Trade is Sought. OPERATORS OF MINES TO MEET

WILSON AND MARSHALL INVITED TO ATTEND ST. LOUIS "ROUND TABLE" TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 17.

[By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.] ST. LOUIS, Oct. 24.—An unofficial "round table" industrial conference opens here November 17, with the first session of the annual convention of the American Mining Congress.

The industrial convention will be in session five days. Plans are under way for the greatest industrial gathering in history.

President Wilson and Vice-president Marshall have been invited to gather with capital, labor and the public here to lend an official tone to the decisions on social and labor unrest.

The American Mining Congress plans to bring together all conflicting interests at the discussion. Through discussion and deliberation it hopes to reach conclusions and definite policies of capital and labor to allay present unrest.

Increased production of coal, metal and oil, will be attempted. "So long as production of coal, metal and oil are upon a minimum level, with maximum costs of labor, supplies and transportation, so long will complex readjustment problems grow more difficult."

Inflation of currency, "labor radicals" continuing to demand nationalization of basic industries and labor demands for shorter hours, were indicated by Kavanaugh as reasons for the existing situation.

HEAVY SNOWS CLOSE SHOWS AT CARNIVAL

FIVE INCHES FALLS DURING NIGHT

FAIR IS POSTPONED

Shows Will Open Again Tonight With Winter Features, and Fireworks Display Will be Given This Evening.

The first real snow of the season came last night, and before the white drifting flakes had ceased to fall, a covering five inches in depth lay on the ground. Although unusually early for this altitude, the snow had apparently come to stay for a while from heavily travelled roads and walks, there was little melting after the storm really commenced.

Carnival Features Halted.

To the carnival company here in connection with the Revellie Week celebration, the storm was viewed with dismay, and the proprietors of the various concessions, and performers in the shows closed up their establishments and sought their hotels early in the evening.

The display of fireworks, to have been set off from Awbrey Heights, was postponed when the air became so full of flying particles of crystallized vapor as to be almost opaque, but this feature will be given tonight instead, it was announced. The drills to have been staged by the Bend Volunteer fire department, will not be put on, as a further result of the storm.

Notices were sent out today by R. A. Ward and J. Alton Thompson, members of the industrial club fair committee, to children who were planning to exhibit livestock and specimens of their work in domestic science, announcing that the fair set for tomorrow will not be held on account of the snow.

The storm was by no means general, for although six inches fell in the Paulina mountains, none was recorded at Crescent, it was reported at Deschutes National Forest headquarters this morning. On the high desert none was falling yesterday, afternoon at a time when the storm was well under way in Bend.
