SCHOOL HOLDS BIG PEP SHOW

JAZZY PROGRAM GIVEN BY STUDENTS

Season Tickets Sell Rapidly As Enthusiasm Mounts — Snappy Speeches and Stunts Feature Special Assembly Hour.

The high school pulled the greatest show of pep last Thursday afternoon, it is declared, ever shown in its history. It was a demonstration of high school spirit and support held in the assembly for the purpose of creating winning enthusiasm for the now postponed Bend-Madras football game, which the school expected would take place today. Although the game was postponed, the pep still remains.

The sale of student body tickets was also greatly forwarded. Encouraging and supporting speeches were made before the student body assembly by the following students: Romaine Nicholson, Tom Going, Mike Mahoney, La Verne Whitmore, Scotty Rae, Ila Sess, Winona Kleinfeldt, Dorothy Hinman, Linnie Brick, Elizabeth Stauffer, Gladys Sather, Frances Heyburn and Marjorie Baird.

The speeches were exceedingly "snappy" and received considerable applause.

Next on the program was football, in support of which Ed Brosterhouse, an old veteran spoke, and also Captain Coyner. Brosterhouse stated that "the bigger they are, the harder they fall."

Captain Coyner strongly advocated school spirit as the biggest factor of success.

This was followed by a pathetic speech by "Prof." McNeal, in which Gale Blakely acted as assistant by acting as a war-torn relic, bloody, bruised and dirty, of a football game. Superintendent Moore spoke vigorously regarding Bend high school football.

The coach also spoke a few encouraging words.

The last feature on the program was yell practice by the school and announcements concerning a rally, which was also postponed until the next game when the bad news arrived. Mr. Crozier then spoke a few words, complimenting the students on their activities and support of the school.

ELECTION HELD BY BEGINNING CLASS

Classes To Have Own Days During The School Year

Wednesday afternoon the class officers of the senior high school met with the president of the student body for the purpose of creating class days in order to stimulate class spirit in the school.

According to the plans of the officers, each class will try to make the most of its day and will choose its own program. There will be four class days throughout the year. A committee of class presidents was appointed to decide upon the day each class will have for its program.

CLASS COLORS ARE SELECTED

The SB division of the junior high school held a meeting on Wednesday night to decide on the class colors and the class reporters.

Green and gold were chosen as class colors. Walter Freiberg and Edward Stadter were elected as class reporters.

The boys of the class decided to have a football team and have planned to have a meeting every Friday afternoon.

It was also decided that each member of the class should pay 10 cents on the 15th of each month for class dues.

CANDY STOLEN IN JANITOR'S ABSENCE

On Thursday afternoon, October 14, someone stole a nice box of candy from F. A. Turner, janitor at the Bend high school. Mr. Turner values the box highly because it was sent to him by his daughter, Miss Mildred Turner, from Boise.

Mr. Turner did not discover the loss until after he had completed his work, but he thinks that the box was stolen while he was sweeping one of the bungalows.

SENIORS COACHING CENTRAL'S ELEVEN

The Central high recently organized a football team which is showing great promise of developing into an all-star squad. The lineup is as follows: Patty (mgr.), fullback; Cook, left half; Finley, right half; Kelley (capt.), quarterback; MacDonald, right end; Pavik, left end; Moore, right tackle; Brown, left tackle; Studebaker, left Guard; Corbin, right guard; Hoover, center. Coaches are Gordon Dutt and Ed Brosterhouse.

From Here and There In Bend High School

Monday saw another oration in Miss Spoor's class. Ila Sess delivered hers, with very few hesitations. Her topic was, "The Man Educated for Life." The most remarkable part of Ila's oration is its length—four closely typewritten pages.

The sophomore English division has two new students, Ethel Gingrich and Leo Harriman, who enrolled this week.

The last installment of books from the state library has arrived. This will greatly facilitate the work of the high school library.

The girls' glee club met Thursday night. Nearly all the members were present.

Miss Umbaugh's class in junior English is now taking up the study of the growth and development of English drama. The class will soon commence work on the Shakespearean plays.

The sophomore English class has just finished "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner." They have begun "The Vision of Sir Launfal."

The Emersonian Literary society, at meeting held Thursday, elected a temporary chairman and a nominating committee. At the next meeting the committee will present names from which officers of the society will be elected. Vance Coyner was made temporary chairman. Those on the nominating committee are: Margaret Inabnit, Ben Garske and Frank Loehr.

Miss Umbaugh and the students of the English department of Bend high wish to extend their hearty thanks to the Bend public library for their cooperation in the work on outside reading, on which the English department is now working.

Myrtle Rice wrote on the typewriter for 10 minutes without an error at the rate of 50.9 words per minute.

Ermel Scott wrote for five minutes at the rate of 46.6 words per minute without an error.

Book reports will be due October 22 in Miss Umbaugh's classes.

HEARD IN HISTORY
Dee McRoberts: "I have my notebook done at last. Do you want it?"

Miss Williams: "Oh, I know what you are up to. You want to get on the good side of me, just before examination."

Leo Harriman, who has been absent from high school since the beginning of the term because of illness, has returned and resumed his studies.

At a recent test the modern and medieval history class average 86 per cent throughout.

This looks bad for the American history class, with which they have engaged in a contest to see which can obtain the highest average, the stake being an entertainment.

HEARD IN HISTORY
Dee McRoberts: "I couldn't get that part through my head very well."

Miss Williams: "You don't want to get it through your head; you want to get it into your head."

Miss Williams says she doesn't even want to mention her biology class.

However, the class is taking up the classification of common weeds. Each student is required to select one weed and tell how to destroy it.

The physics class under Miss Helen Manny's supervision has taken the air pressure of Bend. The pounds per square inch stand at 13.22 here, while at sea level it stands at 15.

The Weekly is greatly indebted to Miss Margie Fulton and Miss Mary Holland of the freshman class for their contributions this week.

Miss Roche: "Ervin, how many subjects are you carrying this year?"
Ervin: "Carrying three and dragging two."

HEARD IN ENGLISH
Marie Nelson (reciting poem): "And the stars were full of flags." (Flag was full of stars.)

AS THE EDITORS SEE IT

ROOTERS' ETHICS

The annual football fiasco on the Prineville grounds is a thing of the past and, with it, comes the usual complaint of gross unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of the Crook county aggregation and its supporters.

Reports are current to the effect that a stuffed dummy football was used as a ruse, Carlisle fashion, by the Prineville players and that three of the players were ineligible. There is evidence to support both propositions, but the latter is undoubtedly verified in the failure of Crook county faculty representatives to certify properly to the eligibility of members of the team as the usual custom demands.

The continual stream of personal invective directed against the Bend players and rooters by the Prineville students and backed by grownups with demands that members of the Prineville team "get" this or that Bend player, assumed nothing of the phases of legitimate rooting in support of the Prineville team, but evidenced rather a type of roughneckism and lack of culture that characterizes no school community on earth perhaps, save the little inland village in question.

It is to be hoped that the Crook county high school and its supporters will soon realize the unfavorable light in which their conduct is held by other school communities in the state, and particularly so before it becomes necessary for school authorities to cancel all interscholastic relations.

WHO'S WHO IN HI

One of the big fellows behind student body activities is Ervin McNeal, better known as "Prof." Although exceedingly modest and retiring, Ervin is one of the biggest leaders in student affairs.

During his first year in high, "Prof." took up debate, making a phenomenal demonstration for a freshman in that field. The Emersonians were very shrewd in securing him as a member the same term. When a sophomore he rendered valuable service to the Emersonians by his performance on their last program of the season. He did splendid work as a reporter on the High School Weekly and was promoted to editor-in-chief during the second semester.

This year, as a Junior, Ervin not only takes five subjects, which is enough for anyone to handle, but holds numerous offices in the student body, and has a good time besides. The Juniors honored him by conferring the presidency of their class upon him. The high school annual, The Pilot, will have Ervin as editor-in-chief; he is the president of the newly organized boys' glee club, and is one of the associate editors of the Weekly this semester. Along with these few activities he is taking up debate and, authorities say, he stands a fine chance of making the team.

"Prof." is so modest, or—er, one might say, bashful, that the writer has had to secure the above information from other sources than the person in question. "Oh, doggone it, I ain't never done anything worth puttin' in the paper. Just get somebody else to write up," and he fled for the rear door.

However, some of his loyal friends and admirers proceeded to give the desired details of this peppy student's career.

Girls Speedier Than Boys, Shows Mentality Test

As the result of a recent test given the members of Miss Lorence's class in civics, the girls are claiming the honors for quick thinking.

In the word memory test the girls averaged 7% and the boys 7%. In the next test, called a rotary reaction test, the pupils made as many dots as they could in 30 seconds. In this test the girls made 204 and the boys 139.

In the word forming test the pupils were given three vowels and three consonants to make words from. In five minutes the girls formed 12 words and the boys 10.

In another test the pupils wrote four numbers with their eyes closed, changing the order of the numbers in each set. The girls wrote 10, the boys 9%.

MARGARET BOND TO HEAD SAGES

The Sages Literary society held a meeting Friday noon for the purpose of electing officers for this semester. The results of the election are as follows: President, Margaret Bond; vice president, Mildred Hoover; secretary-treasurer, Thomas Going.

The society has Miss Williams as advisor this semester and under her leadership gives promise of coming to the front as never before.

The members gathered more "pep" last vacation than a year ago and are on their toes, ready to go.

A program committee was also appointed and a meeting will take place at an early date.

PROMISE IS SHOWN BY SECOND SQUAD

Coach Moore reports that the outlook for a snappy second team is very promising. The following have been selected as promising material: Durwall Howell, Wilbur Watkins, Elmer Johnson, Phil Philbrook, Ed Norcott, Vernon Gould, Clarence Gould, James McNeely, Max Mendenhall, Lester Smith, Franklin Toomey.

ARM BADGES MARK BUYERS OF TICKETS

Persons having purchased student body tickets can be easily identified by the blue and gold badges worn. This clever idea was originated and carried out by two patriotic junior girls, Ila Sess and Louise Inabnit, who spent much time on them.

Costly Nibbling.

A St. John chocolate manufacturer who told the Canadian industrial relations commission that his employees last year nibbled up $18,000 worth of goods, employs 190 persons, so the mode of self-help chosen by them amounted to almost $100 each.

Value of Ton of Gold.

The mint value of gold does not vary, but remains constant at $20.67183462 per troy ounce, or $18,84151 avoirdupois. Basing a calculation upon this value, a ton of gold would be equivalent to $602,028.

RALLY PLANNED FOR NEXT GAME

BONFIRE AND PARADE TO BE FEATURES

City Superintendent Appears On Gridiron As Second Team Coach, And Scrubs Give Regulars First Stiff Scrimmage of Season.

The game scheduled between Madras and Bend Saturday on the local field was postponed on account of illness among the members of the latter's team.

The postponement of the game proved a keen disappointment to the students, as a huge rally had been planned for Friday night. A large bonfire was to be built and the team paraded through the main streets. However, this rally will have to wait until a more suitable time, probably before the Prineville game.

Spirit in athletics seems to have been greatly stimulated, due, it is supposed, to the rally held at the school Thursday afternoon. Several peppy speeches were made and yells practiced. However, the thing which, more than anything else, served to create enthusiasm for football, was the speech made by Superintendent Moore. In his talk he urged the fellows to turn out and form a second team, a team of about 25 members. Toward the end of his talk he offered his services as coach of the second team and asked how many would turn out if he would. A number of students jumped at the chance, and 3:45 p. m. found the largest number of "extras" out on the field on record. Also, in response to his plea, a number of girls turned out to encourage the boys. The practice was an entire success. Everybody who turned out seemed to enjoy it. Superintendent Moore more than anyone else. Under his tutelage the second team even made progress against the first team. M. Mahoney, quarterback on the second team, getting away several times with intercepted passes.

This is the sort of practice the first team has been needing for some time and it made the most of it. If the boys can keep up the good work and turn out every night our chances will be doubly increased, and Bend will be able to "mop up" on all comers.

BEND HIGH GRADUATE GETS HIGHEST GRADE

At a test made in the English department of O. A. C., Mary Thompson of Bend made the highest standing in the class. The mark received was so high that Miss Thompson will not be required to take the course in English this year.
