

SHEVLIN-HIXON COMPANY TO GIVE BEAUTY SPOT IN TIMBER TO CITY OF BEND

Strip Along State Highway in Addition to Tumalo Canyon To Be Preserved.

GREAT PUBLIC SERVICE IS MADE THROUGH GIFT

Tract Will Be Dedicated to the Late Thomas L. Shevlin—Suggestion for Memorial Park, Made by F. P. Hixon, Comes Just in Time to Save Timber From Axe and Saw—Large Area Surrounding Ryan Ranch to be Left Untouched.

Through the munificent gift of The Shevlin-Hixon Company the people of Bend are to have a park which will include one of the most beautiful spots in this section. There will also be preserved for the benefit of the public another beautiful timbered location and the strip of timber along The Dalles-California highway through the company's land which will save it from the desolation which has already overtaken the section of the road nearer town.

The park is to include the Tumalo canyon from the fish hatchery to the national forest boundary and will be dedicated as a memorial to the late Thomas L. Shevlin, first president of The Shevlin-Hixon Company, famous Yale athlete, prominent timberman, and friend of Bend and Central Oregon. In the main its side boundaries will be the top of the canyon walls but wherever the road to Broken Top is not too far from the canyon it will be included in the park area.

To make the gift possible the company will be obliged to secure the title to sections of the canyon floor now owned by The Bend Company, L. B. Baird, Chas. Orewiler and A. J. Davidson and negotiations for the purchase have already been begun. All, it is understood, on learning of the use to which the property is to be put have shown a desire to cooperate by placing the lowest possible price on it.

Beauty Spot Preserved.

All who have visited the canyon recognize it as the most beautiful spot there is within easy distance from town and will agree that its preservation for the enjoyment of the public is a service of the highest possible character. In the flats adjoining the creek on the lower section of the proposed park grow quantities of shrubs, grasses and flowers not found on the arid levels above. Fir trees are found among the pine and there are stands of larch, poplar and other deciduous trees.

As an example of what the canyon would be turned into in case it were not preserved as a park there can be seen a 40 acre tract below the former Orewiler mill site. This area was cut over last summer and it now lies bare and brown to the sky, offering a vivid comparison with the adjoining timbered canyon floor. When President F. P. Hixon, of The Shevlin-Hixon Company, suggested a few weeks ago the possible creation of the Shevlin Memorial Park, Messrs Baird and Orewiler were about to begin cutting in the canyon adjoining this 40 acre tract. Advised of the plan they readily consented to move to another location and the rest of the canyon was saved.

Deschutes Valley Timber Spared.

The timber which will be saved from the sweep of the logger through the Deschutes valley is that lying around the Ryan ranch, The Tules, and adjoining Dillon falls. Here all the timber will be spared so that to one standing at the falls it will appear as though there were an unbroken stretch of forest around him.

The suggestion that a timbered strip along the highway should be saved was first made when the mill companies began operation here in 1916 and it became evident that without such timber the highways would lose their great scenic attraction. Nothing was done at that time beyond discussion of the possibility of the plan, but when Stephen Mather, director of the national park service, and his friend Madison Grant, of New York, were here last summer they revived the discussion and urged that action be taken, with the results now announced.

JURY STARTING HANEY MURDER INVESTIGATION

SHOT BY OWN GUARD THEORY

PASSWORD FORGOTTEN

New Facts May be Bought Out However, to Show Death at Hands of Reds—Four Additional Charges to be Filed.

[By United Press to The Bend Bulletin] CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 18.—That John Haney, of Tenino, Wash., was killed by a member of his own posse, and not by Reds, as was at first reported, is the latest development. The body was brought back last night, accompanied by a posse to which Haney belonged.

Members of the party told of dividing into fours as they neared a cabin 23 miles northeast of here where the Reds were thought to be barricaded. They agreed on a password and signals. Haney led one of the groups which shortly met another a short distance from the cabin. He had evidently forgotten the password, for when challenged, he failed to respond. Thinking him a Red, the challenger fired, killing him instantly.

The inquest over John Haney's body this afternoon may establish the fact that he was not killed by members of his own posse as was indicated earlier in the day.

Prosecutor Allen announced that four additional Reds will be charged with murder this afternoon, in connection with the Armistice Day shooting.

JURY VALUES DOG AT $500

HEAVY DAMAGES ALLOWED OWNER FOR ANIMAL SHOT BY SHEP HERDER—GUS NELSON CASE IN COURT TODAY.

Five hundred dollars was the value set by a Deschutes county Circuit court jury last night on a sheep dog formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Eaton, of La Pine. At any rate, that was the amount of damages awarded in the suit brought by the Eatons against Jerry Murphy and Joe Lake, who killed the animal when it chased sheep belonging to Peter Murphy, by whom they were employed.

According to William and Vernon Masten, eye witnesses of the affair, the dog had torn one of the sheep badly and was worrying it when the herders took a hand. E. L. Clark, La Pine Justice of the Peace, and Sheriff S. E. Roberts testified that it had been previously established that the dog had chased the Murphy sheep. Mr. and Mrs. Eaton told of the high value which they had set upon the pet, and W. P. Myers, attorney for the plaintiffs, played upon the emotions of the jury when he delivered an eloquent tribute enumerating the virtues of the deceased. The verdict was returned only a few minutes after instructions by the court.

R. S. Hamilton and E. O. Stadter, who represented the defense, will ask for a judgement aside from the verdict, and if unsuccessful in this will appeal, basing their case on the testimony offered yesterday, and the state law.

Another of yesterday's cases which was concluded last night, was that against P. C. Hardy, who was found not guilty of larceny. The case against Gus Nelson, charged with a statutory crime against the minor daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Penney, started this morning and was expected to go to the jury late this afternoon.

DEEP WELL TO SOLVE DRY RANGE PROBLEM

Contract Awarded by Forest Service for Drilling in the Fort Rock Section.

N. G. Jacobson, as supervisor of the Deschutes National Forest, signed a contract this morning with John M. Perry for the drilling of a well which is expected to reach a depth of from 400 to 500 feet, near Roberts Cabin, 23 miles northeast of Fort Rock. Steel casing is provided for the well by the forest service. Mr. Perry will start work as soon as he completes a contract with the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Co., probably in about 15 days.

The sinking of the well is an important step in the carrying out of the forest service program for increasing the available range. Thousands of acres tributary to Fort Rock cannot now be used because of the lack of water.

CUMMINS RATE BILL STOPPED BY PRESIDENT

STATE CLAUSE CAUSE OF DEFEAT

U. S. RULE NEAR END

President Indicates That He Has Not Changed Mind Concerning Turning Over Roads To Private Ownership on First of Year.

[By United Press to The Bend Bulletin] WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—President Wilson today vetoed the Cummins rate bill, which would have restored the interstate commerce commission to its pre-war power over railroad rates. Under government control the president has had the power to make rates and has made several upward revisions.

The Cummins bill would have forced the president, through the railroad administration, to go before the interstate commerce commission, just as the railroads themselves did before federal control.

The Cummins bill would have forced those in charge of the railroads under federal control to seek the approval of various state railroad commissions in matters affecting inter-state traffic. The president, during the war, had the same power over interstate and intrastate rates. The provision returning the power of rate review back to the state commissions, caused the president's veto.

It is said that he had no objection to restoring the pre-war powers of the interstate commission. The veto also spoke of the short time remaining for federal control, indicating that the president hasn't changed his mind about turning the roads back to private ownership on January 1.

With the railroad bill sent to the senate, the house expects to end its special session tonight. Formal adjournment will not come until the formal consent of the senate is obtained, probably the latter part of next week, but about 200 members are already on the way to their homes.

PENNANT GAME TO BE FRIDAY

BEND AND PRINEVILLE, EACH VICTOR OVER THE OTHER, TO PLAY DECIDING COTEST ON REDMOND FIELD.

To decide the championship of Central Oregon in football, the Bend and Prineville high school teams will meet Friday afternoon on the Redmond gridiron. It was announced this morning by Principal Johnson, of the Bend school. The two teams stand at the head of the percentage column, and each has won from the other. Bend taking the long end of the score when playing here, while Prineville won when the game was staged in the Crook county seat. It is for this reason that neutral territory has been chosen for the deciding contest.

Both the Redmond and Prineville merchants will close their stores on Friday, and a similar request is to be made here through the Commercial club. A large delegation of fans is expected to make the trip to Redmond.

Because of the splendid showing in Friday's contest. Brilliant open field running by Brosterhous and line plunging by Coynes were features of the week end game. The forward pass was used by the locals with excellent results.
