. SECRET SERVICE

NEW DOCTRINE GIVEN IN ADDRESS.

PEACE NEAR, BELIEF

Armed Neutrality May Change to
More Active Assertion of Rights,
Says Executive—Crowds in Capital Tumultuous.

(By United Press to the Bend Bulletin)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—

Surrounded by swarms of secret service men, President Wilson took the oath of office at 12:47 o'clock today, qualifying for his new term as the nation's chief executive. His guard was the heaviest in the nation's history. Vice President Marshall was sworn in at 12:05 o'clock.

Hundreds of suffragettes refused to participate in the ceremonies. Thousands of spectators overwhelmed the police, and cavalrymen pushed through the surging crowd.

The President's inaugural address sounded the new doctrine of internationalism. He voiced the warning that the United States may experience a "more immediate association with war, and urged unity of American thought, action, and spirit."

Sees Early Peace.

Advocating the new peace plan, he advised the limitation of armaments, and equal responsibility of all nations for maintaining peace, and the equality of all nations in the destruction of an armed balance of power, and the maintenance of freedom of the seas.

He solemnly suggested that peace is coming soon. "The shadows now lying darkly on our path will soon be dispelled," he said.

Announcing that armed neutrality is at present the American attitude, he declared, "yet even this may not suffice. We may be drawn into a more active assertion of our rights."

TWO WEEKS OF LIFE IS ERASED

LAPSE OF MEMORY EXPLAINS
DISAPPEARANCE OF H. E. BAKER—RETURNS TO THIS CITY
AFTER LONG TRIP.

After suffering from amnesia, or lapse of memory, covering a period of approximately two weeks, thought to have been brought on by a severe headache, H. E. Baker, of this city, returned to Bend Saturday night, accompanied by Fred Fish, who had gone to Sherman to meet him. As nearly as can be determined, Mr. Baker has no recollection of happenings for the 14 days before he arrived in Arlington on Thursday of last week.

Mr. Baker disappeared Tuesday night, when returning with Mrs. Baker from Portland. He dismounted from the Oregon Trunk train at Fall-bridge and vanished. Sheriff S. E. Roberts, on being apprised of the circumstances, immediately sent out telegrams throughout the northwest, with the result that Mr. Baker was located in Umatilla. Previous to this, however, he had travelled to Spokane and back, it has been ascertained.

From Umatilla, he went to Arlington, where he formerly resided, and meeting old friends there, his faculties returned to him, but he was at an utter loss to account for his presence there. Sam Woods, a traveling salesman, accompanied him on his way back to Bend, as far as Sherman, where he was met by Mr. Fish. He was somewhat ill on arriving in Bend, but is improving rapidly.

The amnesia from which Mr. Baker suffered, blotted out all recollection of events during his visit in Portland, and of the trip from that city to the point at which he left the train.

FIELD DAY TO BE HELD HERE

MAY 19 IS DATE SET FOR BIG MEET.

Executive Committee Met Here Saturday to Prepare Details for the Events of Deschutes and Crook County Contests.

May 19 is the date set by the executive committee of the Central Oregon School Day, to be held in Bend this year, at which all the high schools and grammar schools of Deschutes and Crook counties will participate in field, track, declamatory and other contests of interest to the public schools. An invitation will be sent to the county superintendent of Jefferson county inviting the high schools and grammar schools of that county to participate.

The program, with a few exceptions, will be much the same as the field day held last year at Redmond. In the track events the 880-yard run has been omitted from this year's program, and in the grammar division the 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 75-yard low hurdles and 880-yard relay have been given to boys under 100 pounds weight.

In the speaking division of the program each county in the high school section will have one representative in each division of this department from three and four year schools. One representative at large will represent the high schools having only eighth and ninth grades. In the grade school division of the speaking department two entrants will be permitted for each county for each division.

Stenographers to Enter.

A feature that will be introduced this year will be the stenographic contest, under the direction of Miss Ada Wilde, of the Commercial department of the Crook county high school. This contest will be open to students in first and second year typewriting.

The committee present Saturday when details were arranged, comprised: J. E. Myers, superintendent of the Crook county schools; E. E. Evans, of the Crook county high school; J. Alton Thompson, superintendent of the Deschutes county schools; F. Thordarson, superintendent of the Bend public schools, and F. S. Francis, of the Bend high schools, secretary of the association.

COAST GUARDS PERISH

Fifteen Die in Attempt to Reach Wrecked Oil Tank Steamer.

(By United Press to the Bend Bulletin)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Fifteen coast guardsmen perished in the attempt to reach the Texas oil tanker, Louisiana, stranded off Ocean City, Maryland. Two small boats were swamped.

Four were saved. The Louisiana is pounding heavily on the shoals, and is believed a complete wreck.

COMMISSIONER LOSER BY FIRE

DAMAGE AT ALEX. MACKINTOSH HOME AT LEAST $4000—CHILDREN SNATCHED FROM BEDS WHEN FLAMES DISCOVERED.

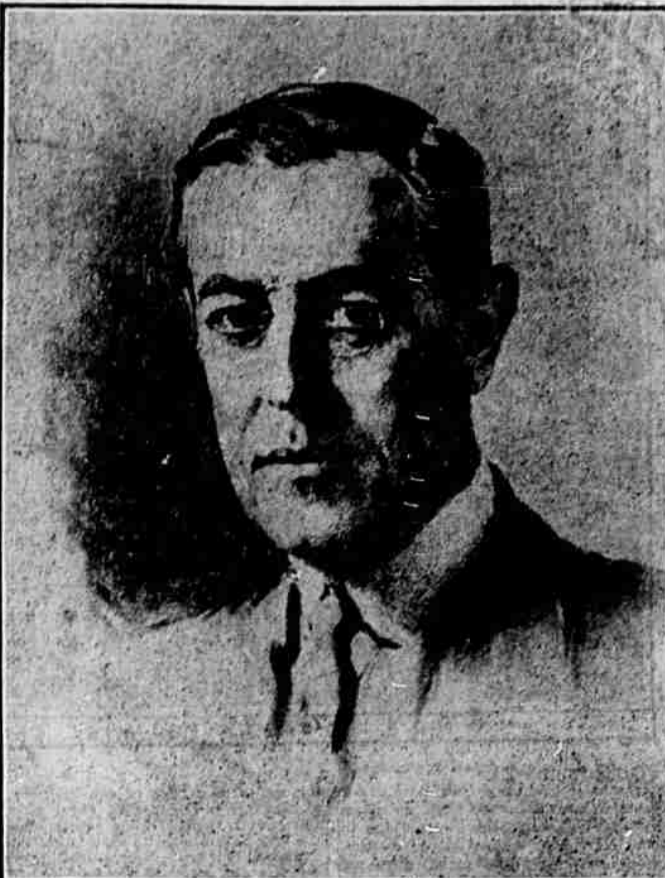

Fire starting from an unknown cause, totally destroyed the home of County Commissioner Alex Mackintosh, eight miles from Bend, together with all furniture and fittings contained in the home, shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday night. The damage is estimated at not less than $4000. No insurance was carried.

Mr. Mackintosh was in Portland at the time of the fire, and Mrs. Mackintosh was reading, after having put the two boys and a baby girl to bed. The fire apparently started underneath the stairs, and Mrs. Mackintosh, aided by her maid, Miss Dappen, had barely time to snatch the children from their beds and escape to the bunkhouse nearby. The youngest of the children was suffering from measles, but is not thought to be any the worse for Saturday night's experience.

The fire was too far advanced when first discovered to offer any chance for successfully combating the flames.

Mr. Mackintosh returned to Bend this morning, and intends to move his family into the city for the balance of the cold season.

HEADS OF NATION RENEW OATHS TODAY

Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States.

MARSHALL FIFTH TO FOLLOW SELF

VICE PRESIDENT TAKES OATH TODAY BEFORE SUPREME COURT JUSTICES AND MEMBERS OF THE SENATE.

(By United Press to the Bend Bulletin)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—

For but the fifth time in the history of the United States, a vice president was inaugurated to succeed himself, when Thomas W. Marshall, of Indiana, at noon today subscribed to the oath of office as President Wilson's second in command.

But four other vice presidents have ever been chosen for a second term of office. They were John Adams, first vice president; George Clinton, under Presidents Jefferson and Madison, and who died during his second term; Daniel C. Tompkins, under President Monroe, and John C. Calhoun, under Presidents John Quincy Adams and Andrew Jackson, and who resigned to enter the Senate following his re-election.

Vice President Marshall, although overshadowed by President Wilson, received today his goodly share of the nation's tribute. By strictest impartiality as president of the Senate during the stormy sessions of the past administration, the vice president has gained the respect of the upper house, and the warm friendship of the men who run things in Washington.

At 11:45, the robed justices of the supreme court filed into the senate, and took places directly before the vice president's rostrum.

Following prayer by the chaplain of the senate, the special session was called to order, and Senator Sausbury administered the oath. The senators and members then adjourned to attend the administering of the presidential oath.

BURGLARS NOT FOUND

Police Find No Trace as to Identity of Marauders.

No traces have been found to the identity of the person or persons who early Saturday morning burglarized the H. P. Smith grocery, the Horner general store, and Warner's store, and attempted to enter the Golden Rule store, was the statement this morning by Chief of Police Nixon.

All efforts to get track of those responsible have been without avail, he said.

$1,000,000 RAISED TO COMBAT PLAGUE

Newspaper Aid Commented on in Securing Excellent Results in Red Cross Stamp Sale.

By George Martin,

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 5.—The National Tuberculosis Association announced today that the holiday sale of Red Cross Christmas seals had raised $1,000,000 for the tuberculosis campaign.

"Without the co-operation of the newspapers, these tremendous results from the Red Cross seal sale would have been impossible," said Dr. Charles J. Hatfield.

The association is proud of the fact that the slogan of the campaign: "one seal for every inhabitant of the United States," has been realized. The sale last fall amounts to a voluntary tax of one cent for each man, woman and child in the country, except the insular possessions.

Seals were sold in every state and territory of the United States except Guam, Tahiti and Samoa. Counting the school children who sold seals numbering approximately 300,000, the total number of agents approaches 500,000.

This includes school teachers, merchants, store keepers, and professional men.

The association says the little Christmas tokens have been responsible, not only for the control of tuberculosis, but also for tremendous advances in the whole field of public health work.

Open windows the whole year through are today the rule rather than the exception. Tuberculosis is today generally recognized as curable and preventable, while ten years ago a vast number of people still held to the theory that it was inherited, incurable and unpreventable.

TO PREVENT FILIBUSTER ADVANTAGE

PRESIDENT ASKS FOR RULES CHANGE.

CRITICISM IS BITTER

Declares Small Group of Men Has Made U. S. Contemptible, by Holding Up Passage of Ship
Arming Legislation.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—

Following the defeat of the armed neutrality bill in the Senate by 13 of the members of the upper house, when 77 members favored the measure, President Wilson called an extra session of the Senate for today to revise the rules and prevent further filibustering. He evidently intends to call an extra session of Congress to pass the bill. The army and navy bill, the military academy bill, and other measures were defeated through the filibuster.

Scores Filibusterers.

President Wilson bitterly attacked the filibusterers. "A little group of wilful men have made the United States contemptible before the entire world," he said.

"Congress is rendered unable to safeguard the elementary rights of the citizen of the United States in the immediate presence of the most dangerous crisis the government has ever known," he continued. "Only definite action can shield the nation from war. We must alter the Senate rules. I believe that the people can depend on the Senate to supply means of action and save the country from disaster."

May Act Alone.

President Wilson today asked the government's legal authorities to decide whether or not he has the power to give American merchantmen naval armament without a special authorization from Congress. He wants a decision within 24 hours, and plans to arm merchantment immediately if he has the right to do so. Otherwise, he will call an extra session.

EXPLANATION OF DEATH LACKING

AUTOPSY PERFORMED ON BODY OF CHILD, BUT ONLY EVIDENCES OF NEGLECT ARE REVEALED TO EXAMINERS.

Acting on orders received from the coroner's jury which adjourned Saturday night after investigating the death of the two months old baby son of Mrs. Henry Goodman, of Bend, County Health Officer Dr. Dwight F. Miller, and Dr. U. C. Coe, made the preliminary operations yesterday for an autopsy.

The jury, composed of Ashley Forrest, Bert Miller, E. W. Richardson, Charles Haines, C. C. McNeely and F. O'Laughlin, decided that the infant came to its death through causes unknown, and examinations conducted by the two Bend physicians, led to the belief that neglect was the only charge which could be made.

At the inquest held late Saturday afternoon, Dr. Coe told of examining the child Friday noon, said that there were no external indications that death had been from other than natural causes, and said that the mother told him that the baby had never been sick, nor shown any signs of a weak heart.

Charles Carroll stated that he knew Goodman had been out of the city for nearly two years, coming back to Bend only a few months ago.

Tried to Save Child.

Sheriff S. E. Roberts told of visiting the Goodman home at noon, and of being told by the mother that a blanket might have slipped over the little one's face and smothered it. She had told him of getting up for
