RAPID ADVANCE MADE

Authorities of Polish Capital Expect City To Be Attacked—Preparations Are Made For Desperate Defense of City.

By Web Miller.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Aug. 4.—The bolshevik troops have crossed the River Bug, the last natural line of defense before Warsaw, according to dispatches received here. At least one of the brigades of the red army has already advanced a considerable distance beyond the stream.

All Warsaw advices indicate that the city authorities are expecting the city to be attacked by the bolshevik and preparations for a desperate defense are being made. All foreigners and women are being hurried out of the city.

The main line of the bolshevik advance is along the Byelstock-Warsaw railroad. They are reported to be shelling Lomza, after having occupied Szweczyn, and to be progressing rapidly on toward Mazowieck.

In London, in the meanwhile, a hostile attitude toward the Russian trade delegates is becoming manifest.

SKELETONS FOUND AT WRITER'S HOME

DOVER, Aug. 4.—Four ancient skeletons have just been unearthed in the garden of Forbes Robertson's house near here.

This coincidence gave England's greatest Hamlet one more opportunity to recite the "Alas, poor Yorick!" speech, and Britishers are wondering whether, despite his retirement from the stage, he was not tempted to give the gardeners a private hearing of the philosophical prince.

HARD SURFACE ROAD DESIRED

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO PROTEST GRAVEL

Paving In Bend and Airplane Plans Discussed By Business Men; Eastern Speaker Praises Bend.

The Bend Commercial club will endeavor to persuade the state highway commission to put down a hard surface on the north line of The Dalles-California highway, instead of the gravel surface for which a contract recently was let, according to a decision reached at the weekly luncheon held at the Pilot Butte Inn this noon.

The matter of changing the type of surfacing was presented to the club by W. C. Birdsall. Mr. Birdsall said that H. F. Wickner, who has the contract for the graveling, agreed that the road would not stand up, and, he asserted, the only solution was a hard surface. Mr. Birdsall then read a letter from C. S. Reed of the Willite Co., offering to place two inches of Willite on the road for $1.50, with a five-year guarantee. For 25 cents additional, Mr. Reed offered to prepare the sub-grade for surfacing.

After a short discussion, during which Floyd Dement offered to share the expense of paying a city block for demonstration purposes, and Carl A. Johnson suggested an automobile assessment for street paving purposes, the club voted to appoint a committee to take the matter up.

George E. Love, temporary manager of the local airplane company, then discussed the company's plans and asked for local support toward securing a landing field.

In closing the meeting, President Wood called on George E. Wood of New Bedford, Mass., a member of the Central Oregon Associates, the company which is building a number of houses here. In the course of a humorous talk, Mr. Wood complimented the club on its interest in local development affairs and prophesied a greatly increased growth for Bend in the coming 10 years. "You have a wonderful climate here," said Mr. Wood, comparing it with that of his home state, "and the other necessary resources of citizenship and power that will build a large city."

POTATO QUALITY IN COUNTY GOOD

Well Known Grower Says Netted Gems Will Average Better Than Year Ago.

Although the acreage of potatoes in Central Oregon may not be as heavy as former years, the quality of Netted Gems this year will be far above the last year's crop, according to J. A. Melvin, a well known potato grower, residing east of Bend. The potatoes of this year's crop are setting closer to the surface, according to Mr. Melvin, an indication of a better quality of potatoes. Last year the potatoes average two to six in a hill, while this year, says the veteran spud culturist, the potatoes average from four to twelve in a hill.

BRITAIN SENDS ANOTHER NOTE

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin)
LONDON, Aug. 4.—The British foreign office has sent another note to the bolsheviks, it was learned here today. The note was strongly worded and demanded a direct and unequivocal answer. From the best information available it is understood that the note had a bearing on the London peace conference, which the bolsheviks have ignored in requiring that the Polish armistice delegates discuss peace terms in the field.

ELKS PLEASED WITH LAST NIGHT'S MIX

The Bend Elks, as well as the visitors from Prineville and Redmond, are still shouting praises of the committee which had charge of the basket social, which, they say, was one of the most enjoyable social affairs ever put on by the lodge here. Everybody got into the spirit of the thing and mixed, with the result that the Elks of Bend are better acquainted than they have been in the past.

Quigley, the Harry Lauder of Bend, was on hand with one of his pleasing sketches, and Wilson George brought his usual flow of vocal and instrumental jazz with him. In the neighborhood of $250 was raised by the sale of the baskets, to be used in purchasing lodge emblems for two lady secretaries of the grand lodge, who have been of assistance to the Bend Elks. The social resolved itself into a dinner dance, during which everybody got well acquainted.

TIMBER IS TO BE DEVELOPED

PITTSBURGH FIRM TO DEVELOP HOLDINGS NEAR LAKEVIEW; MILL TO BE BUILT; ROAD FOUND NECESSARY.

Following the recent report that officials of the Western Pacific were investigating conditions in the vicinity of Lakeview, a news article in Lake county is of especial interest. The article is from a recent issue of the Lakeview Examiner and is as follows: "J. A. Cheyne, president of the Pittsburg Sash & Door company of Pittsburg, Pa., arrived in Lakeview a few days since and has already closed a deal for the Jones & Lane timber holdings on Cottonwood creek and is negotiating for several other claims in that vicinity. In addition Mr. Cheyne is desirous of purchasing the national forest timber on the watershed between Cottonwood and Methman creeks, which, it is estimated, will cruise in the neighborhood of 75,000,000 feet.

"A sawmill site has been leased on the Jones & Lane land, and it is reported that a large mill will at once be built and that it is expected to have it in operation within a year. The lumber will be hauled to Lakeview and shipped to Reno, where it will be manufactured into sash and doors. It is reported that this arrangement will be only temporary, however, pending the building of a standard gauge road in this section, when the factory will be located at Lakeview. The Pittsburg company is one of the largest concerns of its kind in the United States, and the fact that it has invested in this section means much for Lake county.

"It is understood that another large financial concern is investing heavily in the Camp creek timber belt, and that announcement of its plans will be made in the near future.

"The establishment of mills in this section means that a standard gauge railroad will necessarily have to be built to handle the output, and the recent visit of President Levy of the Western Pacific no doubt had a direct bearing upon that subject. It is also reported that the Southern Pacific has an eye on the business, and President Sprule and a party of high officials were recently at Susanville looking over the possible extension of the Fernley branch. Should that road be extended, it would probably come up the west side of the lake to reach the timber belt. The Weyerhaeuser people have large holdings in that section of the county and, taken altogether, a vast tonnage could be furnished a railroad for many years to come.

"It should be understood that no definite announcement has been made by the interested parties, but the sources from which the foregoing has been obtained are considered reliable."

HARDING WANTS PEACE AT HOME

REPUBLICAN LEADER MAKES ADDRESS

In Talk to Delegation From Neighboring County Candidate Sounds the Keynote of Americanism—Elaborates on Treaty Stand.

MARION, Aug. 4.—"If I could choose only one, I would rather have industrial and social peace at home than command the international peace of the world."

This was the dominant utterance of Senator Warren G. Harding, republican candidate for the presidency, in making an address to a delegation of republican pilgrims from Wayne county, in which the keynote was "Americanism."

Senator Harding also elaborated on the stand he took on the peace treaty at the time of the official notification of his nomination.

"I do not want Americans of foreign birth making their party alignments on what we can do for some nations in the old world," Harding said. "We want them to be republicans because of what we mean to do for the United States of America."

Rose Window For Church, One of Most Beautiful In State Being Put In.

Architect Lee A. Thomas has completed the plans for the St. Charles hospital, the new four-story building to be built by the Sisters of St. Joseph. Ten days will be allowed for the turning in of figures.

The big rose window in front of the Catholic church, of which S. A. Thomas is the architect, and which when completed, will be one of the most beautiful windows in the state, is being put in. It is not known just when the church will be finished, as there has been some delay, caused by failure to receive the glass for the windows, and the altar cannot be put in until this comes.

HANLEY FAVORS EAST AND WEST TRAVEL ROUTES

W. R. KING IS IN BEND WITH "BIG BILL"

HEADED FOR BURNS

Harney County Ranchman Interested in Uniting Oregon By Improving Roads; King to Practice Law in Washington, D. C.

"Big Bill" Hanley of Burns, leading ranchman and nationally known figure, and Will R. King, until recently chief counsel for the United States reclamation service, passed through Bend this morning on their way to Burns. Hanley is returning from a tour of the state, having crossed the mountains to Eugene and returned by the northern route, being, according to Mr. King, "the only man who makes that circuit who is not running for office and does not desire office."

King, who resigned June 15 from the reclamation service, is on his way to the Hanley ranch for a vacation. On his return he will proceed to Washington, D. C., to open law offices there, specializing in reclamation cases and cooperating with the government in this work, he stated this morning.

Not having visited Bend since 1911, at which time he was a justice of the supreme court of Oregon, Mr. King was enthusiastic in his mention of the advances which have been made in Bend and in Central Oregon. Characteristically interested in irrigation, he prophesied that when the full possibilities of this district were developed, "tourists will open their eyes when they see it."

"Big Bill" is convinced that the movement of population it to turn away from the city, and that following the election this fall, great advances in the next few years are to be made in the country.

"For this reason I am interested in the improvement of the east and west roads in Oregon," said Mr. Hanley. "Not that the other roads are not important, but this country was built from east to west, and Oregon must be connected up from east to west if her industries are to be successful. The people west of the mountains thing of them as a barrier. It would do a lot of them good to come up here and get sunburned. For this reason I am glad to see that the McKenzie Pass road is being improved."

Hanley and King left on the stage this morning for Burns.

WILL REMOVE OLD CHURCH BUILDING

Burned-Out Baptist Church Building Sold To Local Man; Start Work Immediately.

The old burned-out Baptist church building has been sold to Mr. Corbin, a local man, and will be removed immediately, was the announcement made by H. E. Nordeen last night. The purchaser plans to have the structure torn down and the lumber saved.

As soon as the ground is cleared plans to rebuild will be under way. The church already has some funds, including insurance on the old building, the money received from its sale, and some already subscribed. Assistance from the state convention of the Baptist church is expected, but most of the money will have to be raised locally among the church members and friends.

FIRST MATCH OF THE TOURNAMENT OVER

The first match of the girls' tennis tournament was played on the Pilot Butte courts Tuesday evening, Louise Inabnit winning from Frances Heyburn, 6-0, 5-7, 6-4. As the score indicates, the match was exceedingly close, and, considering that both of the contestants are comparatively novices, it was well played. Two matches will be played off today. Scores will be announced daily in The Bulletin.
