CRIPPLED CHILD WILL WALK AGAIN

Eleven Year Old Boy To Lose Cast Worn For Twelvemonth—Case Thought Hopeless Cured.

Eleven-year-old Dick Dunn, who has been living with his aunt, Mrs. J. O. Whittaker of Bend, for the past year, leaves tonight for Portland, where he will have the cast on his leg removed, having been pronounced cured of tuberculosis of the knee, from which he has suffered for the past five years.

The boy was crippled by being struck on the knee by a horseshoe thrown by a playmate and, as the injury was not considered serious at the time, it did not receive proper care. It eventually developed into a tubercular infection which necessitated the use of a cast.
A year ago his physician held out no hope toward saving the leg, but it responded to treatment, with the result that he is now entirely cured. After the cast is removed the boy will return to his father, whose home is at Kings Valley, Ore.

HONOR SHOWN BY TEMPLARS

MANY AT FUNERAL OF W. T. MULLARKY

Impressive Services Conducted By Pilgrim Commandery For Late County Assessor—Burial Will Be At Redmond.

Residents of Bend and Deschutes county gathered this afternoon to pay their last respects to the memory of W. T. Mullarky, for four years assessor of Deschutes county, at the impressive services conducted by Pilgrim commandery, Knights Templar, at the Gymnasium. The size of the congregation and the many floral tributes placed about the casket were mute evidence of the esteem in which the late official had been held.
As the last strains of Chopin's funeral march played by Ashley Forrest, sounded, the Knights, in full uniform, entered the building, escorting the casket bearing the body of their comrade. The beautiful ritualistic service of the order, under the direction of W. D. Barnes, eminent commander, and Hugh Braden, prelate, began after the Knights had formed in double ranks in the front of the hall.

Tribute Is Paid.
A brief outline of the life of Sir Knight Mullarky was read by Clyde M. McKay and a personal tribute to the man and to the public official was paid by Mr. Barnes. He expressed it as his earnest desire that the county recognize these qualities by dedicating the Deschutes courthouse, whenever a permanent building for this purpose is erected, to the county's first assessor.

Quartet numbers were sung by Mrs. Ashley Forrest, Mrs. C. V. Silvis, Dr. L. W. Gatchell and Charles G. Wilson and a solo by Mrs. Silvis completed the musical service.
Contrary to previous announcement, it has been decided that burial shall be in Redmond. The ceremony will be in charge of the Redmond blue lodge.

The work was in charge of F. E. Bechtold of the Sken Electrical works, Portland.
Electricians are also engaged in repairing all broken wiring and replacing temporary fittings with permanent ones.

WAGE CUT MAY PROMPT STRIKE

GOVERNMENT CONTROL DEEMED POSSIBLE

Railroad Workers Will Resist To Bitter End, Warns Head of Machinists' Union—Fears General Walkout May Be The Result.

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3.—Railway owners and workers are verging on a wage fight that may throw the roads back under government control. Labor heads, including President Gompers of the A. F. of L., fear a strike if the railroad labor board at Chicago grants demands of managers for wage reductions.
"Railroad workers will resist to the bitter end," warned William Johnston, head of the International Association of Machinists. "It will be very difficult to avoid a general strike if the managers gain their demands."

To prevent a tieup of the nation's transportation system, with resultant stagnation of industry, the government has authority, under the Esch-Cummins law to seize the roads.

FISH LADDERS FOR DESCHUTES ASKED IN BILL

$15,000 APPROPRIATION INCLUDED

INSTRUCTORS INVADE

Staples Educational Bill Argued By Teachers' Delegation—Little Opposition To Port Bills Is Evidenced In The House.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
SALEM, Feb. 3.—A bill by Representatives Overturf, Burdick, Wright, Egbert and Robertson provides $15,000 for fish ladders for the Deschutes river and a bill by Representative Stone of Clackamas county requires that all persons taking salmon eggs from salmon of the Willamette river or its tributaries shall liberate in this river at least 50 per cent of the fish eggs hatched.
Salem was invaded early in the week by a delegation of over 100 teachers who came in on special electric cars from Portland to attend an open meeting in the house and to present arguments for and against the Staples educational bill. Representative Huber, chairman of the Multnomah delegation, presided.

The speakers appeared in turn, five arguing against and five speaking on the merits of the bill, taking up the time until late in the night. The teachers, when questioned about lobbying, stated that they paid their railroad fare and other expenses individually, and that each had contributed $2.50 to a sum that totaled $2400 to employ T. C. Neuhausen as lobbyist for their cause at Salem.

Port Bill Vital.
Among the measures that most vitally affect the interests of Western Oregon in the legislature this year are the Port of Portland bills. All of these measures passed in the senate Monday afternoon and very little opposition is expected to develop in the house when the bills come up for passage there.

It was expected at first there would be an organized fight in the senate over these bills, but with a few exceptions harmony prevails.
In the main port bill the principal feature was to increase the membership from seven to nine and in the amendment Max H. Hauser was eliminated from the commission and three new men are added thereto. These new men are Thomas J. Mahoney, William L. Thompson and Harry L. Corbett. The addition of these names is considered a distinct recognition of the claims of the Eastern Oregon senators, and to their insistence that Eastern Oregon have a greater say in the discussion and deciding of this important measure.

With the exception of Harry L. Corbett the names of those added to the commission list are well known men from Eastern Oregon. Corbett, although not living in Eastern Oregon, has large land interests in the central part of the state and is very materially interested in the financial success of the eastern part of the state of Oregon.

Only Two Oppose.
During the discussion of these bills Senator Bruce Dennis of Union and Walla Walla counties made a brilliant talk advocating an appropriation of $250,000 for the improvement of North Portland harbor. By the dredging and improvement of North Portland harbor it will open up direct water transportation and save hundreds of thousands of dollars to shippers of livestock and other commodities, he said. The livestock shippers from Eastern Oregon may thus transport their stock to Portland and thence by water transportation, thus obviating the necessity, as at present, of shipping by rail to Kansas City, Omaha and other markets far removed.

In the group of bills the commission has the authority to acquire Swak Island without reference to the people, but it cannot acquire Moeck's bottom or Guif's lake and fill these lowlands from the dredges without the approval of the qualified voters. The Eastern Oregon legislators worked hard for the development of North Portland harbor and in order to see that this development was carried out.
