

ALLIES ADOPT NEW ATTITUDE TOWARD SLAVS

BLOCKADE IS ORDERED REMOVED

TRADE NOW POSSIBLE

New Policy of Supreme Council Not Thought to be Recognition of Soviet, But Merely of Purchasing Organizations.

PARIS, January 17.—The allies have apparently adopted a completely new attitude toward Russia. The supreme council announced today that the blockade against that country will be lifted immediately.

The council decreed, according to a communique, to give Russian cooperative societies facilities necessary to permit the importation and distribution of merchandise, as well as cereals, linseed oil, wood, and other Russian products.

It is believed in some quarters that the new policy does not mean any change in the attitude toward the soviet government. It is pointed out that the allies may hope to deal directly with the cooperative societies, ignoring the government.

TO CONSTRUCT TWO GARAGES

STONE BUILDING TO BE SPACIOUS

L. L. Fox Will Erect Second Largest Auto Store House in Oregon With Floor Space of 14,000 Square Feet.

Two garages with a total ground floor space of 26,500 square feet will be erected in Bend this year, one by L. L. Fox, former proprietor and operator of the Pioneer Auto Store & Truck Company, and the other by local capital, representatives of which desire their names for the present to be withheld.

The former structure will more than cover the ground now occupied by the Pioneer Garage Company on Bond street with a frontage of 100 feet and extending back for 140 feet. It will be constructed of stone and will have all the necessary conveniences of a modern garage such as large, well lighted display and sales rooms, rest rooms and repair shop. The floor will be of concrete. According to Mr. Fox the new structure will be the second largest garage in Oregon.

The builders of the second garage state that erection of the building will begin within the next two months. Its location is on Greenwood avenue, near the north end of Bond street. It will have a frontage of 100 feet on Greenwood and will extend north to a depth of 125 feet. There will be a show and sales room with an 80 foot frontage and a drive way 20 feet wide entering from Greenwood avenue. It will also have a large and complete repair shop. The structure will be built of stone taken from the property. It is understood that two Bend garages are negotiating for the lease of this building as soon as it is erected.

Of interest to automobile owners, tourists and automobile dealers come the announcement of the purchase of the lot at the northeast corner of Wall and Greenwood avenues, 70 by 125 feet by W. R. Speck, local representative of the Standard Oil Company, who has given a five-year lease on the property to W. H. Manwaring, of Marshfield, Oregon, formerly associated with William Swaggert Co. It is Mr. Manwaring's intention to begin at once the erection of Bend's first exclusive automobile service station. The ground will be cleared and a station of cut stone and attractive design will be erected, conforming in most details to the architecture to the Pilot Butte Inn, located across the street. Drives will be made for the conveniences of automobilists and the ground will be planted to lawn and made attractive.

CITY LIBRARY NOW NO MORE

PROPERTY GIVEN TO COUNTY BOARD

Warrant Received in Payment For Rock Crusher — Bend Company to Aid in Bridge Construction.

Work of the city council last night was devoted chiefly to cleaning up old business, three ordinances being passed to transfer of the city library property to the county library board, to extend the fire limits, and to order the improvement of East Third street. The sale of the rock crusher was also completed, for Engineer Robert B. Gould reported that he had received from the city of Seaside a warrant in the sum of $2034.23 in payment of the garbage collection problem, and the question as to where a nest house should be erected, were virtually the only matters remaining unsettled, and these were both referred to the health committee.

Councilman Rhodes reported that in regard to the financing of the new footbridge, the Bend company would take city warrants up to $1000.00 to take care of labor costs, and that the company would be willing to lease or rent a right of way for a walk on the east side of the bridge. City Engineer Gould, stated that the bridge is to be of rustic type, and that poles for its construction are now being cut.

Complaints that a plank walk taken from Drake road, had been laid down on Newport avenue, brought from Engineer Gould a promise that the walk would be replaced at once. The matter of improvement of the streets of the business section was introduced, and was combated vigorously by Councilman McPherson. "As long as we have the present type of street surfacing, it's just pouring money down a rat hole," he declared. "We need hard surfacing in the business district, and the worse the streets are allowed to become, the more keenly will the need for a pavement be felt."

A collection of old weapons and curios, purchased by the city some nine years ago, and which has been stored in the library for several years past, was brought to the attention of the council, and the public property committee was instructed to take an inventory, and put the articles of value in safe keeping.

The council ordered installation of a light at the Pilot Butte canal bridge on Greenwood.

REDMOND WILL GET FAIR UNLESS GOVERNOR VETOES

Unless a veto is given by Governor O'Leary, Redmond, through her representative in the legislature, Denton G. Burdick, has won the fight for the county fair. A wire received in Bend last night from Salem stated that both houses had passed the Burdick bill establishing a fair for Deschutes county, and naming Redmond as the city in which it shall be held. The bill carries an emergency clause, declaring that "it is hereby adjudged and declared that existing conditions are such that this act is necessary for the protection of material interests of the farmers and stock raisers of Deschutes and Crook counties, and an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act shall take effect and be in full force and effect from and after its approval by the governor."

The earlier provisions of the bill referring directly to the Deschutes county fair are as follows:

"The Redmond potato show, held annually at Redmond, Deschutes county, Oregon, is hereby designated and created the county fair of Deschutes county, Oregon, and as such shall be held annually at Redmond, Deschutes county Oregon.

"There is hereby appropriated out of the money in the general fund in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated for the year 1920, for the payment of premiums to be awarded at the said Deschutes county fair to be held during the year 1920 at Redmond, Oregon, the sum of $500, the said amount to be paid over during the year 1920 to the president of the board of directors of the board of directors of the interstate fair association, who, before receiving said sum, shall execute a bond in double

The senate today passed Pierce's income tax bill by a vote of 16 to 12, and adopted the $10,000,000 road bond bill, 22 to six. The resolution endorsing United States Senator McNary's compromise on Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant, was accepted.

NAVAL PROBE IS ADVOCATED BY SENATORS

TESTIMONY OF SIMS ROUSES IRE

OFFICIAL SHIELDED

Admiral Not Ready to Give Name of Navy Department Man Who Warned Him Against British Policies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 17.—A complete investigation of the management of the navy during the war will be asked as the result of disclosures made by Admiral Sims, testifying before the senate subcommittee regarding awards and decorations, members of the committee declared.

Statements by Admiral Sims that he had been left alone in London with only one aide for months after America entered the war, and that his parting instructions were not to let the British "pull the wool over his eyes," so aroused republican members of the committee that they announced that they would go to the full committee for authority to make a sweeping investigation.

"When I was ordered to go to London in 1917," Sims said, "I was told, 'don't let the British pull the wool over your eyes. We don't want to pull their chestnuts out of the fire. Remember, we'd as soon fight the British as the Germans.'"

Sims' disclosure created a sensation. After the hearing he said that his parting instructions had been given "by a person in the navy department," and that he could not tell who it was until members of the committee asked him the question officially.

STOPS DEER CASE IN FEDERAL COURT

Ignorance Pleaded by Fremont Man Alleged to Have Killed Buck Within Game Refuge.

Forest Supervisor N. G. Jacobson announced this morning that he has dismissed the case brought in federal court against J. B. Fox of Fremont, charged with killing a deer within the boundaries of a game refuge. Fox claimed to be ignorant of the fact that he was in the game reserve, and brought the buck to one of the forest service camps a short time afterward. As it is the first case of the kind in regard to this particular game refuge, Mr. Jacobson asked the dismissal of the action but will prosecute vigorously on any subsequent charges of the kind.

The game refuge in question includes townships 20 to 26 south range 12 to 18 east, in the Fort Rock country.

The man who led America's forces overseas will arrive in the city at 12:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, accompanied by his nine staff officers.

The general is making a tour of the country's army posts and cantonments. A military reception will be held at the union station upon the general's arrival. A parade through the business section of the city will follow. Pershing will then be escorted to the Armory, where he will address members of the American Legion. He will be a guest of the Chamber of Commerce at a banquet in the evening, after which a public reception will be held at the public auditorium.

Pershing and his staff will leave Portland at 11 o'clock Sunday night for Camp Lewis. Three days will be spent in the Tacoma-Seattle locality.

It was at the general's own request that arrangements were made for him to talk to the ex-service men. His only other suggestion about his visit to Portland was that he be not asked to make "too many speeches."
