FRIENDLY OFFERS.

Response to our recent mention of the opportunity to give a little pleasure to homeless and fatherless children indicate that there is a broad current of sympathy running through the life of this community.
Nothing will touch the heart more quickly than an appeal on behalf of the little ones. The answers we have had indicate that there will be a few children, at least, whose lives will be touched by something more than the institutional care they are now receiving.

From Prineville came the answer that was possibly the most interesting because of the fact that seemed to have prompted the letter; that is, a realization from a personal experience of what it means to be homeless. It reads in part:

"I would like to hear from three children at least. I prefer a boy and girl, and last, but not least I would like to hear from the most forlorn and hopeless child and will help them to anything they need. Prefer children who are about to step out into the world as I will gladly help them to any trade or profession they desire, as I was a homeless child myself, travels taking me to all parts of the civilized world.

"I would also like to be advised as to whether they are in need of clothes. Also if I might be able to call and see them."

It is needless to say that this writer and the others will be put in touch with children who will appreciate the friendship offered.

No increase in auto license fees is required in order to pay the interest and principal of all state highway bonds that can be issued under the pending 4 per cent constitutional amendment that will be voted upon at the May 21 election. Neither is any increase required in the gasoline tax. Nor is any tax on property involved. Revenue from the auto license fees and gas tax at present rates will be ample to care for both interest and principle of all the bonds that can be issued under the proposed 4 per cent limitation. The present road bonding limit is 2 per cent of the assessed value of property in the state. The increase is necessary in order to make it possible to complete the main state highways within the next few years, instead of waiting indefinitely for their completion from annual revenues. By issuing the bonds, the roads can be provided for use while the auto license fees and gas taxes are being paid.

If some men are crossed they think they are double crossed.

PORTABLE CAMP TO AID FIRE FIGHTERS

Truck Brought in From Portland
This Morning to Find Novel
Use on National Forest.

A portable fire fighting camp is one of the improvements which the Deschutes National Forest will have this year, it was stated by Supervisor N. G. Jacobson, following the arrival of a one ton G. M. C. truck, equipped with a two ton engine, which was driven from Portland by K. P. Cecil, of the district forester's office in Portland. The truck is one of those turned over for forest use by the aviation service.

When not needed for fire fighting, the truck will become a movable road building camp.

Cost of Motoring.

Excuse me while I shed a tear and raise a loud lament; the price of tires has climbed, I hear, some twenty-five per cent. I have to buy four tires this spring, or run her on the rims, and I am saddest when I sing these cost-of-scorching hymns. The cost of gas is rising, too, the gas that runs our boats; and every time my car goes "choo!" it burns up seven groats. And oil is going up with gas, the oil we all must buy; and so I pause to say "Alas!" and say it with a sigh. And spark plugs cost a bone a throw that once were fifty cents; and motorists, submerged in woe, are sulking in their tents.
They gaze upon the windswept hill they can't afford to mount, for every mile runs up a bill that breaks their bank account. They view the long, inviting road where they would like to speed, but they are chained to their abode by cost of things they need. They cannot tour the moorland track, or journey anywhere, unless they're willing to get back to Shanks and his old mare.

GRAND JURORS FINISH LABORS

two year old suit of R. N. Stanfield vs. A. E. Hoss for $9700 damages for alleged breach of contract, was called. With the jury nearly completed, the morning recess came, and when court again convened, the attorneys, Jay H. Upton for the plaintiff and H. H. DeArmond, and Blaine Hallett, of Baker, for the defendant, had compromised on a payment of $500 by the defendant. The suit was for the alleged failure of Mr.

Hoss to fulfill the contract to sell sheep to Mr. Stanfield.

An endeavor to compromise two similar suits brought for $1000 each by Mr. Stanfield against Mike Ang-land and Dennis O'Connor, was unsuccessful and the matters will come to trial tomorrow.

The Hat and Religion.

Jews wear their hats in the synagogues. The Friends also sit covered during the offering of prayers. Formerly the custom in the Church of England was for men to sit covered during the sermon. When Richard Cox, bishop of Ely, died in 1581 the congregation, sitting in the choir to hear the sermon, covered their heads.

Knee-Length Sermon.

The fellow who is cautious to the feelings of others is sure to make some pretty raw remarks.

Put it in The Bulletin.

Snakes' Changes of Skin.

It appears that snakes change their skins several times a year before reaching the adult state. The main reason why snakes cast their skins is to provide for increased growth. The skin of a snake does not grow with the growth of the body, as is the case with warm blooded creatures. So when it begins to get too tight it is discarded.

Vegetable Leather.

The Japanese grow a plant which furnishes a sort of vegetable leather.
It is a pretty shrub called the "miso-matu," and its inner bark, after going through certain processes, is converted into a substance as tough as French kid, so transparent that one can almost see through it, and as smooth and soft as calfskin.

NOTICE TO REPUBLICANS.

A meeting of republicans interested in the candidacy of Herbert C.
Hoover for president will be held in the circuit court room in the First National Bank building, Friday evening, April 16th, at 8 o'clock.
The presence of all interested is earnestly requested.

Do you vote blindly, or have you a practical knowledge of the issues at stake, or of the ability of the candidate when you go to the polls?

The right to vote, remember, is one of the great privileges of a democracy, and it is the only truly American method of righting wrong, or of preventing it.

The fine steels in a MAXWELL stir your enthusiasm

Ride in a Maxwell and your enthusiasm is stirred for this commendable car.

You attempt to search for the cause and you find it in the steels used in the Maxwell. Those fine steels that give rare strength.

Such steels take the burden of dragging around useless weight from the engine, providing brilliant performance.

Pound for pound the steels in a Maxwell equal those in any car built.

The Maxwell construction, employing these fine steels, results in a light-weight car, that gives not only brilliant performance, but the rare combination of durability, economy and comfort.

Today nearly 400,000 Maxwells may be seen on the world's highways. 100,000 more are in process of construction.

Still this will supply but 60% of those who have set their minds on a Maxwell for 1920.
