

U. S. TO TAKE WATER WAGON SEAT TONIGHT

DREAM OF REFORMERS BECOMES REALITY.

PENALTIES ARE HARSH

Year's Imprisonment and $1000 Fine Maximum—Bill to Make Prohibition Continuous Introduced in Lower House.

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—War-time prohibition cannot be effectively enforced until congress passes additional enforcement legislation, the house judiciary committee reported today.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—Uncle Sam, for years past the greatest consumer of intoxicating liquor, tonight will take his seat on the world's water wagon.

Nation-wide prohibition—the dream of reformers for a century—becomes a reality at midnight, when the war-time prohibition act, passed during the struggle with Germany to conserve food, went into effect, despite the appeal of President Wilson that congress repeal it as it affects beer and light wines. Under the act all manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors are crimes against the United States.

Dealers Are Warned.
Saloonkeepers and others who violate the war-time prohibition law will be arrested and prosecuted, Assistant Attorney General Frieron stated today. This is the answer to the reports that liquor dealers in many of the large cities would ignore the law. The war-time prohibition act provides for a fine not to exceed $1000, or imprisonment not to exceed a year, or both, on conviction of violation of the law.

A bill designed to stop the gap between war and constitutional prohibition was introduced by Representative Randall today. It would make prohibition continuous, beginning tomorrow, and would hold bonded warehouses all distilled liquor now there.

125,000 Saloons to Close.
War-time prohibition today means: The closing of 12,000 saloons, principally in big cities.

The closing of 1247 breweries (1917 figures).
Practical abandonment of 645 distilleries, already closed as a war measure.

Loss to the government of about $350,000,000 annually in internal revenue, and the loss of several hundred millions to municipalities for licenses.

Diversion of $2,000,000,000—the nation's liquor bill—to other purposes, with greatly increased sales of soft drinks and ice cream expected.
Hundreds of thousands of men, employed in the liquor business, must find other work.

One million habitual drunkards—Anti-Saloon league figures—must find some other pastime.

ALL MEASURES CARRY EASILY

OVERWHELMING MAJORITIES FOR BUDGET, REVOLVING FUND, LIBRARY AND CHARTER ELECTION CHANGES.

Although the vote cast was small in proportion to the number who could have cast their ballots in Saturday's election, such a decided majority was cast in favor of each measure as to leave no doubt whatsoever as to any issue.

The largest majority cast for any one question on the ballot was on the proposed amendment to the city charter to make it conform to the state law insofar as municipal elections are concerned. This was passed 152 to 22, and provides that regular city elections shall be held biennially, at the same time that the state balloting is done, and that the mayor, treasurer and all six councilmen shall be elected at that time.

Of the greatest moment was the budget for the coming year, which, augmented by the present year's deficit and accumulated deficits of past years for running expenses, reached a total of $51,010. This estimate was passed 131 to 34, and another financial measure, voted down earlier in the year, calling for a $5000 bond issue to provide a rotating fund for city improvements, was carried, 130 to 39.

Although last on the ballot, the $3000 library appropriation carried by the second largest majority of any measure on the ticket, 149 affirmative votes being cast, with only 27 negative. The money thus provided for is to go toward the maintenance of a Carnegie library for Bend, the county court having agreed to appropriate a similar amount for the same purpose.

BOOZE RUNNERS FIND WORK IS TOO HAZARDOUS

CENTRAL OREGON WAY NOW UNPOPULAR.

LONG VIGIL IS IN VAIN

Sheriff Roberts and Constable Nixon Watch Roads for Week, but Find All Northbound Autos Empty —Liquor May Be Cashed.

After a week of patrolling the various roads of Central Oregon by which it would be possible to bring liquor in from the south, Sheriff S. E. Roberts and Constable L. A. W. Nixon have come to the conclusion that the whiskey running business isn't what it used to be. Where loads of liquid contraband were being picked up a few weeks ago with comparatively little difficulty, the two officers didn't even smell a broken bottle, Sheriff Roberts reported on his return this morning.

Smugglers' Risk Great.
The game is no longer worth the candle, one chronic bootlegger told the officials after they had stopped his northbound car and found it empty. Two weeks before he had gone to California with $5000 which he intended to invest in a stock of wet goods. The liquor was in California all right, and it had dropped 50 per cent. in price on account of the rapidly approaching war-time prohibition, but close watch being kept along all roads through Central Oregon by county, state and federal officials acted as a powerful deterrent, and the man who had set out to bring in a record shipment decided to let the stuff remain in California.

Much Liquor Thought Cashed.
Numerous tips were given the officials, that loaded cars were coming, but in every instance investigation proved that the imagination of the informer had merely been working overtime. It is quite possible, Mr. Roberts states, that a number of caches may have been made in the vicinity of La Pine and Crescent earlier in the year, at a time when a large share of the cars making the hard trip through the California line through Central Oregon were loaded with liquor, but he believes that no attempt will be made to remove the contents for six or eight weeks at least. As for the possibility of any more shipments from the south—well, war-time prohibition goes into effect tomorrow, and will make the moving of liquor from state to state a highly hazardous undertaking.

Fifteen Cases Stolen.
To one cache where liquor had been hidden, Sheriff Roberts and Mr. Nixon were guided by the owner of the whiskey, which he said totalled 15 cases, but the whiskey was gone, and had apparently been taken only a few minutes before their arrival. According to the story told them by their guide, he had traveled behind another liquor laden car which had come in from California two weeks before. The leading car, on approaching Crescent, was warned that officials were on the road and immediately dashed off into the sagebrush, returning with no cargo, to warn the
