

The days of Persecution, Prosecution, Investigation, Incrimination, Profiteering, Cheap Politics and Extravagant Wastage are drawing to a close. They are getting right down to common sense. "Bunk" doesn't go with most people any more--they want reason and ordinary horse sense to lead them--the "razzle-dazzle" wont win with most people--you've got to show them.

YOU KNOW THE SAYING — "ALL GOOD THINGS COME TO HIM WHO WAITS." MAY BE SO — BUT GIVE US THE FELLOW WHO GOES AFTER THEM.

That's exactly what we are going to do. We want more business, and we are going right after it—we are not going to wait for it to come to us—we are going after it with BIGGER AND BETTER STOCKS OF RELIABLE MERCHANDISE, BIGGER AND BETTER VARIETIES OF THE WORLD'S MOST DEPENDABLE GOODS. And our prices will be such as to admit of no argument—positively the lowest. All we ask is a comparison—no "ifs," no "ands," no "buts," no "baits"—

JUST VALUE AND HONEST MERCHANDISE.

OLD STYLES COMING BACK FOR FASHIONS OF WINTER

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin)
NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The lower world of fashion will be quite as gorgeous and elaborate for this oncoming season as the upper strata. Do not be confused. We are not saying that the Bowery will go forth swathed in rich garments of metallic lace and brocade that will put even the fashion denizens of Fifth Avenue to shame. The comparison lies between Milady's sumptuous outer garments and the inner layer which the stage has taught us to roughly classify as lingerie.

It is no exaggeration to say that a proper inner wardrobe from the epidermis to the outer layer will cost as pretty a penny this year as the suit, coat, or dress that conceals all this hidden treasure. Never has there been such a season of riotously rich and lovely lingerie. For the Gotham upper crust it means real jewels, old laces, ribbons of great price, handwork involving years of labor in some far-off Eastern land, novel and freakish effects in embroidery and divers trimmings, and—most noticeable of all—a scarcity of background for all this applied wealth. "Lingerie shall cost much and be little," is the slogan of the inner garment makers. They say that the fitted lines of outer apparel make this shortage of inner material a necessity, and that since lingerie shall be largely absent, what remains shall atone in beauty and richness.

Negligees are the most opulent of all lingerie. Good taste fixes no limit to the money that can be put within these boudoir confections. A leading Fifth Avenue house shows a model of heavy, lustrous peach satin with an overdrap of the finest Chantilly lace. Atop of this is a Mandarin jacket of baby blue georgette lined with cloth of silver. Festoons of genuine seed pearls drip from the loose sleeves. The skirt is pantaloons-style, and the wearer is guaranteed a ticket of admission to the most exacting bazaar.

Teddies and nighties favor the vogue of pastel-shaded linens and other fine cotton fabrics. Apple blossom pinks, baby blues, lemon, apple-leaf green and orchid are favorite colors. These cottons are favored with costly hand work, rather than much applied trimming. One three-figured nightie flaunts 20 rows of hand tucking, six bands of drawn work, about six feet of a hand-embroidered floral motif, and a ribbon drawstring that alone is valued at $20 a yard.

The last season's vogue of patterned lingerie which specialized in cerulean-hued bluebirds and butterflies, is on the wane—probably because our Bluebird guest has been back on his native shores for some time. Whenever any pattern is used, it is some bizarre, weird creation, such as a wriggling green snake, a garment, free cannibal, or a bevy of alligators.

Petticoats are almost entirely usurped by pantalets. It is considered very smart for these silken "pettis" to hang an inch or so below the skirt. The most chic effect is considered achieved if they are of a vivid contrasting color, be ruffled or lace-edged. The bona fide petticoats have substituted deep fringes for ruffled flounces. The fringes are of the self-material and are deemed an aid to perambulation.

The yoke fad of 1830 is back in the vogue. It is prophesied that crocheting will step into the limelight once more as the most popular feminine indoor sport. However, the most elite yokes are of rare old lace or embroideries. Scalloped effects are very good, especially if the scallops are worked in some brilliant color.

Demanding of merchants their highest priced wares, whether you can afford them or not, is fuel for the profiteer. Even with present prices, proper judgment can be exercised in buying and money saved. High prices is no excuse for extravagance.

How to Cultivate Thrift--

First—Learn to distinguish between luxuries and necessities.

Second—Learn to know good value; learn where, when and how to buy; learn to judge clothing and shoes, and buy good material.

Third—Keep track of your expenses. Limit your "pleasure money" and choose wholesome pleasures. Deny yourselves the little things to get the big.

Fourth—and perhaps the most important of all—
