FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1919

TO THE PUBLIC.

From the United States Council of National Defense, consisting of the secretaries of War, the Navy, the Interior, Agriculture, Commerce, and Labor there has come a "Statement Concerning the High Cost of Living" which we are asked to publish. We gladly comply with the request and present the statement herewith.

"To the Public:
"The United States Council of National Defense, composed of the Secretaries of War, Navy, Interior, Agriculture, Commerce, and Labor, has made a careful investigation of the high-cost-of-living problem, and finds:

That the Nation's productive powers have not been fully utilized since the armistice.

That too few goods, notably the necessities of life, have been produced, and that even some of these goods have been withheld from the market, and therefore from the people.

That the high cost of living is due in part to unavoidable war waste and increase of money and credit.

That there has been and is considerable profiteering, intentional and unintentional.

"The Council believes that the remedies for the situation are:

To produce more goods, and to produce them in proportion to the needs of the people.

To stamp out profiteering and stop unnecessary hoarding.

To enforce vigorously present laws and promptly to enact such further new laws as are necessary to prevent and punish profiteering and needless hoarding.

To bring about better cooperation and method in distributing and marketing goods.

To keep both producer and consumer fully informed as to what goods are needed and as to what supplies are available, so that production may anticipate the country's demands.

"Goods and not money are the means of life. Better standards of living are impossible without producing more goods. Man can not consume what has not been produced.

"At the war's end our Allies had desperate need of the essentials of life. We have had to share our resources with them, but this drain will gradually lessen. In so far as our shortage of goods is due to this cause we can well afford to be patient.

"It is just as essential that we have patience with the economic situation here at home. The process of production requires time. If production is rapidly increased, vastly improved conditions will prevail in America when the results of present and future labor begin to appear.

"Team work is imperative. It is just as essential between retailer, wholesaler, and producer as it is between employer and employee. One group of producers cannot wait on another group. The manufacturer the farmer, the distributor must each immediately assume his part of the burden and enter upon his task. The Nation can not afford curtailment of goods vital to the people.

"On American business rests a grave responsibility for efficient co-operation in bringing about full and proportionate production. On American labor rests an equally grave responsibility for efficient team unit production and maintain uninterrupted distribution of goods if labor itself is not to suffer from further rises in the cost of living.

"The entire Nation—producer, and consumer alike—should return to the unity that won the war. Group interest and undue personal gain must give way to the good of the whole country if the situation is to be squarely met.

"Our common duty now, fully as much as in the war, is to work and to save. In other words of the President in his address to the country on August 25, 1919, only 'by increasing production, and by to save. In the words of the part of the people, can we hope for large decreases in the burdensome cost of living which now weighs us down.'"

"Work, save, co-operate, produce."

Our Terrebonne items report that an eastern sugar company has ordered several carloads of silica from the Lower Bridge mines. Apparently the sugar famine is to be broken.

Wednesday night's snow and rain will not make it any easier to harvest the potato crop.

Those diving girls will have to be also ice breakers, also.

So this is October.

Riot Starts When Attempt is Made to Prevent Longshoremen From Returning to Jobs.

[By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Two clashes between the police and sympathizers with the striking longshoremen occurred here today following the attempts by groups of pier workers to return to their jobs. Many rioters were clubbed.

Industries are like orchards

THEY have to be fostered, cared for and encouraged until they get a good start. But once they start to bear fruit, they are the source of wealth and prosperity for all of us. Industries are no longer for the autocrats and the "landed gentry." Fundamentally they benefit the workers—they make jobs—they give us all the opportunity to earn a good living and to advance and prosper in proportion to our ability, energy and ambition. America is a great country because of her great industries. Oregon is rapidly becoming a great state because of her great industries.

Let us—all the people of Oregon—pull together, to make Oregon's industries bigger and better.

PHONE SYSTEM GROWS RAPIDLY

MORE THAN THREE TIMES AS MANY INSTRUMENTS IN USE AS THREE YEARS AGO, SAYS J. L. GAITHER.

Rapid growth in the Bend telephone system since 1916 was shown today in figures made public by Manager J. L. Gaither of the local telephone company, which give a total of 556 instruments in use in the city at the present time, with 141 rural phones, as against 170 in Bend and 40 in the rural districts at the time that Mr. Gaither was placed in charge of the business of the company here three years ago. A shortage of raw materials and lack of switchboard facilities is now preventing a considerable growth in the scope of the local system, Mr. Gaither states, but he considers that within a reasonable length of time, the necessary improvements can be made to take care of the needs of prospective subscribers.

It was learned on good authority that approximately 25 applications for phones are now on file, and that an additional number sufficient to bring the total to more than 100 would be anxious to sign up if they were assured that connections could be made.

No Instrument Shortage.
When asked concerning the unsatisfied demand for telephone service, Mr. Gaither stated that there is no shortage of telephone instruments, as has been frequently reported, but that inability to secure additional switchboard fixtures is the chief cause of the inability of the local office to keep pace with demand. "Surplus stock of this kind was used up during the war, not only because of government orders, but also because manufacturers turned their attention to the production of other commodities more urgently needed at the time," he said. "It should also be recognized that the stock of raw material including copper, iron, steel, wire, and zinc, used in the manufacture of supplies of which we are now in need, were in great de-which were partially deprived of mand for munitions of war of various kinds, and in consequence, the amount of these raw materials on hand is not yet adequate to fill the needs in the many lines of industry them during the war. When conditions governing production are back to normal, a considerable increase in the number of telephone users in Bend may be expected."

PRINEVILLE TO PLAY IN BEND TOMORROW

Hard Fought Game Predicted on Depot Grounds—Junior High Elevens to Stage Contest.

Bend's big football game of the season will be played tomorrow afternoon when the Prineville high school team will come to this city for its return contest against Coach Moore's eleven. The first game, played in Prineville, resulted in a victory for the Crook county players, and the Bend squad has been put through a stiff course of sprouts within the last week with the intention of turning the tables on the visitors. The game is to be played on the depot grounds, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

A preliminary game will be played between the Bend junior high team, and the Prineville seventh and eighth grade eleven.
