Hearn's Dislikes.
 According to his Japanese widow, the erratic but brilliant American writer, Lafcadio Hearn, "disliked liars, abuse of the weak, Prince Albert coats, the city of New York, and many other things." He was fond of the sea and swimming, "lonely cemeteries," ghost stories, Martell and of beefsteak and plum pudding.
Worst Enemy of Birds.
 The great horned owl is the worst of the owl family as a destroyer of game and poultry. He even extends his depredations to rabbits and other fur-bearing animals, and if he discovers the sleeping place of a covey of quail he will clean them up to the last bird.

GRAND THEATER.

cheap music hall in London, meets Merryon, on leave from service in India on the night of the fire which separates her from her husband who has beaten her for fancied attentions from another man; how the safety curtain shuts off her escape and her life, until Merryon leaps to her aid, is endangered; how she reads of Vulcan's death in the papers and consents to a marriage with Merryon with whom she goes to India; how she realizes that the reports of Vulcan's death may be false, as her own name is on the list of the dead; how Vulcan, who is alive, comes to claim her, and rather than ruin the man she loves she returns to him, just as he is dying of the plague; and finally how Puck is released from him and free to return to the man she loves, all go to make up the thrilling incidents in Norma Talmadge's latest picture, "The Safety Curtain," which will be shown at the Grand theater Thursday matinee and evening and Friday matinee.

LIBERTY.

Of the books that Hall Caine has written "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," is considered his greatest. This picture will be seen tomorrow afternoon and evening and Monday evening. As told by Nance O'Neill in the book the story is gripping. It is the marriage problem play, dealing with a girl who married a man she not even respected to say nothing about loved. Her life, from the day of her marriage, was unhappy. She married this man to satisfy her father's lust for power. She sacrificed her youth and happiness to satisfy the aim of a parent. It is a very gripping story.
 On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings John Barrymore will be seen in drama--this time in the story based upon E. Phillip Openheim's book "The Malefactor." The title of the play is "The Test of Honor." In this play is presented the choice of whether the man himself should choose jail sentence for a crime he did not commit, or cause to be sent to jail the woman he loved. John Barrymore, although his usual run of plays are in comedy, is unusually strong in this drama.

For Friday night, Saturday matinee and evening Nazmova will be seen again in one of her powerful and interesting dramas, "The Toys of Fate."

U. S. WAR SILK INTO PEACE FROCKS

Eighteen million yards of all at a bargain price makes it seem probable that the fall will be season of "rustles." This silk has been thrown on the market by the War Department--a special all made for wrapping cartridge bags but not now needed. Col. E. I. Garrison of the department has this frock of the silk made up to his secretary to prove its uses. It will likely retail at about $2 a yard. The bids were opened at Washington July 10, after which it will be decided how the millions of yards will be marketed. So it may be expected the women should prepare for a fall year when wholesalers dictate the fashion for fall, winter and spring.

To see the other John Barrymore, the comedian, theater goers will have a chance when they see him in "Are You a Mason?" at the Liberty, Thursday night, only. The humor generated by the play is the result of genuinely funny action. A young married man, who is anxious to go about in the evenings, leads his trusting young wife to believe that he is a grand master of the Masons. His new father-in-law practices, the same deception, but neither suspects the other and both avoid each other for the fear of being exposed. A bona-fide Mason invites the wives of the two delinquents to an entertainment of the lodge. At the same time the old offender arranges to visit his daughter, which fact is communicated to the younger bogus Mason, to his intense disgust and frantic fear. The entanglements which follow produce much amusement.
 John Barrymore is at his best in the role of the deceiving young Mason. Among the cast Ida Waterman, who plays the irate mother-in-law, with just the right touch of humor, and Charles Dickson as the bogus Grand Master, are particularly prominent.
 With this feature will be shown the last episode of "The Man of Might."

For the lovers of the steering wheel, the clutch and fast driving, Wallace Reid will have several thrills for those who see him in "The Roaring Road." In this picture the famous Santa Monica race course is used. The story deals with the ride a man makes to obtain the girl he loves. Aside from the story there are thrills for the man who loves automobiling. With this feature, which will be shown on Friday and Saturday nights will be shown a Mack Sennett comedy, "When Love is Blind."
 Oh, for an Accident.
 Some diplomatists seem to achieve great success simply by sitting tight and letting matters take their own course, something after the manner of the Arkansas farmer who retired in disgust, saying he believed he could make more money by accident than he could by farming.--Kansas City Star.

Traveling Fingers.
 Typists' fingers are the most amazing travelers' in creation, and are capable of going tremendous distances without the fatigue that would come to the feet and legs in performing a similar journey. In ordinary typewriting the hand may travel, according to an expert, 10,000 miles a year and not indicate any impairment in efficiency. This refers, of course to the average typist in an office.

South China's Administrative City.
 Canton is the chief Chinese administrative and commercial city of South China. It is situated inland from Hongkong, 95 miles by water and 112 miles by rail, and is located in the fertile Canton delta country, in which converge the West, North and East rivers. In foreign trade Canton ranks third among Chinese ports, being exceeded in volume by Shanghai and Dairen.

Washing Enamel.
 All dirty marks on white enamel should be rubbed with a piece of flannel moistened with methylated spirit. Then wash the enamel with warm soapy water, dry and rub with a flannel sprinkled with whiting. Polishing with a dry duster completes the process. White enamel furniture treated in this way from time to time retains its brightness for a long period.

Knew What He Meant.
 My three year old boy noticed all the others on leaving the party speak to their hostess, so when his turn came he looked up with a most engaging smile and said, "Haven't we had a terrible time?"--Exchange.

A TOUCH OF ANGORA FOR COOL WINDS

The pattern of gray angora at hem and throat gives this new green tricolette a rakish fall appeal which with light wrap or fur can well travel on into the first chilly days of Indian summer. The big hat--modified a bit in size but decked in sharp angles of airy plumes still rules in midday's hat world. Maybe the velvet and beaver models will later arrive but for early wear lighter materials prevail.
