

SHAMROCK WINS FIRST RACE IN QUEST FOR CUP

RESOLUTE LOSER BY ACCIDENT

WINS IN FIRST HALF

Attempt to Repair Damage Sustained By American Yacht Proves Vain—Three Out of Five Will Decide 1920 Series.

ABOARD THE DESTROYER GOLDSBOROUGH, July 15.—With the first of a series of races with Shamrock IV to determine whether or not American yachtsmen shall continue their 69-year-old supremacy apparently well in hand, the Resolute, cup defender, was forced to withdraw from the race today when the throat halyards parted.

The jaws of the Resolute's gaff came down without warning when she was half a mile in the lead of Sir Thomas Lipton's boat, nearing the 15-mile mark. The Resolute kept on, with four men aloft, trying to repair the broken halyards, and rounded the half way mark four minutes in the lead, but was forced to quit. The Shamrock crossed the finish line and was awarded the victory.

Fewer than 20,000 saw the races. This is not due to a decrease of interest in the classic of the ocean, but is the result of the scarcity of sight-seeing vessels and the smaller capacity to which the available ones are limited by the new safety laws.

Effort Lipton's Fourth. Private yachts by the score, excursion boats, steamers and all kinds of light craft lined the 30-mile course off Sandy Hook from the Ambrose lightship and return.

Shamrock IV is the fourth representative of Sir Thomas Lipton's million-dollar bid for the cup. Previous efforts were made in 1899, 1901 and 1903, without success.

Shamrock IV, termed the most daring of the modern yacht building art, was designed by C. E. Nicholson, designer of Fife, Watson and numerous other famous yachts. He is said to be the brightest light in British yachting circles and in Shamrock IV has designed what is said to be the supreme bid of the old world.

Resolute, the cup defender, is owned by a syndicate composed of the flag officers of the New York Yacht club. She is a Herreshoff sloop, built in 1914 as a defender candidate in the races that were called off because of the war.

The cost of each yacht is not known, but it is estimated that each represents the expenditure of at least $175,000, the cost of the Reliance, which beat Shamrock III in 1903, the last of the series.

LIPTON WINS YACHT RACE

Shamrock IV, representing Irishman's last attempt in 21 years to win cup, held in New York for five years during the war.

STRIKE STOPS CHICAGO CARS

WALKOUT EFFECTIVE IN EARLY MORN

Girl Is Killed and Several Injured in Accident Resulting from Strike—Closed Shop Principle Is Said to Be the Issue.

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin) CHICAGO, July 15.—Street car lines here are completely tied up by the strike of electrical workers. The strike became effective at 4 o'clock this morning and all efforts were directed to getting the stalled cars out of the streets. No attempt was made to haul passengers after the strike shut off current through the city.

The company later made an effort to run some cars. An unidentified girl was killed and seven others injured in an accident resulting from the strike. A truck carrying 30 passengers to the business district collided with an iron street post.

Mike Boyle, agent for the electrical workers' union, said that the strike call followed a disagreement over the closed shop principle. He demanded that the company supplant the few non-union workers with union members.

COLD STORAGE PLAN FOR MEATS IS USED

Expensive System Installed by Proprietor of Beaver Market to Insure Quality of Food Supply.

To insure the perfect keeping of meats during the warm summer months, W. A. Beaver, proprietor of the Beaver market on Bond and the Cash market on Oregon street, has just completed the installation of a $1250 cold storage plant in the former shop, and, while the same results are attained by the use of ice in the latter establishment, he plans to use ammonia evaporation for cooling in the Cash market in the near future. By renting space at the ice factory, he is able to hold meats for from two to three weeks before placing them on sale, he states.

In his Bond street market, the refrigerating plant put in by Ray Fairchild of Portland, which produces cold sufficient to manufacture a ton and a half of ice daily, keeps two rooms of a total capacity of 960 cubic feet constantly below freezing point and makes winter in the glass counter, in which meats are kept for immediate use.

LAVA LAKE TO BE RESTOCKED

EASTERN BROOK TROUT OBEY INSTINCT AND RAPIDLY LEAVE WATERS—WILL BE REPLACED BY CUTTHROAT SPECIES.

Trout in Lava lake are rapidly becoming extinct and, in order that restocking may be successfully carried on, the lake will be closed for fishing, beginning August 14, until further notice. District Game Warden H. McDonald announced this morning. Cutthroat trout will be used in restocking, taking the place of eastern brook trout, whose natural propensity to follow the stream's course has caused them to leave the lake in large numbers. Angling is not responsible for the virtual extinction of the species in Lava lake, Mr. McDonald is convinced.

The upper half of Elk lake is now closed for spawning purposes. Mr. McDonald said, but Link creek, connecting Blue and Suttles lakes, will be open to fishermen after August 14. It also has been closed to allow for spawning.

SALT LAKE MAN IS NOMINATED BY NEW PARTY

CHRISTIANSSEN CHOICE OF LIBERALS

PLATFORM REJECTED

Committee of 48 Withdraws from Chicago Convention Leaving the Farmer-Labor Alliance to Continue in Session.

By D. E. Chamberlain. (United Press Staff Correspondent.) CHICAGO, July 15.—The farmer-labor party entered the political field with a national ticket shortly before dawn. Parley Christiansen of Salt Lake City, who had been chairman of the committee of 48 convention, was nominated for the presidency by the new party and Max Hayes of Cleveland, chairman of the executive committee of the labor party, was chosen vice presidential candidate. Nominations came after a group from the committee of 48 convention, disagreeing with the platform adopted by the amalgamated convention of liberals, withdrew, announcing that they would continue their own convention today.

Christiansen's nomination came as the sensation of the convention, his supporters upsetting the plans of the labor leaders, who had hoped to nominate Dudley Malone. Christiansen threw the holdover meeting of the committee of 48 into confusion when he entered the hall and made a brief statement that he and everybody else wanted La Follette as the nominee, declaring that, "if there is still any way to get him, I will not stand in his way."

"I must remain true to that loyal group of working men and women who nominated me," he continued, "but I must tell you that I hope we can all get together, after all." As Christiansen left the hall to catch his train, a few delegates shook him warmly by the hand, while others renewed their shouts of La Follette.
