Grand Theatre.

Who dares to say that children do not count? This question should attract the attention of every man and woman. In this time of turmoil, when mothers are giving away their sons to their country, there should be but one answer. The picture to be shown at the Grand Theatre at the matinee Saturday will touch the heart fibres, all of the human emotions will be stirred. Love, hate, pathos, humor, ambition, greed, all vie for supremacy. Every one will admit that children do count.

Tonight and also at the Saturday matinee will be shown the second chapter of "The Railroad Raiders." In this picture Helen Holmes takes the star role and is especially capable. As the story goes, there are certain people who prey upon the railroads for their living. The railroad officials are having everything investigated that will give a possible clue to solving the mystery. This serial is different from most serials in that the different chapters show a complete story in each issue.

Liberty Theatre.

In these days when everyone is interested in the deeds of valor and national patriotism it is a very timely period for such a picture as "The Little Boy Scout." This picture is shown at the Liberty Theatre tonight and all of the members of the Boy Scouts in the city are to be the guests of Manager Coble. The guests will have a special section reserved for them and will be accompanied by Scoutmaster H. C. Hartranft.

Sunday night there is to be shown the drama, "A Square Deal." This is a picture that goes right to the heart of everyone who really has a heart and can sympathize with the unfortunate.

Friendship that goes the limit for another is hard to find but such a friendship is pictured in a beautiful, thrilling, highly entertaining manner in this striking and exceptional film. Carlyle Blackwell enacts the role of the friend who goes the limit and to his assured and always delightful acting are added the superb characterizations of June Elvidge, Henry Hull, and Muriel Ostriche, making this one of the best acted plays ever filmed.

At Liberty Theatre Saturday night.
