What have you done today to help win the war?

THE COUNCIL'S CHANCE.

The constitutional amendment necessitating the holding of city elections at the same time as state and county does away with any city election in Bend this year, according to the latest opinions of the attorneys who have studied the matter. At present it seems uncertain just when the next election for the selection of city officials will occur. It may be when the primaries are held in the spring or it may be not until the general election in November. It probably is the latter.

If the election is not to be until November the city officials now in office remain on the job for another year and the opportunity is open for an interesting piece of work on their part. We refer to a possible study and careful treatment of city finances.

In December of each year the city budget is agreed upon by the council and a tax levy made based on the budget. Under the old law three of the council members who helped to make the budget went out of office almost as soon as this piece of work was done, being succeeded by three others who had no part in the budget making and no information as to the financial arrangements for the coming year. Now, by virtue of the postponement of the election, a new situation exists. The same three men, who as the Ways and Means committee, prepare the budget, and the same six who as members of the city council, vote it for the coming year, will remain in office to expend the money.

They will be familiar with the city's financial condition because of their work on the budget and they will be the ones who have decided what shall be spent. Also they will be the ones to spend.

That would seem to put the thing pretty definitely up to the council to spend for only what they had provided for, and if this rule were followed Bend would have some chance of getting again on a cash basis.
