THE COMING OPPORTUNITY.
 The public must be getting rather tired of these frequent announcements from Washington that an immediate investigation of high prices is to be made, and the profiteers hunted down mercilessly. The latest is from the Department of Labor, while before that the Department of Justice announced with painful regularity that it was investigating, or about to start to investigate, or that it had a drag net out, or indictments were brought, or some other form of words that deceived only those who used them.

In spite of all these announced investigations the only change in prices noticeable since the first one was launched is upward. The American people are a patient and long-suffering lot. They will take a lot of promise from their employees in official position but every now and then, when election time rolls around and there has been nothing but promise they do a little performing on their own account. Here's hoping that next time they will select officials who will function otherwise than with the mouth.

It takes more than one swallow to make a summer but so far our winter has consisted of one storm.

"I'm dying for a drink," was a remark made by a chap who could not keep away from the wood alcohol.

COMMUNICATIONS.

BEND-BURNS MAIL ROUTE.

The Editor of The Bend Bulletin: Through your columns, please allow the Burns Commercial club to thank the Bend Commercial club and the energetic community for the very earnest assistance rendered us in this much to be desired improvement in mail service. I noticed in your paper a caption "Bend-Burns Route Given Body Blow" but we were not counted out and have come back stronger than ever and may win the bout. Our friends, Senators Chamberlain and McNary and our very energetic and conscientious worker, Representative Sinnott are at the ringside and the following tells the tale:

The Fourth Postmaster General in the first instance, after a petition was made for the establishment of the route by the Bend and Burns commercial clubs, turned down the proposition on account of excessive cost and on the ground that under the law the postmaster general is required to have due regard to productiveness of postal revenue when considering the question of establishing or rearranging Star route service. However, E. C. Jones, the secretary of the Commercial club, kept the matter moving and having received the endorsement of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, the Portland Chamber of Commerce, petitions from merchants in the city of Burns, Surtex, Riley, etc., which were sent to Washington, and the following letters speak for themselves:

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—My dear Mr. Jones: I have yours of December 27th with your carefully worked out reply brief on the Bend-Burns mail route matter and also petitions.

I am taking the matter up today personally with Superintendent Wood of the rural mail division and urging him as strongly as I possibly can that he personally review the whole situation and carefully consider all points which you bring out so well in your excellently prepared brief. I am asking him to establish this service and hope that we may be successful altho the department is apt to adhere to a position they

Wheels and Legs
 My auto's beastly hard to start, and every day it breaks my heart. All frozen are its greasy works, and when it goes it goes with jerks that nearly dislocate my spine, and throw my false teeth out of line. It takes an hour to get her warm, with all her works in proper form, and if I stop her for a while she jerks along another mile; she humps and bucks and throws a fit, until my diaphragm is split. And often, as she jerks along, with half her spark plugs acting wrong, I vow I'll send her to the block, and use my good fat legs and walk. Ah, then, I fully realize that walking is the exercise that braces up old flabby men, and makes their sinews young again. Dame Nature gave us legs and feet that we might use them and repeat; and using them brings back the glow of flawless health we used to know, restores the color of our hair, and makes us fit to cope with care. Such thoughts as these my head beguile; but when I've walked for half a mile, I sadly sigh, "I've had enough! The old gas buggy is the stuff! She's cranky as a bucking bronch, her plugs won't spark, her horn won't honk, her tires are flat, her springs are lame, and still she gets there just the same!"

once take in such matters. Very truly yours,
 N. J. SINNOTT.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—My dear Mr. Jones: It gives me special pleasure to inform you that I learn this morning from the fourth postmaster general that in view of the showing made in your excellent letter brief, and the other matters I presented to Superintendent Wood of the division of rural mails, that the fourth assistant postmaster general has decided to refer the entire matter of the establishment of the Star route between Burns and Bend to the chief inspector with the request for a personal investigation and report by representative of the department.

I hope this will result in an action such as we both desire. Very truly,
 N. J. SINNOTT.

While we are working all the strings we possibly can from this end, we trust that Bend will still continue to do what they can to bring this town nearer civilization. Thanking you,
 BURT C. JONES,
 Secretary Commercial Club.

STATE CONSTABULARY MAKES FOR NEW POLICY IN IDAHO

veloped quickly in northern Idaho, the constabulary, by giving instructions to police officers, as well as by augmenting its state force, was able to cope with the situation.

"The attitude of the bureau and its aggressive policy of ridding the state of this undesirable element, stimulated local and county units to greater activity.

"The state established the policy that it could not handle the menace

Might as well try to make a duck carry an umbrella as to make a "Red-Blooded" boy wear Rubbers. They're too much bother and half the time he forgets them.
 A little BERGMANN SHOE OIL applied to the boy's shoes, water-proofs them, makes them soft and pliable, and greatly increases their wearing qualities.

by merely prodding members of the I. W. W. to move on into other states. Its policy called for the arrest of I. W. W. everywhere. Furthermore, the constabulary organization offered to county prosecutors every possible assistance in obtaining and developing evidence."

KROENERT SEEKS DIVORCE.

In a suit recently filed in Portland, Andrew J. Kroenert, of Bend, seeks a divorce from Alice Kroenert. The cause for action is not known.

BATTLE BETWEEN TOOTH PASTES

Who Will Settle the Argument—Let Your Druggist Be the Referee.

It must be perplexing to the reader to decide which of the claims are logical and which are unsupported when he reads the glowing advertisements of the various manufacturers of Tooth Paste. One maker's product lays stress on the flavor. Another claims to "remove the film." Still another leaves a "clean feeling." Another calls attention to the teeth of wild animals and is reputed to be highly antiseptic.

After reading all carefully, the intelligent person decides to refer the matter to the court of last resort for the true answer. The druggist is the one whom the physicians and dentist relies upon to furnish expert advice on the action of chemicals. Why, therefore, is he not the person for you to trust? Long years of patient training and a knowledge of the relative value of the various ingredients in all chemical products have fitted him to express an opinion. He knows because he is qualified to know.

Something over 28,000 druggists and physicians in this country belong to national association known as the American Druggists Syndicate. The national formula committee of this great association met annually in conference for 10 consecutive years in order to select the best formulas for household remedies to be manufactured in their own great laboratories maintained at Long Island City.

One of their well known preparations is A.D.S. Peredixo Tooth Paste which has been endorsed by leading dentists in every state of the nation. Your druggist will tell you that it enjoys a fast repeating sale and its claim as a perfect product is briefly stated when he tells you that "besides doing all that any other tooth paste can do, Peredixo whitens like peroxide."

Large production of this remarkable preparation enables you to still purchase the large tube at the old price—25 cents. Try a tube today and be convinced. Adv.

 Following a settlement of the case brought against J. L. Freeman of Silver Lake, charged with issuing a check for which insufficient funds were on deposit, the action brought in Justice court has been continued indefinitely.
