

Dream of Jewish Republic May be Reality After War

By Lowell Mellett,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, May 19.—The Republic of Judea or the Republic of Israel, a home-ruled nation, under the protectorate of the United States of America!

Site: The land of their fathers, Palestine.

Capital: Jerusalem.

The world war in the view of many seems about to bring true the dream that has persisted through the centuries that the Jew has wandered the earth. He is about to have his own home back again to live there or visit in security. That this security should be maintained by America is the idea of Israel Zangwill.

"Such a protectorate," he said "would be expected, of course, to endure only so long as was necessary to see the Jewish nation firmly established among the nations of the earth."

This statement to the United Press by the great leader of Jewish opinion is significant for its indication of a meeting point between the efforts he has led and the efforts of the Zionists, of whom Louis D. Brandeis has been the most prominent in America. The Zionists have made Palestine their sole objective. Zangwill's organization has urged that it is more important that the Jews should colonize somewhere at the earliest possible time than that they should return to their own ancient land. Admitting the strength of the tie that binds them to Palestine, he has urged that if this is not feasible they should settle elsewhere. He has in the past sought the British government's aid for a proposed settlement in South Africa, Canada or Australia.

Now he agrees, Palestine seems within reach.

The eyes of thirteen million Jews, scattered throughout the world, are on General Murray's army now seeking to drive the Turks out of the country that the Jews once had. From this thirteen million, perhaps should be excluded the six hundred thousand Jews who are fighting in the various armies; they, by fate's irony, will be last to know that the war may mean something for their race.

There is a strong belief in England that restoration of Palestine to the Jews would be a profitable political undertaking for the British.

"It is not expected," said Mr. Zangwill, "that all the Jews of the world would flock there to make their homes. It is my belief that the Jewish agriculturalists who find living difficult elsewhere should be aided to return and that they should form the basis of the new nation. Jerusalem's location might make it the site for a great commercial or trading city, but the important thing is not to draw there those who have prospered in other corners of the globe, but to care for the great numbers of oppressed in other lands."

"With a Jewish nation established, the Jews everywhere would feel they have a home again, whether or not circumstances permitted them to live there themselves."

Zangwill won the support of Joseph Chamberlain and Winston Churchill to his colonization scheme before the war, but South Africa, Canada and Australia opposed it in turn. A Jewish nation in Palestine is another matter.

The menace which Turkish possession of Palestine offers Egypt and the trade route to India must be removed, British statesmen agree. Even before the war many considered the recreation of the Jewish state to be best solution. Opinion changed, however, during the war, largely because of the sympathy many Jews of German origin in America admitted for Germany. It was feared that a nation sympathetic toward Germany would be a dangerous one to have so close to this strategic link in the British empire.

The Russian revolution has changed this. Jewish sympathy, alienated by the treatment of the Jews in Russia under the old regime has been won back by the new regime. Jacob Schiff's declaration for the Allies, following the announcement of the Provisional government of equal rights for the Jews of Russia, was not the only one to come to the attention of the British government. A Jewish state in Palestine now would be a friendly—even grateful—state, it is believed.

Zangwill's idea of an American protectorate is based on the desire that the Jewish interests should be protected by a great power that had no self-interest there to serve.

Whether such a protectorate would appeal to British statesmen is doubtful. It is more likely that in case a Jewish nation is set up, Great Britain herself will garrison the country until law and order and the stability of the new government is assured.

Cablegrams received by the Jewish Daily News at New York from Petrograd have stated that Prime Minister Lvoff and Minister of Justice Kerensky, addressing crowds on May Day pledged the Russian provisional government to work for the establishment of a Jewish state in Palestine.

NEW TAX WILL NOT HURT BALL OWNERS

Fans Will Pay Extra Price on Tickets This Season to Help America's War Expenses.

By H. C. Hamilton,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, May 21.—When June 1 reaches the baseball season the uncomplaining fan will begin to dig into his jeans for an extra two or three or five cents whenever he passes the turnstiles at a baseball park. That's the way baseball magnates are going to pay their war tax. The efforts of Gov. John K. Tener, president of the National league, and Ban Johnson, president of the American league, saved the magnates the trouble of handing out a percentage of their gross receipts. Tener's clear knowledge of the problem and his influence undoubtedly saved what probably would have been a bad day for baseball.

Baseball is a little different from most businesses. A baseball club has to win a lot of baseball games to enjoy a really profitable season. Usually six clubs in an eight club circuit are far enough down in the race to be losing ventures or be able only to struggle through with an even break. One club in any league is almost certain to have a losing season, and the rule generally works for two or three clubs.

Baseball don't make fortunes for its backers. In its history there cannot be found one man who made a huge fortune directly from the income he derived from baseball, but usually the rich man in baseball has accumulated dollars in some other venture.

The tax will be levied by means of stamps, placed on the ticket by the fan. This is the plan that is working in Canada.

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, our Heavenly Father, in the exercise of his divine authority over the destinies of all mankind, has called to his eternal rest our beloved brother, Charles H. Dusenberry, one of the members of this lodge;

Be it therefore resolved, that we, the members of Bend Lodge No. 423, Loyal Order of Moose of the World, do hereby express our deep sorrow over the loss of the comrade who has so suddenly been taken from us while yet in the prime of his manhood; and, be it further

Resolved, that we extend to the bereaved father and sister and sorrowing friends our earnest and heartfelt sympathy for them in their loss of the son, brother and friend. Realizing the futility of anything we might say, we can only commend those who are left to Him, who has ever been a comforter to the bereaved.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the sorrowing father and sister, another copy be spread upon the minutes of this lodge and that a copy be published in The Bend Bulletin.

Signed, D. L. WIGGINS,
