

You asked her to share your home but you've given her a Rented House

Remember with what joy you and your sweetheart talked over plans for a home? You had great hopes then, and of course you wanted a HOME OF YOUR OWN. But you've put it off and gone on from day to day in a rented house. Your wife isn't satisfied, and neither are you.

Do it Today

The longer you put it off the harder it will be. Own a own home now while your family is with you and you can enjoy it together. Make up your mind to give your wife her heart's desire. Of course she wants a home!

Have You Thought?

Why do you go on year after year paying money into your landlord's pocket? He's becoming rich! But what are you or your family getting out of it? The rent you've paid out since you were married would have paid for a HOME and all you have is a bunch of RENT RECEIPTS

You know how much they'd like a home of their very own. Would you build them one if the way were made clear to you--financially?

You bought liberty bonds and paid for them in spite of the high cost of living. Couldn't you buy a lot in the same way? It would be a bond of future liberty from landlords.
