

COX AND PRESIDENT WILL MEET SUNDAY

Date Is Set For Previously Announced Conference—Roosevelt To Be Present at Meeting.

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin) COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 13.—Governor Cox announced today that he will confer with President Wilson at the White House Sunday at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. Franklin D. Roosevelt, vice presidential candidate, will also confer with President Wilson.

idly climbing into the top notch class in his weight.

The idea of the committee to book only first class men is reflected in all of the bouts, and the eight-round battle between Puggy Morton of Portland and Eddie Shannon of San Francisco, in the 135-pound class, adds another brilliant number to the card.

Under the terms of their contracts, all of the fighters are to be in Salem to complete their training not later than July 19, and the committee announces that most of the men are anxious to get here as soon as quarters can be arranged for their work.

Gorman and Baird are especially anxious to get down to active work, as they are required to make 130 pounds at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the fight.

VOLCANOES AWAKE TO LIFE

Mount Katmai, in Alaska, Especially, Shows Signs of Preparation for Destructive Outburst.

Affording an awe-compelling spectacle of nature in a sullen mood and awakening memories of the ghastly details of the eruption of eight years ago, Mount Katmai, most powerful and restless of North American volcanoes, is again in violent activity, according to Capt. Charles A. Glascock and Purser Gary Bach of the steamer Admiral Watson, which reached port recently from southwestern Alaska, says the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

A sable pall of smoke from the funnel of the belching crater broods over the northern sky for a radius of 40 or 50 miles by day, while fretful tongues of flame can be seen by vessels a score of miles at sea at night, according to the Seattle mariners.

Knight's peak, a neighboring volcano, has also been stirred to spectacular efforts by the outburst of its more dourly companion, and wreaths of smoke hang over numerous peaks of the rugged Alaska peninsula.

A slight earthquake shock was experienced at Kodiak island the night of April 8, a day before the arrival of the Admiral Watson. Two days later those on the Admiral Watson had a rare view of the volcano.

Put it in The Bulletin.

OUR CREED--

It is the belief of those associated with The First National Bank of Bend, that a bank's value to its community is measured by the service it renders. The right of a bank to exist and enjoy the patronage of its community, is in exact proportion to its willingness to foster by every legitimate means the natural and industrial resources of the territory which it serves.

FAULTY GLOVES MEAN DEATH

Good Reason Why Electric Linemen Take Especial Care of the Rubber Hand Coverings.

You would be extremely careful in your selection of a pair of gloves if you knew that a rip or tear would probably cost you your life.

This is the case in which the electric linemen find himself, we are told by a writer in the American Machinist. He then goes on and describes the linemen's gloves and the great care with which they are tested. He says: "Some day when you are walking along a main-traveled road, where traffic is piled back as far as one can see, and linemen are repairing a broken wire, stop and watch them work.

"The gloves they wear tell a unique story. Probably the line they are handling is 'alive' and carrying electric current enough to cause instant death; yet they pick it up, twist it, splice it as nonchalantly as though handling a fishing tackle. They are able to pick up the live wire because of the rubber gloves they wear.

"Did you know that these gloves are today made according to rigid specifications completely standardized, and that no purchasing agent dare buy rubber gloves until he has thoroughly tested them? No glove can be marked with the manufacturer's name or with the size in such a manner as to injure it in any way. The gloves must each be more than 14 inches long and the average thickness not less than 0.06 inch. They must have a tensile strength of 1,200 pounds per square inch and bear having two inches of their surface stretched to 12 inches without a rupture. The gloves must be capable of withstanding the application of 15,000 volts without puncturing."

SAVAGES WORE BODY ARMOR

Gilbert Islanders Used That Form of Protection, but It Was Limited to Leaders.

Only one tribe in the South Pacific islands ever rose to the height of inventing armor to be used in their warfare. But even this tribe, the Gilbert Islanders, turned out only a few suits, owing to the work entailed in the manufacture. Francis Dickie says, in the Scientific American, that the suits were limited in number, and that every village was the proud possessor of one. At the outbreak of a conflict between villages, not all the inhabitants went to war, but the most doughty warrior was dressed in the village armor and sent against the champion of the rival place. The brown-colored fabric covering the body and legs, which formed the Gilberts' armor, was made out of coir string taken from the husk of the coconut, so closely woven as to make a protection stronger than board, and having greater lightness to recommend it. A further breastplate, invulnerable to any native weapon, was made from the dried skin of the stingaree, or ray fish, which dried as hard as metal.

In the last few years peace has settled over the Gilberts and the armor has ceased to be manufactured. The few suits in existence have all been seized by collectors of rare articles.

Big Railroader's Hobby. Carl R. Gray, the new president of the Union Pacific system, has one hobby—that is his family in which he takes the greatest interest and pride. "When his two boys, who are now at college, were attending preparatory school at Baltimore," says J. G. Donley, Jr., in Forbes' Magazine, "he never missed a baseball or football game in which the school team participated unless he was away from home. And he knew every boy on the team by his first name. One of his greatest delights was to get out on the baseball field on a summer evening and 'bat flies' to his boys. When not on the road or in his office, he spends all of his time with his family."

Unpleasant Bedfellow. In California and on the staked plains in Texas where the nights are cold, it is the rattlesnake's custom to crawl between a traveler's blankets and snuggle up close to him till morning. Numbers of them are killed in camp every year by soldiers campaigning in that section, but as the rattlesnakes seldom abuse hospitality by biting the sleeper, few accidents happen. Still, there are men who, when out on a hard march, prefer to sleep alone.

Mount McKinley Sinking. Mount McKinley, the Oregon mountain, is sinking with the weight of ages. Within the last several years, when the peak shrugged its rocky shoulders in earthquakes, the loftiest mountain in North America has subsided at least 500 feet from its original altitude of 29,400 feet. Such was the assertion of Herschel C. Parker, geologist and mining engineer, who first scaled Mount McKinley in 1912.

Tempered With Mercy. Even the girl who gets mad when she is kissed by a man is always merciful enough to remember that "perhaps the poor fellow couldn't resist such a temptation."—Houston Post.
