MONDAY, APRIL 23, 1917

In an editorial in its Sunday issue the Oregonian announces that it has engaged R. A. Blanchard to prepare a series of articles on home gardening for the assistance of its readers. Mr. Blanchard's selection for this work is a tribute to his attainments as an agriculturalist which have already shown in the work he has done as county agriculturalist of Deschutes county.

FARMERS URGED TO COMBAT SHORTAGE

Organizations in County Asked to Meet Without Delay to Consider Means for Increasing Crops.

A letter issued to the members of the county agricultural council by County Agriculturalist Blanchard, emphasizes the food shortage which menaces the nation, and urges the immediate meeting of all farm organizations in the county, to do their part in solving the problem.

Mr. Blanchard's letter is as follows:

The United States is at war. Large preparations are being made for munitions and an army of 2,000,000 men. It is a matter of historical record that during the length of any hostilities between nations it is not guns and men—but food, that offers the most serious problem. You already know why Germany waged her submarine warfare. You have read for two years of Belgium's pitiful plight, as well as others. There exists a world food shortage—and the American farmer holds the crisis in hand.

If our county agricultural council, which has worked so splendidly prior to this event, has never functioned in a big way, the opportunity now beckons for action. President Wilson is calling on the loyalty of every American citizen to take up the hoe, produce something of value, that our army, navy, citizens and allies may be fed. Our council of 33 members represents organized farmers of over 1175 men in both Crook and Deschutes counties in Oregon.

To each member who receives this letter an urgent request is being made to immediately call your local club, union, grange, organization and neighbors together. Explain to the farmers that this is not a matter of the agriculturalist, the council, yourself or any particular interest, but concerns us all in patriotic duty to the United States in that mutual co-operation which characterizes a successful national in war.

The movement is national, spreading over the entire country, every city and town is mobilizing its citizens and children in back yard and vacant lot gardening. The American farmer as never before in our history has a duty to perform. Prices of course are bound to be high.

The season is already late and in some parts advanced. However, the following are some of the things we can do:

1. Breed every sow on the place.
2. Breed all heifers in condition.
3. Plant more potatoes, within reason of labor.
4. Sow spring barley, wheat, rye, and oats on every available place.
5. Increase the poultry, set more hens.
6. Grow a garden for the home.
7. Save all the waste, use manure as never before, buy less canned goods.

Yours for patriotic loyalty,
R. A. BLANCHARD,
County Agricultural Agent.

POSTER GIVES GARDEN FACTS

In connection with the food raising campaign, inaugurated as a war measure, County Agriculturalist R. A. Blanchard has prepared and had printed a poster urging every citizen who can, to plant a garden. According to Mr. Blanchard, a piece of ground 50x100 feet should yield 1500 pounds of food products. On the poster, he has presented a table of vegetables to plant, giving the amount of seed required and the amount of space needed which will be found especially valuable by those who are starting gardens in this section for the first time this year. The table is as follows:

BATTLERS COMPETE FOR WILLARD FIGHT

By H. C. Hamilton,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, April 23.—A possible new world's champion may emerge from the Manhattan Athletic club tomorrow night, when Jim Coffey and Carl Morris will battle for the privilege of fighting Jess Willard for his crown.
Both of these ringmasters have a long string of knockouts tied behind them for the past year's work.
Coffey and Morris met two years ago at the St. Nicholas Rink, and Morris was administered a severe lacing. Coffey's star seemed to be racing ahead until he battled the dread Moran twice. And twice Moran administered an artistic K. O.
Coffey was submerged for a year but has handed out so many knockouts during this year that he stands out once more as a "possibility." Morris, in the meantime, has licked Fred Fulton.

TYPEWRITER TANGO THE VERY LATEST

(By United Press to the Bend Bulletin)
GREELEY, Colo., April 22.—Introducing the "Typewriter Tango."
The very latest scientific application of music to commercial life is revealed by the State Teachers' college here, which is instructing its typewriting class to the accompaniment of "Walkin' the Dog."
The idea being that the musical rhythm teaches speed and accuracy on the keys. The nimble fingers of the student stenographers fly over the keys in perfect time to the latest fox trot, seldom erring, and increasing the speed wonderfully, teachers find.

GREEN ANSWERS CALL.

ANOTHER ANTI-BOND ISSUE EXPLODED

Opponents Maliciously Allege That Only a Few Counties Will Benefit.

In an attempt to array different counties against the $6,000,000 road bond bill, opponents of the measure are maliciously alleging that few counties will be able to avail themselves of the bond measure for the reason that the cost of preparing roads for hard-surfacing under the terms of the bond bill will exceed the actual cost of hard-surfacing and, therefore, be greater than those counties can afford.

Meeting this misrepresentation, the State Highway Commission at its recent meeting in Salem reiterated its previously announced policy on this subject. All that will be required of the counties under this policy will be the preparation of grade of the roads to be hard-surfaced. This means that a county will merely need to bring a road to grade and drain it before the state applies the hard-surfacing. The rock base is considered a part of the hard-surfacing and will be built by the state, assures the Highway Commission.

ADMIRAL PALMER IS RECRUITING CHIEF

Possible Increase in Salary, and a Chance to Enter Annapolis are Among Inducements.

(By United Press to the Bend Bulletin)
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23.—"Man power" is just now about the most pressing of the navy's problems. With the rapid increase in fighting ships, the question of finding men—suitable men—to man them is becoming more and more serious.
The big job of raising about 40,000 recruits is up to Rear Admiral Leigh C. Palmer, chief of the bureau of navigation. This bureau has to do with all matters of personnel, present and prospective.
Moving pictures, cartoons, placards, "open-door" recruiting stations, brass bands, and all forms of publicity and exhortation, are among the means Admiral Palmer is employing to fill up the ranks. Incidentally, a seductive $5.00 a month salary increase, which will be urged on Congress for the navy's enlisted men, is expected to prove a great stimulus to recruiting.

The new "open-door" policy, chiefly advocated by Admiral Palmer, whereby 100 bluejackets are to be annually admitted to the Annapolis cadet academy to become full-fledged officers, now offers a further—and very powerful—inducement for enlisting.

The chief of the bureau of navigation, beside being one of the most universally popular officers in the service, is fulfilling earlier predictions of his old commanders.

"He is well above the average and will develop to be an efficient officer in the higher grades," said Admiral Winslow, then a commander. When Admiral Palmer was a lieutenant, Admiral Potter said of him, "He is the most thoroughly proficient officer of his rank I have ever served with." "I consider him among the best of his contemporaries," reported Capt. Sims, when Palmer commanded a destroyer of his command.
