Programs of deep spiritual significance are being arranged for the Easter services at the various churches tomorrow.

At the Methodist church the Knights Templar of Pilgrim commandery No. 18 of Bend will put on their regular Easter service. The special musical numbers will be rendered by the Methodist choir, the male quartet and Mrs. C. V. Silvia and Mrs. Ashley Forrest as soloists.

Rev. H. C. Hartranft will deliver an Easter sermon at the Presbyterian church, to be followed by the receiving of a class of 20 new members into the church. Special music is being prepared by the choir.

Rev. G. E. Williams will conduct appropriate services at the Christian church and Rev. Johnson is to present an Easter message to the Baptist congregation.

At the Catholic church mass will be conducted by Father Luke Sheehan at 10 a. m. The choir, under the leadership of John Gagen, will sing Leonard's "Mass in E Flat" and Miss Mary Linster will sing "Ave Maria."

Mrs. Claude Black of Portland is spending the Easter season visiting her mother, Mrs. H. D. Allen, and sister, Mrs. Frank Burch, at the home of the latter. Mrs. Black is accompanied by her sister, Claire.

Word has been received of the birth of a daughter, on March 30, to Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Whitmore at Spokane, Wash., where Mrs. Whitmore has been visiting relatives. The little girl has been named Mary Jane.

Mrs. Paul Hosmer has returned from a visit of several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, at Monmouth, Ore.

Mrs. J. J. Clapp entertained a few friends at an afternoon tea on Wednesday.

The regular business meeting of the Baptist Missionary Ad society was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harvey DeArmond, after which dainty refreshments were served and social intercourse enjoyed. Appreciative greetings were extended to Mrs. M. D. Inloe and Mrs. C. J. Leverett, who have been absent from the city several months.

The University of Oregon Glee club was pleasantly entertained in the city Tuesday by the alumni and former students of the institution, under the chairmanship of the Misses Ella Dews and Margaret Thompson. At 6:30 p. m. the visitors were served at buffet luncheon at the Pilot Butte Inn, where college day experiences were recalled and the future needs of the university discussed. After the concert at the Athletic club, a few hours were spent in dancing, the Wilson George jazz orchestra furnishing the music and being courteously assisted by a number of members of the Glee club personnel.

The Women's Civic league of Bend is to give a public dance at the Athletic club, Monday, April 5, for the benefit of the Day nursery. The committee in charge, with Mrs. Franklin Toomey as chairman, is making every effort to insure the success of the affair.

Mrs. Horton's orchestra will furnish the music and light refreshments will be served for a small additional fee. The admission tickets are $1.

The patronesses include: Mesdames J. P. Keyes, C. S. Hudson, J. H. Haner, D. G. McPherson, Charles Hays and J. F. Arnold.

The "Punch" in Gasoline.

The genie that came out of the bottle in the "Arabian Nights" story became, when liberated, a monstrous power. The energy stored in a pint of gasoline is hardly less stupendous.

One pint of gasoline represents 12,000 "B. T. U.'s" of energy. A "B. T. U." (the abbreviation for British thermal unit) will lift 750 pounds one foot. Thus there is in that single pint of innocent looking fluid enough power to lift six tons 750 feet into the air—that is to say, 200 feet higher than the top of Washington monument.—Kansas City Star.

Children's Theology.

A little girl explained God's omnipresence by saying that he was everywhere without going there. A small boy, reflecting on the misdeeds of Satan, remarked: "I don't see how he ever got to be so bad when he had no devil to put him up to it."

Giving in Service.

"Every woman, and every man, for that matter, should do something to justify her or his existence. Unless a woman gives as much, as she takes in service she is a liability, and not an asset to the community."—Dr. Esther Lovejoy.

USED TOBACCO AS INCENSE

American Indians Inhaled Fumes as They Burned the Fragrant "Weed" to Their Gods.

Smoking was a habit acquired by European nations from the Indians of America. In 1492 Columbus found them using tobacco, not as is now done, but as an incense burned in honor of their deity.

Tobacco smoking began as a religious rite. Tobacco was used by the Indians much as oriental nations made use of myrrh or frankincense in their religious observances. Voyagers to America after Columbus revealed different customs in the tobacco habit. It was discovered that in certain parts of the continent the natives inhaled the incense until they became exhilarated or even intoxicated by the fumes. This meant for them that they derived inspiration from the good pleasure of their deity. The honor paid to the deity came back upon them in exhilarating profusion.

From that step was not far to ascertain that incense offered to a god could be employed as a medicine. It was drawn into the mouth through a hollow tube—a kind of pipe—and then expelled as smoking. To the rationalizing European it was left to transmit the poor Indian's worship into an ordinary pleasurable habit.

GIVE STIMULATION TO GENIUS

Toxins Manufactured in Man's Own System Powerfully Affect the Associative Faculties.

Genius is a question of sensitization of protoplasm—it goes back to physical fact. And the foundation of the greatest cathedral of beauty ever erected by the mind of genius rests squarely upon the flesh of a man's body, writes Jeanette Marks in the Yale Review. Sensitized protoplasm vibrates in answer to outside impressions, with concentric waves of varying diameter. The stimulated, sensitized protoplasm sets the associative faculties to work, and the bigger this associative faculty, the bigger the genius. It is just here in the morbid stimulation of protoplasm that toxins, drugs, alcohol, enter in. Disorder reigns supreme, chaos, noise, nervousness, near-madness, through the stimulus of some toxins manufactured in a man's own system. Tea, coffee, drugs, alcohol, seem temporarily at least to put the mental furniture in order, to bring harmony where there has been disorder. Opium is not genius. Madness is not genius. But both would sometimes appear to have the power to act as a stimulant for genius where its right to go forward is in question. And it would seem that the purchasing power in dementia was even greater in insanity than with either alcohol or opium.

TAKE WIFE ON MOTOR TOUR

Writer Calls That Real Test of Marriage, Especially if She Can Drive.

Before being taken on a motor tour wives who themselves drive should be anesthetized and all knowledge of motors removed. Sinclair Lewis writes in the Saturday Evening Post. For if they know anything about the game it is so hard to explain to them why when you are trying to pass a car on the hill and suddenly see another car bearing down you first step on the accelerator instead of the brake, then retard the spark, yank the gear lever into neutral, grindingly try to get it into reverse or low or anything that is handy, sound the horn, step on the gas again, finally get into second—and then kill the motor.

So dangerous a thing is a little knowledge that in such cases women have been known to doubt your having a perfect reason for all those clever maneuvers.

Motoring is the real test of marriage. After a week of it you either stop and get a divorce or else—free from telephone calls and neighbors and dressing for dinner, slipping past fields blue with flax and ringing with meadowlarks in the fresh morning—you discover again the girl you used to know.

Human Discontent.

How does it happen, Marcepos, that no one is content with that lot in life which he has chosen, or which chance has thrown in his way, but praises those who follow a different course?—Horace.
