RUNAWAY CHECKED BY WRECK OF WAGON

Team Breaks From Fastenings at Depot When Frightened by Gasoline Speeder.

Hay scattered along Division street, a broken telephone pole and finally a wrecked wagon, marked the flight of a team of horses belonging to Aune's barn, which was startled by a passing speeder on the railroad tracks about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The team, which had been driven by Bill Taylor, was tied at the depot awaiting the appearance of the driver, when the gasoline car chugged along the track. Startled, the horses broke their fastenings and raced two blocks up the street until checked by the wagon losing its balance after its load of hay had been lost.

inal judge of Portland, outlined the outrages perpetrated by the Germans during the war, declared that a history of Prussian diplomacy plainly reveals the trail of the serpent, urged the purchase of bonds as the safest investment in the world, and as a result getting method of backing up the boys who have gone to the front. Money wins wars, and this war is one of Democracy vs. Autocracy, which we must win.

Kaiser's Grammar Scored.

He was followed by Reverend Hartranft, who claims that the chief objection he had against the Kaiser is that "he doesn't know enough German or English grammar to put God before his name." The speaker also urged the saving of two cents daily on food and putting it into Liberty loans. "The nation would have $2,000,000,000 worth at the end of the year if they followed this bit of advice," he said.

President Gilman, of the Oregon Trunk, urged that the only method by which peace can be accomplished is by whipping Germany and whipping her in the "good old-fashioned American way, doing it thoroughly." "Don't neglect the small man," he said. "Give him a chance with his $50 or $100. The government wants it for the good will it expresses. Three billion means only $30 apiece from each person in the nation. That is only a small tax which the people of this country shouldn't buck at."

Bonds Explained.

Mr. Etheridge was the last speaker. He explained the bonds, showing how near they are to cash. "People ask what they can do with the bonds," he said. "You can buy a home, a suit of clothes, or loan money on them. Liberty bonds are a mortgage on the whole United States."

In order to reach a majority of the people in Bend, speakers appeared at both of the moving picture theatres for brief addresses. A dinner was given at the Pilot Butte Inn earlier in the evening in honor of the Liberty bond boosters. Members of the delegation who are touring Central Oregon in the car furnished by Eric V. Hauser, of Portland, left this morning for Klamath Falls. Follow up meetings in Bend were scheduled to be held today at both of the local mills.

first speaker of the evening, declaring that America must, if necessary, carry the cross of sacrifice to insure world freedom. Rev. Snyder is himself the father of a boy now fighting in the trenches in France.

"The issue of the war is the fate of civilization," he declared. "We own one-third of the gold of the United States, and our other resources are tremendous. We are called to give the best that we have and give it cheerfully."
