

TONIGHT Last Time DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

When John Emerson and Anita Loos get together to make a fool of the Kaiser--the Kaiser is some fool.

Shirley Mason and Ernest Truex sure do knock the stuffs out of more than Kaiser Bill's rebellious moustache. What would you do...?!? They did worse than that! Come and see!

HUN ICE CREAM FOR YANKS

German merchants are catering to the American appetite for dainties to the extent of importing ice cream freezers and selling real ice cream at three marks a dish. The photograph shows one of the boys enjoying his ice cream at Neuenahr, Rhinish Prussia.

Look Over Your Bills.

Now that somebody has taken the trouble to count them, it appears that there are in circulation in the currency of the United States five varieties of the $1 note, five different $2 bills, six $5 bills, seven $10 bills, seven $20 bills, six $50 bills, six $100 bills and four $500 bills. Comparatively few citizens, to be sure, have the opportunity to study the differences between $500 bills, but it illustrates the matter-of-courteseness with which currency is handled that many will probably be surprised to know that the lower denominations are printed in so many styles. Nor does it often occur to anybody to realize that he carries in his pocketbook some fine and interesting examples of the art of engraving.

Unquenchable.

"Old Lute Lathers is a great feller to always look on the bright side of things," said the gaunt Missourian. "He was riding to town on a load of hay with his son-in-law the other day when the feds were so muddy. One wheel dropped into a chuckhole clear up to the axle, the hay steved, and Uncle Lute rolled off and landed on his head in a puddle a foot and a half deep. 'Well, sir,' says he, when they had dug him out and mopped him off some, 'these 'ere mud roads don't bruise you up like a rock road does. If that had been a hard-surfaced road, b'dogged if it wouldn't have plumb broke my neck!'"—Kansas City Star.

DID SEEM LIKE PROFANITY

But Really, Prospective Bride Was Merely Trying to Tell Marriage License Clerk Her Name.

C. M. Kennedy, who issues marriage licenses in Seattle, Wash., is an exceedingly polite and withal a proper young man. When a prospective bride and groom approached his desk recently here's what happened that shocked Kennedy:

"Name, please?" said Kennedy to the sweet-faced young thing before him.

"Helmaheart Hurts," came the unexpected reply.

"Er—I'm sorry," said Kennedy with a frown. Turning to the prospective groom, Kennedy asked his name, thinking to give the coming bride an opportunity to recover from her evident attack of heart trouble.

"George T. Halliday," said the man. "And now your name?" said Kennedy to the apparently recovered bride-to-be.

"Helmaheart Hurts," she repeated.

"Young lady," said Kennedy severely. "I am a married man and a father, and it grieves me to hear such language from a girl getting a marriage license. If your heart hurts I'm sorry, but profanity is wholly unnecessary."

"What the future Mrs. Halliday is trying to tell you," said the young man, "is that her name is H-e-l-m-a-h-a-r-t H-u-r-t-z." Kennedy apologized.—Cincinnati Inquirer.

HOW HE EARNED HIS CROSS

American Soldier of Chinese Parentage Talks Modestly of Deed of Great Bravery.

Corporal Sing Kee, color sergeant of the Three Hundred and Sixth Infantry of the Seventy-seventh division, holds, one may fairly believe, the distinction of being the only American soldier of Chinese descent who ever won a Croix de Guerre in France. The corporal is a modest warrior, not loquacious in the tongue of his fellow soldiers; and when asked by a reporter to tell how he won his cross he replied, "What did I do? I did, that's all." Others, however, are more explicit, and what Corporal Sing Kee really did was to carry messages through gas and shell fire. He was one of the twenty runners between commanders of advanced battalions at Mont Notre Dame, and at the end of the second day the corporal was the only one still remaining in action. Late in the afternoon he was gassed by the enemy, but managed to reach his destination. After that came the Croix de Guerre, honorably earned by the American soldier of Chinese parentage who just "did, that's all."—Christian Science Monitor.

Silent Before Johnson.

The other day a few men in the street were discussing capital punishment, when a young man named Johnson was observed approaching.

"Hush!" whispered a wag named Smith. "Stop the subject. Don't speak about hanging; it'll put him in mind of his grandfather."

Mr. Johnson came up, and the company immediately started another and more lively theme.

About a week later Johnson, fairly foaming at the mouth, met Smith. He yelled, "Why the dickens did you say that my grandfather was hanged? It's an infamous lie, sir; he died in his bed."

"Hanged!" exclaimed Smith. "My dear sir, I never alleged anything of the kind. We were speaking about hanging and I told the fellows to stop it, as it might put you in mind of your grandpapa. Wasn't he a ropemaker?"

Our success proves that service counts

We firmly believe that our success has been due to one thing--

Never being afraid of doing too much for our customers.

We've served our patrons instead of being satisfied with just selling things for a cash profit.

And we are always going to serve them.

We are always going to give them just a little more than they expect.

For instance, we are always going to give them the benefit of our knowledge of good groceries.

This means that we not only keep our shelves filled with the best groceries on the market, but that we suggest things to our customers which we think are especially fine.

Preferred Stock Canned Goods have no pier on the prepared food market. It's quality is everywhere recognized. Our stock is always fresh.

F. Dement & Co.

Ever Think

of the difference between the old corner grocery, with its open barrels of foodstuffs, and its counters crowded with buckets and boxes, its few narrow shelves--and a modern up-to-date store?

Come in some day and look over our clean, fresh stock--our long rows of shelves full of canned and semi-prepared foods, our bins of fresh vegetables, our cases of bakery stuff. It will set you thinking.

GRAND.

Can you imagine a pretty little girl growing up with a gang of safe crackers and coming through it all unscathed? Can you imagine her alighting from a freight train in a small gossipy town, in boy's clothes, and within a few months becoming the belle of the village?

This is what Muggsy Mulane does in Cottonville, the scene of "Danger—Go Slow." This is an unusually clever photo drama in which Mae Murray wins greater laurels as Muggsy.

If the question of environment means anything in your young life and if your efforts to give your own daughter an education that will fit her for the White House are not turning out well, you will be more than interested in "Danger—Go Slow," Mae Murray's latest production, to be shown at the Grand Tuesday and Wednesday.

Theda Bara in "Salome" will be seen for the last time at the Grand tonight.

LIBERTY.

One of the rarest things in the world—an original idea—is expressed in "Good Bye, Bill!" the second John Emerson-Anita Loos production for Paramount, starring those two sterling artists, Shirley Mason and Ernest Truex, which will be shown at the Liberty theater next Tuesday and Wednesday. The photoplay satirizes Wild Bill Hohenzollern from start to finish. It shows how he hung his terrorism idea on the eye of the German people so effectively that he thought sure it would work on the rest of the world.

Well, Bill didn't succeed in scaring the rest of the world, as we all know, and he surely didn't scare the authors of this new kind of kaiser play. They have fun with the kaiser, the crown prince and the whole Prussian gang and they do it effectively. As a rule, the grimmer the job the American has to do, the more he kids himself about it.

Life in Other Planets.

Marconi truthfully says that many of the planets are much older than ours; therefore, beings who dwell thereon ought to possess vast funds of information that would be of incalculable value to us poor mortals. He makes this reasonable statement in a recent interview: "It is silly to assert that other planets are uninhabited because they have no atmosphere or are so hot or otherwise totally different from the earth. If there were no fish in the sea, we would maintain to our last breath that life therein was impossible." That is a reasonable assertion.
