"NECROPOLIS" OF IBIS FOUND

Many Written Documents Discovered and Thousands of Mummified Bodies of Birds.

Paris.—Thousands of mummified bodies of the sacred ibis have been found by the French savant, M. Lacau, in the underground necropolis under the famous ruined temple at Deir Medineh, Egypt.

Each bird was in an elaborately decorated vase of earthenware embedded in a sort of cardboard formed by a conglomeration of papyrus, which totaled hundreds of thousands of written documents.

M. Lacau said the find was one of the most important of the late discoveries in Egyptology. The work of deciphering the documents will take years.

"It is the wastepaper basket of ancient Egypt," said one of those charged with the work.

In Seattle.

The man who stopped a stranger to say: "What's that on your face?" and then, when after a moment of puzzling silence, answered himself: "Your nose," returning from the hospital said he was convinced that Tennyson was right in concluding that "a sorrow's crown of sorrows is remembering happier things." — Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

"The Woman Game"

All the weapons at her command! She claimed the right to use them.

Think what they were—the face of a cherub, lips that dripped nectar, hair of the gold of the sunbeam. Was it fair?

New Way of Serving It.

Emily wanted a tea party one afternoon, so after she arranged her tea set for the important event her mother and I sat at the little table beside her. Her mother started to pour the little tea pot and turning to Emily asked in a very formal way, "Miss Emily, will you have yours with or without?" After seriously thinking a moment, Emily replied, "Within, please."—Exchange.

Old Bell Splendidly Preserved.

In an old graveyard in County Antrim, Ireland, a farmer, while plowing, unearthed a bronze church bell weighing more than 160 lbs., and believed to be over 300 years old. The bell is in a splendid state of preservation, with a clear, powerful tone. The old Kirkcubbin parish church, where the find was made, has been in ruins since 1622.
