COLLECT THE LIENS

One of the most interesting features of the report on the recently completed city audit is the statement of the amount of liens still due the city for cleanup work, sewer and sidewalk construction, street sprinkling and other special assessments. Some of these liens run as far back as 1916. Indeed, there are two items still due from the sewer construction of 1913.
The total amount remaining unpaid is $3783.04, while the sum of $414.15 for cleanup work in 1918 has been charged off.

This means that for periods up to three years the general taxpayers of the city have been carrying the amounts due on these various assessments for the benefit of the few specially assessed. Furthermore, since that means a reduction of the city's general fund in the amount of $3783.04, there has been a loss to the city of a considerable item of interest payable on the warrants that have been left unpaid because of this deficit in the general fund.

For the most part the persons who owe on these assessments are perfectly able to pay. One thing the city can do at once toward relieving its straightened financial condition is to collect these liens.

The audit report is a comprehensive statement of the city's finances.
The mayor and council are to be congratulated on having taken this forward step toward better business administration and a better understanding of the financial situation.

Suffering Germany

'The Huns are shot to pieces, the telegrams declare; things are not slick as grease is—disorder everywhere; the peasant and patrician are both in sad condition; they're eating ammunition, there is no grub to spare. No useful wheels are turning, the church bells do not ring; no smithy fires are burning, no workmen's hammers swing; but gloom is all-prevailing, and wrath and bitter wailing; men are so busy railing they do not smile and sing. I ought to view with sorrow the troubles of the Hun, and say I hope tomorrow will see his anguish done; and yet I see him sweating without a great regretting; he earned what he is getting, earned trouble by the ton. Had he but shown repentance for any crimes of his, had he received his sentence with a remorseful phiz, I might compose a ditty of condolence and pity, more generous than twitty, but as things are—Gee whiz! The Hun has been so sassy, so nery and so smart, he thinks himself so classy, and greater-than-thou-art, that it is hard to view him with sympathy, beshrew him! so let his woes pursue him until his change of heart.'

TERREBONNE, April 21.—Mr.
F. L. Wester is in Portland now, as his father is seriously ill.
Mrs. Wester and daughter are planning to leave for Portland soon.

In spite of the disagreeable weather on last Friday, the school exhibit was reviewed by a number of visitors. There was an attractive display of grade works in paper cutting, clay modeling, sewing, crayon-charcoal, water colors, and penmanship papers, besides pupils' note books of daily work in composition, history and other subjects. In the high school the blackboards and wall spaces were taken up with algebra, geometry, general science and biology papers, also pen and ink drawings, crayon work, and history maps with notes. The general science set up and demonstrated some practical experiments. The day closed with Arbor day exercises and the planting of trees, one for each room, which were dedicated to the teachers.

Do you vote blindly, or have you a practical knowledge of the issues at stake, or of the ability of the

The right to vote, reamember, is one of the great privileges of a democracy, and it is
