GRAND.

Coming tomorrow and Friday night is the ever popular Constance Talmadge in "The Honeymoon," a merry tale of marital mishaps that will bring a host of smiles to everyone in the audience. Susan, the lady in question, has a very decided temper. She is of a jealous disposition. What happens to Susan from the moment the marriage ceremony is concluded makes a delightful story.

Of more than usual moment is the announcement today elsewhere in this paper of the coming of "Heart of Humanity," featuring Dorothy Phillips, to be seen at the Grand theater Sunday matinee and evening, Monday and Tuesday, May 4-5-6.

"The Heart of Humanity," the big special photoplay production, brings to the screen the inspiring story of a woman's efforts to alleviate the sufferings of the wounded and orphaned and homeless during the days when France and Belgium were scarred and seared by the sword and torch.

It depicts the tenderness of the mother heart in its conflict with the horrors of war. It pays a deserved tribute to womanhood as expressed in the Red Cross nurse. It presents a side of the war the public has been too prone to overlook.

The story deals with the romance of Nanette, the little ward of a parish priest in the Canadian northwest. While the girl is celebrating her wedding the war comes and John, her husband, answers the call. His letters describe the suffering of French and Belgian children so vividly that Nanette becomes a Red Cross nurse. On the war-torn field of Flanders the little nurse meets her husband. She is captured by Germans, and finally the two are reunited after a series of thrilling scenes which vividly portray the final halting of the Hun and the counter attacks that sent him scurrying back to his own border.

LIBERTY.

Beginning tomorrow night and continuing for 15 weeks the Liberty will show the serial, "A Man of Might," featuring William Duncan. This serial is brimful of 15 startling episodes, one of which will be shown every Thursday night. The first will be shown tomorrow night.

Captain Ben Ransome, one-time seafaring man, lived in a pretty cottage near the coast, in southern California. Of comfortable means and good health, he lived only for the happiness of his daughter Polly, a young woman of unusual charm, whose happiness, in turn, was bound up in Dick Van Brunt, a neighbor, honest, handsome and of mighty strength and daring. It was the only secret Ransome held from his daughter—that some day she should marry Dick.

Polly and her father were seated in the living room in their life-long companionship, but her eyes constantly turned to the gate beyond the arched porch. Ransome knew the reason and laughed happily when Dick's cheery call rang out and the girl with a kiss and a blush ran from the room to greet her sweet-heart, to lead him away to a secluded spot in the pretty garden.

And into this happy scene there stole a man of evil face, across which was an ugly scar that bespoke a crime of years before—Scarface Bender. Stealthily, he stole through the grounds, his eyes fastened on the cottage door. Once he paused at the sight of the lovers and a sneer escaped him, for there was nothing of love in Scarface's makeup.

Tonight will be the last showing of the strong play, "Lafayette, We Come" and "Once a Mason."
