WANTS TO COOPERATE

In the few weeks that have elapsed since The Bulletin called attention to what it understood to be the plans of the North unit irrigation district to appropriate so much of the waters of the Deschutes, stored at Benham falls, as to make impossible the reclamation of the other units of the Deschutes project in their entirety, little has developed to throw any clear light on the situation. In Prineville, if one may judge from the editorial expressions of the Crook County Journal, little attention is being paid to the matter, the only expression from the Journal being that Bend was working up a fight that would hinder the progress of the reclamation. The Redmond Spokesman, showing more interest, has carried statements to the effect that the other portions of the project had nothing to fear from the North unit. One of these statements is from A. D. Anderson, the secretary of the North unit district, who says that no water grab is contemplated. On the other hand, the Madras Pioneer, aroused by what The Bulletin had charged, asserts that the North unit is right. The question which naturally suggests itself in answer to the Pioneer is, "Right in what?" Other questions were asked the Pioneer two weeks ago which remain unanswered, but if it will devote even a little space to this last one, we may know better what the facts are.

Of course, the necessary implication from the Pioneer's assertion that the North unit is right is that it is right wherein The Bulletin has been asserting it was wrong. That is, the fact is admitted and justification asserted. This is contrary to Mr. Anderson's position. He says no grab is intended. Which of the two is right? One conclusion at least may be drawn, and that is that in Jefferson county there is some recognition of the possibility that the North unit will want water to the injury of the rest of the project.

So far as the suggestion from Prineville is concerned, we desire to point out that Bend does not want to hinder the progress of reclamation, nor is it looking for a fight. It prefers to cooperate. On that account Mr. Anderson's recent statement is gladly received. Now, if Mr. Anderson will go a little farther and tell us how the north unit proposes to divide the water, and what Bend can do to help in the promotion of the general reclamation scheme, we believe he will find the help forthcoming.

MAN BEATEN LAST NIGHT BY ROBBERS

were described as about 20 years of age. Ohm is about 5 feet 6 inches tall, wore a blue sailor shirt and whipcord pants, and left his white sailor hat in Millin's room. Glass wore a coat and a brown hat. They first came to the Wright with two other men, all of them trying to engage one room. The others did not register there, but Chief Carlon learned, by calling Camp No. 2, that four men, Glass, Ohm, Earl Stevens and Kerren, all from Portland had worked there.

Officers have been notified at The Dalles, Vancouver, Portland and other places to be on the lookout for the men. Chief Carlon believes that if they do not abandon the car it will be a simple matter to catch them. The car was a new Maxwell, license number 83481 and serial number 312923, 1922.

Properly Rebuked.

The father and a friend were enjoying a smoke on the porch and daddy threw the almost finished cigar on the lawn. Junior picked it up, ran to his mother and exclaimed: "Look where daddy threw this, mother! Don't let him get away with that stuff just because he has company."

Plans

If you observe the also rans, you'll note they're always making plans. Some day they'll reach the shining heights and bask in wealth's and fame's delights. Next week, next month, perhaps next year, they'll venture on the high career, and show the natives goggle-eyed that they're all wool and three feet wide. And while they plan they let today, the golden present, slide away. They sit around the village pump, and plan and dream while others hump. And Time flies on with eager pace; the way Time scoots is a disgrace; and men grow old and bent and bald, and hang around until they're called. And those who worked with pep and power and made the most of every hour beneath their fig trees sit in peace, and find old age as slick as grease. But those who sat immersed in dreams, and made their futile plans and schemes, and talked "tomorrow" when "today" was slipping from their grasp away, find age a grim and sad ordeal; you cannot guess how tough they feel. Oh, make your plans for future times, but while you're planning nail the dimes.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS ASK BIRTH CONTROL

Attack Law Forbidding Criminal Operations; Too Many Undernourished Children.

By Carl D. Groat.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, July 23.—"Every woman ought to have the right of control over her own body. As it is now, thousands of women are forced to bring children into the world—undernourished, sickly babies who, from the outset are doomed to poverty and ill health, in other words, without even a chance of growing up to happy and useful lives."

Luise Zeitz, independent socialist, who will make the introductory reichstag speech for the bill canceling the law against criminal operations, so expressed her reasons for backing this proposal when interviewed by the United Press.

Frau Zeitz is known as one of the most fiery orators in the reichstag and holds no brief for criminal operations per se, but regards the present system as hypocritical and unfair, permitting rich mothers to bring children into the world or have an operation, while poor mothers are punished for either course they take—too many children to take care of or prison for the operation. She pointed out that, while the rich are able to get the best treatment and advice and their secret is kept from gossiping mouths, the poor are forced to consult cheap, untrained and so-called wise women and are often found out if the operation fails.

The bill, which proposes to abolish the famous paragraph 218, will be backed by the independent socialists, who believe they will later obtain support of the majority socialists. The first consideration of the bill will probably be in September.

Under paragraph 218, known to every German, the law provides for up to 10 years' imprisonment for performance of criminal operations, or for up to five years' imprisonment for attempting to perform one. One case is on record in Berlin where a girl drank a preparation of sugar water, thinking to rid herself of a child. She was sent to prison for five years, although her method of attempt was regarded as harmless.

Many prominent persons and organizations are back of the movement to abolish the paragraph. Among them is the League for Mothers, whose chief aim is to protect the vast numbers of unwedded mothers in Germany.

Low-Cost Mileage—Get It in Goodyear Small Car Tires

There is no economy in buying so-called bargains in tires offered at sensationally cheap prices when a well-made tire delivers mileage at a considerably lower rate of cost.

Add the time and trouble occasioned by frequent replacements and it is fully apparent why tire users, seeking real mileage economy, are not attracted to very cheaply priced tires.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the 30 x 3", 30 x 3 1/2" and 31 x 4-inch sizes, is based on the fact that they are built to deliver exceptional mileage at low cost and consistently do so.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires—for true Goodyear mileage, value, economy.
