

At the Movies

Grand Theatre.

The magnitude of David W. Griffith's feat in staging "The Birth of a Nation," is almost appalling—at least to the devotees of the older forms of theatrical entertainment. Where now are the little groups of actors, the pinchbeck scenery and the petty properties of the so-called "legitimate" drama? By comparison with the new art, the "legitimate" measures to the mountain like a molehill. Instead of scenery for his background, Griffith used nature. For subject he has covered 150 years of American life and history. Eighteen thousand people have done his bidding and in the hair-raising rides of the Ku Klux Klan three thousand riders and horses sweep over the dusty roads.

No wonder that this magnificent historical spectacle is the talk of the country. It has established an entirely new art in the realm of the theatre—the art of pantomimic screen spectacles with score perfectly synchronized to the action. It has also created a tremendous sensation because of its vaster and more forceful treatment of the theme of Thomas Dixon's "The Clansman," which both as book and play created the greatest furor of the last decade.

The great deeds of the Civil War and the horrors of reconstruction are made to live again and the nation re-born is apotheosized. Mr. Griffith, pioneer among directors, managed this stupendous achievement without the aid of dialogue or speech, for motion pictures with music and effects tell vividly this thrilling tale of fifty years ago.

The engagement starts on Wednesday evening, July 4, and there will be matinees on Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Evenings at 8:30 sharp. The performance lasts three hours.

Edith Storey proves again in "Money Magic," the Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature shown at the Grand Theatre tonight, in which she plays with Antonio Moreno and William Duncan, that she is one of the most versatile players on the beloved screen.

Her role is that of a young girl brought up on a ranch who marries a wealthy miner, also lacking in the ways of convention and society. The struggle which she suffers in her attempt to learn the "whys and wherefores" in the lives of her cultured neighbors is realistically portrayed in a humorous manner, interspersed with touches of pathos.

There is no star on the screen today who could interpret this part better than does Miss Storey. She seems to have gotten right into the spirit of her role and makes it a living one throughout.

Then as she slowly masters the thousand details for herself she is thrown into contact with her husband's people. They are far more ignorant than she ever thought of being, and evidently jar upon her, but, conscious of her own shortcomings a few months previous, she makes an effort to place them at their ease, and at the same time impart to them some knowledge of etiquette.

Always famed for her exceptional versatility, Edith Storey proves in this varied role that she has been worthy of any praise ever bestowed.

WRIST WATCHES ARE NOW MORE POPULAR

(By United Press to the Bend Bulletin)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—Uncle Sam wears a wrist watch and carries a cute dwarf walking stick these days—because these devices are part of the modern soldiers regular equipment.

Nowadays most of the stalwart young Americans in United States army khaki tell the time by taking a peek at their left wrist, and an increasing percentage of the officers are lugging nifty little "swagger sticks."

Early Opportunity.
"We came to this country and took the innocent red man's land away from him."
"Yes," replied the man who has been having trouble with real estate, "and in some cases the innocent red man was lucky to unload just when he did."
—Washington Star.

A Classy Youth.
"What classes is your boy in at college?"
"He's in the .300 class at baseball."
"Yes?"
"And also in the ten second class in the 100 yard dash."
—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Boring Wells.
The art of boring wells was practiced in the east more than 4,000 years ago. Abraham's servant encountered Rebekah at a well in 1839 B. C.

Living Music.
To move the body to the rhythm of the universe, andante, presto, fast or slow, keeping the accent steady and sure.

To use the voice in melodious speaking, with kind and gentle words, to stranger or to friend.

In all events of daily life and work to resolve the discords and to blend the moments into one harmonious whole.

A mind to set in form the theme of life, announce the subject clear and true and work it to satisfying close.

To find within the soul the beauty bearing message of the song divine.

This is to set the days to music and to be a symphony.—Evangeline Close in Musician.

For Cleaning Paints.
An easy way to clean paints: Paints in the bathroom or kitchen that have been soiled from smoke or grease can be easily cleaned by heating vinegar, and with the use of a sponge wipe the paints. In order to obtain best results the vinegar should be heated several times during the process. When completed the paints will be thoroughly clean and look like new.

A Point Conceded.
"Your nation hasn't much appreciation of statuary," remarked the critical visitor.
"I said that years ago," replied Grandpa Mint, "when they took the wooden Indian away from in front of the cigar store."
—Washington Star.

Deserved Some.
Bibson Frocks—This cake is awful nice, mamma. (Silence.) This cake is awful nice, mamma.
"Well, what of it?"
"Oh, nothing; only when the minister says it you always ask him to have more."
—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Musical Note.
"Didn't her constant singing in the flat annoy you?"
"Not so much as the constant flat in her singing."
—Puck.

No great thing is created suddenly any more than a bunch of grapes or a fig.—Epictetus.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
Bend, Oregon, June 29, 1917.—Notice is hereby given that pursuant to Resolution No. 3, passed by the City Council of the City of Bend, Oregon, on the 5th day of June, 1917, the said City Council intends to cause Newport Avenue in the City of Bend to be improved as set forth in the said resolution and further intends to let a contract for all the work and materials of said improvement to the lowest responsible bidder.

Notice is further given that sealed bids will be received by the Recorder of the City of Bend at his office in the First National Bank building, Bend, Oregon, up to the hour of 12 o'clock, noon, on the 10th day of July, 1917, for furnishing all the material and labor and constructing complete and ready for public use, Local Improvement Number 3, consisting of the improvement of Newport Avenue from the Deschutes River westerly to the City Limits, in the manner set forth in the plans and specifications provided for the same.

Plans and specifications for the above improvement are available to contractors and may be found on file in the office of the City Recorder and in the office of the City Engineer, at Bend, Oregon. Any contractor contemplating a bid on the work, however, will be supplied with a copy of the plans and specifications, by making a deposit of $10 with the City Recorder, which deposit will be returned to him upon the return of the plans and specifications in good condition.

An approximate list of the quantities involved in the work is as follows:

- Clearing and grubbing, 1.8 acres.
- Earth excavation, 7092 yards.
- Rock excavation, 1725 yards.
- Cement curb, 10450 lineal feet.
- Cement walk, 30125 square feet.
- Volcanic cinders, 5080 cubic yards.
