

FIGHT WAGED ON BLACKLEG

500 DOSES OF VACCINE RECEIVED IN BEND TO BE ADMINISTERED TO CATTLE GRAZING ON DRY RANGE.

Five hundred doses of vaccine, to be used in fighting the epidemic of blackleg which has broken out on the range between Fort Rock and Brothers, have just been received by the First National Bank from the State Livestock Sanitary board, and will be distributed free among stockmen who are desirous of vaccinating. The bank's vaccine syringes are being loaned out in an effort to expedite the work. Approximately 700 head of cattle will be treated, according to R. A. Ward, in charge of this department at the bank.

While blackleg has been supposed to be confined to rich highly fertilized pastures, and marshy meadow land, the disease has broken out in a virulent form on the dry range, and stockmen have already lost a considerable number of cattle. All the vaccine available was used, and a fresh order wired in to the State Livestock Sanitary board headquarters in Salem.

Losses among cattle infected with blackleg will ordinarily run over three per cent, but among vaccinated stock this is reduced to less than one-tenth of one per cent. Stock under two years of age should be inoculated twice a year.

The vaccination now being carried on, will when completed, make 2600 head of cattle which have been treated with vaccine furnished this season by the bank.

SEX CRIME LAID TO PROHIBITION

[By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.] OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 25.—More sex crimes are being committed in Oakland now than at any other time in its history, according to Captain of Detectives Walter Peterson.

A wave of sex crime is sweeping the entire country, he said, and prohibition is the cause.

"Alcohol deadened desires," declared Peterson. "Since the passing of alcohol sex crimes have greatly increased."

RICHES OFFERED TO OBTAIN WIFE

[By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.] BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 25.—H. C. Wilson has written to the local police, asking them to find his wife, Mrs. Inez Wilson, and send her to him.

To make their job easy, Wilson sent her photograph to the cops, $50 with which to pay her fare and the information that he "has struck it rich in oil and can now give her anything she wants."

GYM CLASSES ANNOUNCED.

LUMBERMEN TO GET NO SPECIAL TRAIN

Members of Logging Congress Who Visit Bend Will Spend Nearly All Day in Woods.

Because it has so far been found impossible to obtain a special train for the Loggers' Congress, the members of which will visit Bend on October 11, it has been necessary to make plans for the entertainment of the guests somewhat less elaborate. Is the statement of A Whinnant, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Bend Commercial club.

The lumbermen, more than 250 of them, will arrive in Bend on the morning train, and will be taken to the various hotels and restaurants for breakfast, meeting immediately afterward at the Pilot Butte Inn. In autos furnished by members of the Commercial club, they will be taken to the logging camps of The Shevlin-Hixon Company. A picnic luncheon will be served at The Tullies.

Driving by way of Spring River, the lumbermen will visit the logging camps of the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Co., returning to Bend in time to take the evening train for Portland.

FORMER INJURIES PRODUCE INSANITY

Cranial injuries received in childhood by Robert G. Bowser, of the Tumalo section, brought about a mental derangement, and he was adjudged insane today by County Physician R. W. Hendershott. Attendants have been summoned from the state asylum at Pendleton, where the patient will be committed.

Warm and Cool Colors.

The warm or advancing colors, which arouse the senses quickly, are those having yellow or red predominating, as yellow green, yellow orange, orange, red orange, red and red violet. The cool or receding colors, which soothe the nerve senses, are blue and the colors in which blue predominates, as blue green, green violet and blue violet. They are called cool colors because of their association with water, ice and the sky.

ENFORCEMENT CLAUSES SHOWN

have committed an act of war against all other members of the League, which hereby undertake immediately to subject it to a boycott and a blockade, and to do certain other things. Now it must be observed that this sanction is automatic on the part of the members of the League. In case of a resort to war contrary to the Covenant, they undertake jointly and severally to subject the offending nation to the prescribed penalty immediately—not if and when directed by the Council. That body has no power to order or to release the obligation which is made by the members, not with it but with one another as a mutual guarantee. If France, for example, should be attacked by Germany, she would have a right to call upon us, and all other members of the League, to sever all trade and intercourse with Germany, and we should be bound by the Covenant to do whatsoever the Council might think. The obligation is absolute, and the Council has nothing to do with the matter, except to recommend what, if any, military and naval forces the members of the League shall severally contribute.

The members of the League agree that an attack made in disregard of the Covenant upon any one of them shall be deemed an act of war against all of them. This, while justifying any of them in going to war with the aggressor, does not oblige them to do so; but they do agree to subject it to treatment closely akin to war; and also to give to any of their number that is actually engaged in the war aid that by international law is given only to a co-belligent. They agree to boycott the offender, completely, to blockade it by sea and land, to support one another financially, economically and in resisting any special measures aimed at one of their number, and to afford a passage through their territory to the troops of any of the members that are fighting the offender.

Might Be Made Stronger.

To some people it would seem better to have agreed baldly that all the members of the League should immediately declare war on the aggressor. The situation would thus have been more plain, although it would not in fact have been very different. If the aggressor were a small country a pacific blockade would be enough, and other military operations by the members of the League, or at least by those at a distance, would not be needed, either under the Covenant or under an express agreement to declare war. If, on the other hand, the aggressor were a large and powerful nation the measures required by the Covenant would practically be certain to bring about shortly collisions and actual war with all the principal members of the League. There is, indeed, a distinct advantage in providing for an immediate declaration of war. The object of the sanction is not to punish, but to deter; and the greater certainty of meeting with an irresistible armed force the less the danger that any ill-disposed nation will venture to precipitate a conflict. The proposed defensive alliance of England, France and the United States against Germany would have that effect.

Put it in The Bulletin.

These Critics "Ultra-Pacifists" Other people criticize the Covenant from the opposite standpoint. They complain that it may bring us into a war in the causes of which we are not directly concerned and that our young men may be sacrificed in foreign quarrels. Often without being conscious of it, these critics are ultra-pacifists, for they shrink from using the force necessary to prevent war in the world. They are like people who should object to a police force created to maintain order in the streets for fear that the policemen might get hurt. If we believe in preventing war we must use the means necessary to do so. We must insure against a larger one.
