

ONE WEEK WITH THE FLYING MEN

RECORD OF SEVEN DAYS' WORK OF AMERICAN YOUTHS IN FRANCE IS GIVEN—FIGHTING EACH DAY.

By W. S. Forrest,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, May 24—(By Mail)—Here, for the benefit of the ten thousand young Americans who are being enlisted in Uncle Sam's new aeroplane army over in the states, is the record for one week in May of the American fighting fliers now at the French front with the Lafayette Escadrille.

Monday—General of — army calls at camp and congratulates the group of aerialists to which the Lafayette Escadrille belongs for protection his lines during the recent offensive northeast of —. No enemy planes crossed the line. Escadrille attacked two balloons and a number of enemy machines. Walter Lovell, Concord, Mass., and Harold Willis, Boston, attacked two enemy machines deep in enemy lines. Entire patrol, led by Captain Thenaud (French officer in command of Escadrille) forced a German patrol of six machines into their lines. Robert Rockwell, Cincinnati, attacked German machine from rear and was attacked in turn. The Hun succeeded in riddling Rockwell's lower wing spars on both sides, wing tip, control rods and undercarriage before Rockwell dove out of range.

Tuesday—Lovell attacked a Hun biplane early in the morning along Oise and drove same down into the enemy lines. Willis Haviland, Minneapolis, Lieut. DeLaage (French officer second in command of Escadrille) and Willis attacked by Hun patrol of superior numbers and height but eluded same on account of superior speed. W. E. Dugan, Rochester, N. Y., protected a photo-

Wednesday—American patrol made sortie under command of Lieut. DeLaage, sweeping a front 40 miles deep into enemy territory, but no Hun machines sighted except in extreme distance. Escadrille complimented by gift to Raoul Lufbery, New York City, of annual gold medal by Aero Club of France, last year won by Navarre. Lufbery is an "Ace," his record being nine enemy machines officially brought down. The only other American "Ace" is Lieutenant Thaw.

Thursday—Lieut. DeLaage led Escadrille on aerial reconnaissance. E. C. Parsons, Springfield, Mass., and Willis attack German machine at altitude of only 600 metres in enemy lines and force him to ground level. He probably got home. Enemy shells made both American machines do some fancy dodging. Afternoon found sky vacated by enemy but enemy guns made up by heavy shelling. Steven Rigelow, Boston, missed a shell by a very few feet at an altitude of more than 13,000 feet.

Friday—Escadrille reinforced by J. A. Drexel, Philadelphia, and C. H. Dolan, Boston. Willis had luck to find only enemy aeroplane in the sky today. It was a large biplane regulating artillery fire over the British lines. Willis dove to the attack from above but the German saw him and hastened homeward, dropping signals for his artillery to get busy. The artillery did so. Half an hour later, enemy returned with a fast monoplane protecting him. Willis offered fight but enemies changed their minds, signalling to their artillery, which gave the American flyer a very hot five minutes crossing the lines.

Saturday—Dudley Hill, Peekskill, N. Y., arrived from America to rejoin Escadrille despite fact that authorities granted him two months sick leave in America, following an operation for appendicitis in New York. He preferred to return to the front. Lovell, Parsons and Rockwell were sent in pursuit of three Huns who crossed French lines, and were chased 10 miles back into enemy territory before the pursuit was abandoned. Sunday—The entire Escadrille motored in morning to the grave of James MacConnell, near the lines, and planted flowers and placed flags. Passing French soldiers has already placed wreaths, a rude cross and remains of MacConnell's machine gun and plane on the grave.

Afternoon—Only one enemy machine was encountered by patrol. He took to his "heels" before he could be reached. Escadrille busied itself dropping 10,000 copies of President Wilson's proclamation deep in enemy territory, from St. Quentin nearly to Rheims. Enemy gunners showed their displeasure at this procedure by vigorously shelling the Americans.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR FOURTH PARADE

Organizations Urged to Enter Demonstration by Giving Names to F. R. Prince or E. D. Gilson.

There will be plenty of room for every organization and business firm in the big historic and civic parade to be held in Bend on the morning of Bend's Fourth of July celebration. Entries for the parade should be made either to Frank R. Prince or E. D. Gilson as soon as possible.

Bend Sunday schools have already made plans for the entering of suitable floats, and several business houses are contemplating a similar move. The Boy Scouts, Bend Rifles, and fraternal orders of the city are making extensive plans for feature demonstrations.

At this time there is a wealth of ideas from which to draw, and assistance will be given to any persons desiring to participate.

At the Movies

Grand Theatre. At the Grand Theatre, Thursday and Friday, the "Courage of Silence," a Vitagraph feature, will be presented in connection with a special program offered by the Ladies Guild of the Presbyterian church. This picture presents Alice Joyce and Harry Morey, both of whom are familiar to those who attend dramas of the highest sort.

In the first part of the story, Miss Joyce is cast as the beautiful wife of an ambassador, and she bewitches all of the men attending the dances and receptions. Little of her affection is bestowed upon her husband, who becomes insanely jealous of her butterfly life. Later, when she attends as a nurse, some little children, her whole life is changed. This change is—but that is the story.

Bend Theatre. The second episode of the serial spectacle, "Liberty," is entitled "Riding to Death," and will be shown at the Bend Theatre on Thursday and Friday nights. The showing of the first episode of this patriotic serial at the Bend Theatre last week was greeted by large and enthusiastic crowds, which indicates that this serial bids fair to be one of the most popular ever presented in Bend. It is filled with the prevailing spirit of war-time preparedness. In addition to the serial, "Liberty," will be shown the Paramount feature picture, "Redeeming Love," in which Kathryn Williams and Thomas Holding are the stars. This picture is replete with elaborate settings, one of the most remarkable of which is a gambling scene that is unsurpassed in magnificence.
