(By Mrs. L. W. Gatch ell Phone Black 1081)

Notes for publication in the social column in the Saturday issue of The Bulletin must be in not later than 5:30 o'clock on the afternoon of the day preceding.

Peggy A. Stevens post, American Legion, will be the host at an army and navy dance to be given Thursday night at the gymnasium as the ex-service men's celebration of Armistice day. The post cordially invites all civilians in the city to attend, and a committee headed by Jack Knowles is hard at work to afford the best entertainment of the year for the big crowd which is certain to be present. All former soldiers, sailors and marines are instructed by the committee to appear in uniform.

The masquerade ball given last Saturday evening under the auspices of the library board has been enthusiastically termed a brilliant success by all those who attended.

Under the direction of Miss Harriet Umbaugh of the high school faculty, assisted by Marjorie Baird, Margaret Inabnit, Mary Elizabeth

King, Romaine Nicholson, Frank Loehr and Vance Coyner, an extremely artistic effect was attained in the decoration of the hall.

A band of yellow crepe paper, upon which were placed the usual Halloween symbols, outlined the balcony. Life-sized witches were suspended from the ceiling and a large moon, with a witch passing before it, added to the ghostlike appearance of the scene, while a witch's cauldron, attended by three crones, occupied a conspicuous place on the stage. A row of pumpkin faces was suspended from the curtain and miniature corn fields in one of which stood a farmer and in the other a half-concealed witch, enhanced the scene.

Dancing began at 8 o'clock and at 10 o'clock a grand march was formed, during which time the judges awarded the prizes. The two first prizes of $7.50 each were awarded to Mrs. L. P. Schmorl of Bend and Virgil Spencer of Millikan, costumed as Indians. Second prizes were given Mrs. Van Huffell and Mrs. Belmont, dressed as "The Sunkist Twins," and to Charles Erskine, who dressed as a negro mammy. The free entrance prize was awarded to Mr. Bontrager, as Charlie Chaplin and Mrs. Bontrager as the actress, Marie Dressler.

During the evening refreshments were served from the canteen and from tea carts.

The affair was a financial, as well as a social, success, about $200 being netted by the board.

Mrs. Louise Taylor was hostess this afternoon at a bridge party.

The first official visit of the worthy grand matron of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Ada Umbach of Lakeview, to the local chapter was the occasion of a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Masonic club rooms on Wednesday. Twenty-eight members were seated about the well appointed table and enjoyed a social hour with Mrs. Umbach, whose pleasing personality most favorably impressed her lodge sisters.

Following the luncheon, the regular lodge work was put on for the observation of the visitor and a bouquet of chrysanthemums presented as a simple token of appreciation.

In the late afternoon an auto party, composed of Worthy Patron Frank Gasbar, Mrs. Gasbar, Worthy Matron Mrs. L. A. W. Nixon and others drove Mrs. Umbach over to Redmond to be the guest of the Order of Eastern Star of that city.

The Shriners' club was host to the members of the Madras order and their ladies at a dancing party last Tuesday evening, when reports of the election returns formed a feature of the entertainment. A large crowd was in attendance and a very pleasurable evening enjoyed.

For the pleasure of her nieces, little Geraldine and Frances Berger, Mrs. W. J. Coleman entertained Saturday evening with a Halloween party. Upon arrival the small guests donned elf caps and spent the evening in the enjoyment of games in keeping with the season. Refreshments were served and at nine o'clock the guests bade the hostess goodnight. Those present were: Olga Emgebretson, Ermadine Maynard, Marian and Margaret Hennessey, Lucille Gloyer, Mary Leavett, Aladene Harris, Phyllis Rasmussen, Ella and Evelyn Thorson, and Geraldine and Francis Berger.

The regular monthly luncheon of the Ladies of the Emblem Club was held at the club on Thursday. Following the luncheon the afternoon was spent in playing Bridge.

The Baptist Aid Society met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chas. Saylor on Newport Ave. Following a short business meeting, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

After a three week's visit with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Haner, Mrs. W. H. Bogue departed Tuesday, for her home in Cordova, Alaska.

Mrs. Carl Johnson and little son, arrived Thursday morning after an absence of five and one half months spent in Duluth, Minn. at the home of Mrs. Johnson's father who has been seriously ill. A few weeks ago Mr. Johnson joined his family, and together they journeyed to New York where they spent a week before returning west. While in the city, the Johnson's had the pleasure of visiting with Miss Mary Agnes Sheridan of Bend who is a student at Sacred Heart Academy.

Fifty-four young people attended the Christian Endeavor Social given at the Presbyterian church on Friday evening of last week. A number of unique games afforded the entertainment and at a late hour a delicious luncheon was served in the dining room where the long tables decorated with Halloween symbols presented an attractive scene.

Mrs. J. J. Lowell entertained the Aid Society at the Presbyterian church, Thursday afternoon. Twenty-four ladies were present and after the usual business meeting, spent the time with needle work.

A pleasant social affair occurred Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. J. F. McDonald when her sister Miss Ava Gillander assisted by Miss Jennie Lemke entertained with a Halloween party. The guests came in masquerade costumes and spent the evening in playing games and telling stories. At the usual hour refreshments were served.

The Bend Study Club held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Whisnant on Monday afternoon.

"Peru and its People" was the topic of study. The history of Peru since the fifteenth century was outlined in the two papers, "Pizarro and the Conquest of Peru" by Mrs. J. H. Haner, represented by Miss Dudley and Pervian History, since the Spanish Conquest" by Mrs. Chas. Hayes. A biography of "Bartolome de Las Casas, Bishop of Chiapa" was presented by Mrs. Charles Hayden.

The serving of a dainty luncheon followed the program.

Honoring her daughter-in-law Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. Elmer Ryan entertained this afternoon with an afternoon tea to which twenty-four guests were invited. The afternoon was spent with clever guessing games and the enjoyment of other novel features of entertainment.
