THE CHURCHES WAKE UP.

If you want to get anywhere you must first wake up and then start. You will never arrive if you merely walk in your sleep. Probably you will merely stub your toe and then awake to find that you are going in the wrong direction.

This seems to be the idea back of a portion of the program of the Interchurch World movement. As we understand it a number of denominations have united to further the cause of Christianity and as a part of the undertaking they are making a church survey in rural America. The results disclosed are just what the church has been charged with for years past. Having now determined the facts for itself it is to be hoped that it will take up and proceed with its job.

It is no unfriendly critic that has made these results public. They are set forth in an article sent out by the Interchurch movement itself and are therefore of especial weight. The churches are indicting themselves.

This is what the article says: "The survey to date has revealed the fact that the average country church is in no sense reaching the community and is ministering only to a percentage of a certain creed or sect, and also that there are very few buildings in which provision has been made for the social and recreational needs of the young people. The survey has disclosed that more than one-half of the rural pastors are receiving less than a living wage."

Self satisfaction gets one nowhere. Self criticism is a good spur. Having applied the spur the churches should get ahead.

Frank Gilbert, or "Cap," as many of his friends knew him stood out as a man with the most ardent enthusiasm for Bend. He was always bubbling over with his belief in Bend's future. It was almost a mania with him. It is a regret to his friends that he was not spared to see the greater growth that he always prophesied.

In Oregon City the five proposed constitutional amendments and the four millage measures to be submitted to the voters in May are to be debated by the Commercial club. As we have suggested before that would be a good thing for the Bend Commercial club to do.

Hoover is Republican. That settles all the argument. Now it remains to be seen what the Democrats who have been urging his nomination will do.

Fifteen Years Ago

(From the Columns of The Bulletin, March 31, 1905.)

Yesterday a movement for a clubhouse for Bend was started, and within two hours, $300 was subscribed.

J. N. B. and J. O. Gerking, from near Walla Walla, have arrived with their families and taken possession of their lands near Tumalo under the Columbia Southern ditch.

Central Oregon is the field toward which all eyes are turning. No railroad story is now complete that does not have Central Oregon for its aim.

William Buckley, of Pullman, Washington, spent a few days in Bend this week, and started a notable development project. He proposes to plant large areas in apple trees in this section, on contracts that will give him part of the proceeds. He believes this country will produce superior apples.

Notwithstanding that the school district has recently been split in two from the Laidlaw district, there are more than twice as many children of school age in the Bend district than there were last year—200 as against 85.

From Far Away.

Marconi, who is strong in science, and on whose word we place reliance, informs us that some distant planet (whatever kind of critters man it,) is sending signals, almost nightly, attempting patiently, politely, to gain some share of our attention; she has important things to mention. It may be Mars, it may be Venus, which through the reach of space has seen us; it may be Jupiter or Saturn, or planet of a humbler pattern, but some blamed world is wiggling-wagging, and hopes to do some chew-the-ragging. And if at last we make connection with worlds in vertical direction, if distant globes can get together, no doubt they'll talk about the weather. "It looks like rain," I hear Mars calling; "already sundry drops are falling, and from the east the wind is drilling: Old Pluvius will make a killing." And Jupiter, to our inquiring, will say the corn is badly firing. Already we are daily speling with shades through twilight spaces reeling, and what they say is all so fruitless, long distance talks seem vain and bootless. We never get a word important; ghosts give us piffle, when they ortn't.

O'Kane's new building alley on Oregon street is now ready for business. Earl Wright is in charge.

The city council last Tuesday night voted to dispense with the services of a night watchman. There was a little informal discussion as to the advisability of placing a license on general business, but no formal presentation of such a proposal.

Engineer L. D. West spent last week in Prineville, surveying and rectifying streets, and this week he is locating irrigation plants for a number of farmers north of Bend.

City Lighting Modern.

Lighting up a whole city at night is quite a modern invention, although illumination was used in some of the ancient cities. Paris and London dispute the priority in the matter of modern street lighting. London claims to have lighted its streets with lanterns as early as 1414, but this contention is disputed. During the sixteenth century lanterns for street lighting were provided at the public cost in Paris.

What Beautiful Sweet Peas!

THE beauty of your sweet peas depends largely upon the seed you sow. Vigorous, sturdy vines with luxuriant, fragrant blossoms grow from seed of proven vitality. Outdoor seeding must be done as soon as the soil is in condition. A plan advocated by many successful gardeners is to sow the seed early indoors and transplant when the weather permits.

Start your sweet peas right by sowing Northrup, King & Co.'s tested seeds. These seeds are especially bred for hardiness, beautiful colorings, large and abundant blossoms. They represent years of gardening experience.

You can get Northrup, King & Co.'s Sweet Peas and other Flower Seeds for 5c a packet from the convenient seed case now at dealers near you. Then just follow the cultural directions on every packet.
