

LINE DRIVE ON TEUTONS IS RENEWED

HEAVY FIGHTING IS REPORTED.

DIVISIONS WIPED OUT

Von Hindenburg Orders Troops to Hold Positions or Die—British Gain Ground Despite Fierce Counter Attacks.

(By United Press to the Bend Bulletin)
LONDON, May 3.—After two days of inaction, General Haig renewed the British drive against the Germans on the western battle front, with added power today. "Heavy fighting all along the front," was reported. "We are progressing and have already taken a number of strong German positions," an official statement from army headquarters read.
The report indicated that the offensive had been resumed over a 12 mile front.
Since the beginning of the fighting on April 9, more than 13 of the enemy's divisions have been exhausted on this battle front alone, yet von Hindenburg is desperately throwing in fresh units, with pitiless orders for them to hold or die.
North of Greenland Hill toward Fresnoy, Bulcourt, and Cheris, reports indicate that the British are gaining ground, while the Germans are making fierce counter attacks. The destructive fire on Lens continues both day and night. The Teutons fear the capture of Douai, with the remaining portions of the Hindenburg line.

ATTACK CORROBORATED

SEVERE COLD HURTS FORAGE PLANT ROOTS

Berlin, May 3.—British troops began a new attack over a wide front early this morning, it was officially stated today.
Severe cold during the winter, without a protecting blanket of snow, has resulted in the killing of a large part of the alfalfa and clover in the Lower Bridge and Cloverdale sections, according to the statement of George S. Young, just returned from that part of the county. A considerable amount of reseeded will be necessary before a crop can be expected, he says.

FULL NEWS OF WAR SENT HERE

SUBMARINE LOSSES BEING WITHHELD, BUT ACCOUNTS WILL BE SENT TO AMERICA IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

By Ed. L. Keen, copyrighted.
LONDON, May 3.—America is getting full complete facts of every news feature of the British end of war developments, excepting actual figures of submarine losses. These may be expected soon. The submarine menace is Germany's strongest card, but will never win the war.
The foregoing is on the authority of Lord Northcliffe, the statement being made when he was told by a representative of the United Press of the growing doubt and gathering distrust in the United States, resulting from the belief that America has not yet received the full war news.
"I always believed that the war would last longer," Lord Northcliffe said, "and I haven't changed my opinion."

SCHOOL UNIT TO BE ADDED

BOARD OF DIRECTORS ASKS FOR PLANS.

High School Addition May Cost in Neighborhood of $18,000—New Members Added to City's Educational Staff.

Discussion of plans for the enlargement of the city school system featured the meeting of the Bend school board, held last night as an aftermath of the voting of $30,000 worth of district bonds last week at special election. Architect Lee A. Thomas presented tentative plans for the construction of a new wing on the high school building, and in addition for the first unit of a grade school to be built on the west side of the river. It is probable that in the neighborhood of $18,000 will be spent on the high school enlargement. Mr. Thomas was requested to prepare complete plans for both buildings.
Vernon A. Forbes, attorney for the district, was ordered to prepare notices for bids for the sale of the $30,000 bond issue, as soon as he could be advised by the State Land Board whether or not that body would be in the market for the district securities.

Deny Salary Boosts.

Although at the last meeting of the board, a general salary raise of $5 a month had been voted to all instructors in the city school, two requests for advances were introduced for consideration, but because of the raise just made, no changes were authorized.

On the suggestion of City Superintendent Thordarson, the matter of employing a manual training instructor was again brought up, and the board eventually elected L. C. Sanders, of Corvallis, to the position, with the understanding that his services should be as physical director as well as instructor in manual training, and that he should also act as physical director for the Bend Amateur Athletic club.
The resignation of Miss Iva Bixler was accepted, and Miss Nana Westrom elected to fill the vacancy.

STOCKMEN KILLING LAMBS, ACCUSATION

Game Warden Receives Complaint and Recommends That Oregon Council Take Matter Up.

Charges that some of the big sheep men in Central Oregon are killing orphaned lambs, instead of letting people have them who can raise them, are made in a letter received from Madras by State Game Warden Carl D. Shoemaker. The letter emphasizes that such a policy is distinctly against the national increased food production campaign.
Mr. Shoemaker has written The Bulletin stating that the Fish and Game Commission is not looking after the conservation of domestic animals, but that the criticism made would be a proper subject for investigation by the Oregon National Council of Defense.

PEACE MAKER GIVEN REWARD

SCHEIDERMANN, A SOCIALIST, HEADS REICHTAG COMMITTEE FOR ATTEMPT TO INDUCE SLAVS TO QUIT WAR.

(By United Press to the Bend Bulletin)
AMSTERDAM, May 3.—The German government has taken a revolutionary and unprecedented step in the appointment of a Socialist as president of the constitutional committee of the Reichstag, according to announcements received here in Berlin dispatches.
Phillip Scheidermann, who recently attempted, through Socialist organizations of the two countries, to conclude a separate peace with Russia, is the man selected to fill the important position.
Although the Socialist peace move is apparently standing still at the present, it is deemed entirely possible that the chairmanship of the constitution committee is being tendered Scheidermann as a reward for his services in endeavoring to bring hostilities between the two nations to an end.

British Food Drive Example Which U. S. May Soon Follow

By W. F. Getty,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 3.—Appealing to the entire womanhood of Britain to enlist in his army, "General" Kennedy Jones, director of food economy, has inaugurated his spring campaign against starvation with the vigor that characterized his previous successful battles for England's cause.
"Women are the food buyers and the food preparers of the nation," Jones said, "and I look to them to defeat the present menace of the submarine blockade by preventing extravagance in any form."
As England faces far greater danger from the threatened shortage of food than from the Central Powers on any battlefield, the country women have been called to a battle which is certain to have as decisive an effect on the outcome of the war as any "push" against the German trenches by their brothers at the front.
"To the well-to-do, the general made his first appeal.
"Leave bread, meat, sugar and potatoes for the poor" is his original suggestion. "There are many expensive substitutes the rich can afford, but it is necessary that the food on which the working classes depend be supplied them."
Kennedy Jones is the square-jawed man of whom Bonar-Law, after the recent Win-the-War loan achieved success, said: "To this man, perhaps more than any other, the success of the loan was due." No country has even seen such an advertising campaign as the one which was the cause of bringing hordes of gold tumbling into England's coffers from all over the land, and Jones personally had charge of this campaign.
When the loan period expired, England could not afford to let such a valuable agent and aggressive leader return to comparative obscurity and he was enrolled under Lord Devonport's banner with the title of director-general of food economy. In him, the country is confident its vital problem will not long remain unsolved.

England has not yet awakened to the reality of the crisis. Despite Devonport's daily appeals and long newspaper columns of statistics and warnings and the premier's occasional pointed remarks on the sub-

TWELVE BEND BOYS TO GO INTO NAVY

Recruiting Given Added Impetus—Those Who Pass Physical Tests Will Leave Next Week.

Recruiting for the navy received a new impetus last night when 12 Bend boys agreed to enlist for service on the ocean. Providing they pass the physical tests satisfactorily, they expect to leave some time next week for Portland, taking final examinations there, and proceeding afterwards to the training camp at San Francisco.
Those who have agreed to go are John Steidl, C. A. Boyd, Steve Steidl, Howard Young, Roy Clemens, Bob Horner, Alfred Hunnell, D. Lucas, Robert Innes, Lloyd Kelley, H. McKenzie and R. C. Newell. Recruiting Officer T. L. Carriger believes that the number will be considerably increased within the next few days.
Examination of recruits will be made this evening, the offices of Dr. G. L. Cousineau having been secured for the purpose.
Mr. Carriger explained this morning that restrictions as to the eligibility of recruits have been made much stricter than when enlistment first began. Previously boys would be taken for the service as young as 16, but now no one will be taken under 17, even with the consent of his parents.
Mr. Carriger expects to receive literature descriptive of the various branches of the naval service, within a short time.

FRENCH ARE GREETED IN HOUSE TODAY

APPEARANCE CAUSES WILD APPLAUSE.

VIVIANI ADDRESSES

Leader of Commission Pleases Representatives When He Kisses Hand of Miss Jeanette Rankin—Italy Given Loan Share.

(By United Press to the Bend Bulletin)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—Having completed the major share of the Allied war parley, the French Commission today visited the House of Representatives, and prepared to start on a tour of the west this afternoon. The greeting of the House to General Joffre, vice-Premier Viviani and vice-Admiral Cochet was a riot of enthusiasm.

Viviani gave a stirring address, being frequently interrupted by applause. When he had finished, General Joffre arose, saluted, and waited for order. "Thank you," he said finally. Then, "Vive Amerique."
Miss Jeanette Rankin, representative from Montana, attracted unusual attention. Marshal Joffre shook hands with her, and Viviani, to the intense pleasure of the House, kissed her hand.

Organization Urged.

Representatives of 48 American states heard that the nation's success depended on their aid, when Viviani delivered his address. The organization of the individual states to sustain the common armies, and the operation and prosecution of the war was discussed. Each state was urged to organize a defense council and committees on finance, publicity, medicine, sanitation and food supply.

Italy Receives Loan.

The United States will send 3000 ambulances and 7700 physicians and drivers to France, the council for national defense announced today. The first unit will leave within three weeks. This is in addition to the 1000 men to be sent immediately.
Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo gave a treasury warrant for $100,000,000 to Italian Ambassador Di Colere, as Italy's Share of the American war loan.

COMMISSIONER QUITS CROOK

BLANCHARD LEAVES AFTER BUYING SPRINGER RANCH—PEOPLE BALKED IN ATTEMPT TO NAME HIS SUCCESSOR.

County Judge Springer, of Crook county, has removed the previous grounds of criticism against him, namely, that he was a resident of Jefferson county, but citizens of Prineville have found a new cause for complaint, according to Paul C. Garrison, who returned last night from the Crook county seat. The resignation of Commissioner Blanchard, and the refusal of Judge Springer to vote with Commissioner Luthy for Joseph Lister, a rancher of Crooked river, to fill the vacancy, is the fresh basis for attack.
Commissioner Blanchard gave up his position Tuesday, because he had purchased Judge Springer's ranch in Jefferson county, and was unwilling to continue to hold office as a non-resident, so the story goes. The attack and threats of recall made earlier against the county judge, had been based on this same Jefferson county ranch.
Prineville sentiment was strong for the appointment of Mr. Lister, but Judge Springer unexpectedly refused to do this, and a petition was being gotten up last night, as a means of causing the judge to reconsider his decision.
