College Seniors Made Decided Mistake
 When They Tried to "Smoke Out" Young Kentuckian.
 Tom Honan, former attorney general of Indiana, was talking of his college days at Indiana university. He recalled, with a laugh, how the seniors used to "smoke out" the freshmen in the good old days.
 "The big idea was," said Mr. Honan, "for five or six, or perhaps a dozen seniors, to congregate in the room of a freshman and smoke pipes until the smoke made him sick.
 Usually the fellow selected for the "smoking out" process was one of these mollycoddle youngsters who had not long been divorced from his mother's apron strings.
 "One time we selected a long, lean Kentucky boy. One by one we dropped in, lighted our pipes and began the game. Kentucky fired up his pipe, too, and the evening wore on. The smoke grew heavier with each passing half-hour. Not a window was up, not a door open. Along about eleven o'clock two or three seniors disappeared. They had been shipwrecked.
 Finally the tobacco began running out, much to the pleasure of several of us. But Kentucky smoked on.
 "At last one of us remarked to Kentucky that we'd have to go, as our tobacco had run out.
 "No, don't go," Kentucky insisted.
 "I've got a lot more tobacco. Lawdy, I couldn't think o' comin' 'way up nawth beah without some good tobacco."
 "Kentucky opened his trunk. One end of it was jammed with old Kentucky long green tobacco. We tore out.
 We had picked on the wrong bird."—

SERKES FOUND HIS MOTHER

Pathetic Cases Such as This One Reported Have Long Been Common in Armenia.
 Bright and early one morning a band of Arabs drove up to the Near East Relief orphanage at Kark, Armenia, bringing with them a forlorn little chap about five years old.
 "We want you to take this boy," said the leader of the band to an official of the orphanage. "He has no father, nor mother."
 "What is his name?" the leader of the band was asked.
 "He is called Serkes," shouted back the leader of the Arabs as they galloped away.
 In this way little Serkes became a member of our family. He was an intelligent little chap but seemed unable to remember anything about his home or his parents.
 A few days later one of the native women helpers at the orphanage was going through the playground when she suddenly stopped, turned pale and stared unbelievably at one of the little chaps who was playing there.
 "Serkes!" she cried, and running to the youngster gathered him into her

Country of Little Change.

Recently when Professor Williams visited the vice regent of South Ma-rocco, the latter quoted from a charter given by the sultan of Morocco in 1026. The visitor expressed surprise that this ancient parchment still remained in the vault, and the vice regent exclaimed: "Why not? We have never moved!" This incident is said not to be at all remarkable.
 Wherever one goes in the Turkish empire, he is likely to be confronted with the evidence of age by the traditions handed down from generation to generation. It is no more strange for a Turk to speak of happenings in his family of centuries ago than it is for an old man in this country to recall with pride the exploits of his father or grandfather.

Sensitive Pendulum.

The pendulum of the great clock in the tower of the house of parliament in London is so delicate that a small weight of only one ounce placed on a particular part of the apparatus will alter the rate of the clock one second per week.

Dog Highly Prized in Alaska.

Nowhere in the world has the dog such unrestricted right of way as in Alaska. In winter, when more than 600,000 square miles of territory are sealed up in solid ice, dogs are almost the sole means of getting from place to place—in fact, they seem necessary to life. The aristocrats of Arctic dog life are the mail teams in the service of the United States government.

Oddities of Chinese Market Day.

Market day in China usually affords many quaint sights to the foreigner.
 As the country is one largely devoid of vehicles, the commodities to be offered for sale are carried to the market places in many odd ways; by wheelbarrow, on manback, poised on the heads of women, or swung to a pole borne on the shoulders of two carriers.
