"THE INTRIGUE"

A modern story revolving around the invention of an X-ray gun which the United States refuses to buy. Miss Ulrich, as Countess Sonia Varnh, an international spy, tells its purchase by another government. Though the inventor loses his gun—through the destruction of the model—he wins more—the heart of the girl he loves.

The European war cloud has turned the thoughts of many ingenious American minds to clever inventions. So it is along the lines of present day inventive activities that the Pallas-Paramount photoplay "The Intrigue," coming to the Bend Theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday tends. A young American has evolved a revolutionary invention; an X-ray gun that kills by wireless waves 25 miles. In a novel range-finder on the gun the distant object is brought into a sharp focus. Then as the spectator watches, unseen electrical forces of great potentiality are converged on the focused object and in a flash it dissipates into atomic dust. No object can stand against its tremendous destructive powers. It is a startling phenomenon and a remarkable feature of this film story of international intriguing that stars Lenore Ulrich.

DEFEAT SHOULD AID NORWEGIAN'S PLAY

(By United Press to the Bend Bulletin)
NEW YORK, March 26.—The defeat of Miss Molla Bjurstedt by Mrs. May Sutton-Bundy is one thing that should add, if anything can, to the play of the marvelous Norwegian woman tennis crack. Mrs. Bundy's style of play has held her over every other American woman for some years. She has beaten the best that other countries have produced, and she had once before forced Miss Bjurstedt to bow to her prowess.

The driving, smashing style of play that Mrs. Bundy always has combined with an uncanny ability to hit the ween, ween spots of the courts made it an uncertain match for the Norwegian woman before she went west to play the former American and English woman champion. Miss Bjurstedt was helpless before the service smashes of her Pacific coast opponent. She drives hard herself but she was unable to meet her own style of play. The defeat should be one thing to teach her that others can play the driving kind tennis equally as well as she. It probably will point out to her the wisdom of learning to combat that kind of tennis.

The performances of Miss Bjurstedt in the past have shown that she learns quickly to meet any kind of tennis. Her next meeting with Mrs. Bundy, if ever there is one, should be productive of some great strategy.

AT A CHINESE INN.

The Scene in the Interior of the One Roomed Mud Hut.

The building was a long, one storied mud hut, with thatched roof. We entered. Behold what the frontiersman had created! The long room was the scene of homely industry. From the center rafter hung a big oil lamp, shedding its rays over a patriarchal family as busy as a hive of bees. By the clay stove sat the grandfather feeding the fire with twigs and tending a brood of children playing on a dirt floor packed hard, swept clean. From one corner came the merry whir of grinding millstones as a blindfolded donkey walked round and round, while a woman in red with a wonderful headress gathered up the heaps of yellow cornmeal that oozed from the gray stones. More women in red threw the bright meal high in the air, winnowing it of its chaff; others leaned over clay mortars, pounding condiments with stone pestles.

Men were hurrying here and there with firewood, cooking for the travelers. One end of the room was reserved for these wayfarers, but the kang at the other end was divided into sections. From each rafter over each section swung quaint little cradles. In each cradle was a little brown baby, each baby tended by a larger child. Far away from the loud clamor of the western world we felt asleep in a clean inner room, to the soft sound of swinging cradles and grinding millstones, Atlantic Monthly.

HOUSEHOLD CARES JAIL PREVENTIVES

(By United Press to the Bend Bulletin)

SALEM, Ore., March 26.—Household cares keep men out of jail, in the opinion of Charles A. Murphy, warden of Oregon state prison today. Husbands who are responsible for the wife and kiddies have less time to become criminals than unmarried men, in his belief.

"Counting widowers," said the warden, "we find that about 38 per cent of the convicts received during the last two years are married men. Sixty two per cent are bachelors."

"I believe a large number of the younger inmates would not have gotten into trouble if they had had the responsibility of caring for a family. When a man has a wife he hangs onto his job and works."

EUROPEANS HASTEN TO LEAVE SHANGHAI

(By United Press to the Bend Bulletin)

TOKIO, March 26.—Availing themselves of what may be their last opportunity to cross the Pacific until the end of the war, 60 subjects of the Central Powers have taken passage on the liner China, due at San Francisco. All but four boarded the vessel at Shanghai.

Since early in the war, Teuton subjects have been able to leave China only aboard American steamers and the possibility that the China might be the last American liner to leave Chinese ports before war between Germany and the United States and possibly between China and Germany, caused a record number of Germans, Austrians, Turks and Bulgarians to take passage at Shanghai.
