THE FAIR

Judging by the way the subscriptions have poured in since Monday morning, by tonight there will have been pledged the $20,000 which the directors of the Commercial Club have set as the amount that Bend should offer for the establishment of the Deschutes county fair here. The raising of such a sum goes far toward removing the charge of indifference and of dog in the manger attitude with which the town has hitherto been chargeable.

Once the machinery was set in motion the town showed in a remarkably speedy manner that it was interested in the support of a fair. Since The Bulletin's criticism has been that there was no interest the fair away from Redmond, it is to the excellent quality of the pota- make the total number of cars loadshown before other than to keep dicated by the subscription.

Bend is a square shooting contender two miles from Bend. in the field against Redmond, there remains only to be considered the on a good one.

The $20,000 subscription is Bend's bid to the farmer to favor her for the fair. Other considerations which ought to have weight are the various projects for the benefit of the farmers set in motion in the past year by the Bend banks. While these have been matters of individual business initiative rather than of community activity they have served to tie to the town certain lines of agricultural development, especially the pure bred livestock business, which should have weight in the decision.

Indeed, with the money for a fair subscribed, the town may well go ahead to secure grounds, erect buildings and plan an exhibition. Whether this is or is not called the county fair is of little importance. There should be an airplane landing field. Possibly the experiment station under discussion last year might be connected in some way. There should be especial attention paid to live stock exhibition, with opportunity to hold sales. There should be an athletic field. Other features will develop, and these things can be done, now that the town has shown the necessary interest, without selfish intent and without violating any of the rules of neighborliness or fair play.

Milton 'A. Miller, collector of internal recenue, says that the problems of today are not as great as those of the past. Milt does not have to make out an income tax statement.

Thank God for the hen. Eggs at least have gone down in price.

THE COUNTY FAIR FROM A FARMER'S VIEW POINT

The writer has been impressed by the broad minded attitude of some of Bend's citizens regarding the location of the county fair. Redmond is sincere as are the above mentioned people of Bend in believing that Redmond is the center of an oasis in an otherwise desolate, frosty, and unpeopled county. The writer has more than once heard the query in Redmond what is to become of Rend | Losses paid during the year. in several years when the timber is all cut. Even our repreentative Denton G. Burdick entertains the same

In the Hole

If you're in the hole at present, when the times are brisk and pleasant, and the stream of scads is flowing everywhere, its lustre showing, what will be your situation if a panic hits this nation? If a bigger bill you're running, if you keep the merchants dunning, now that every form of cush is growing thickly on the bushes, where, O neighbor, shall we find you when the hard times come and grind you? Every gent is earning wages never known in bygone ages; situations are a-plenty, for each man are eight or twenty; and there's such a wealth of plunder that we tread the blamed stuff under. Every delegate who's willing has his chance to make a killing, has a chance to store the guilders, like the other fortune builders. If you cannot do some saving, now that all the world is raving in its lust for reckless spending, where, O neighbor, are you wending? To the poorhouse in the valley, where the down-and-outers rally? To the dump where jays are carted when they're strapped and broken hearted?
